Convicts Set State's Prison on Fire

DESPERADOES ARE HERDED IN PEN YARD

Shoot to Kill, Order to Walla Walla Guards in Case of Break Attempt

CELL HOUSE IS RAZED

Incendiary Blaze Starts While Many Inmates of Penitentiary Are Eating

WALLA WALLA, Wn., Sept. 4.—Discovery of 25 sticks of dynamite, concealed in a field near the state prison here, led authorities to believe today that the fires at the penitentiary last night were part of a carefully laid plan for a wholesale delivery.

Sheriff Charles Springer said he believed that the convicts who set the blaze had "outside aid." He declared that the leaders among the convicts planned to have confederates outside blow up the walls as soon as the inmates were marched from their cells.

With the walls blasted, more than 900 convicts could have escaped through the gaps made by the explosion.

WALLA WALLA, Wn., Sept. 4.—Two new fires broke out during the night at the state prison, prison authorities announced today.

The blazes are believed to have been set by the convicts, now being guarded by state militia, prison employees and sheriff's deputies, marshalled from all over eastern Washington.

The new fires were discovered in the plate mill, where automobile license plates are manufactured. They were extinguished with nominal loss.

Prisoner Starts Fire

Prison guards expressed the opinion today that the flames which destroyed the main cell house were caused when a prisoner deliberately threw some burning material into a ventilating fan in the roof of one wing. It blazed up while many of the inmates were at mess.

An official investigation was to be launched.

The 902 prisoners in the penitentiary were reported to be orderly, but the prison resembled an armed camp. Guards and troops were instructed to fire to kill at the first indication of a break for liberty.

A National Guard company was mobilized to aid the prison guards in case of emergency.

The guard around the prison was trebled and all available peace officers were called on for help.

Will Transfer Desperadoes
Warden Clarence Long has asked Ed Fitzgerald and John Buscke, traveling guards, to prepare a special train in which it is planned to transport the most dangerous of the prisoners to the state reformatory at Monroe.

It is not expected that the transfer can be made before tomorrow.

All of the convicts were marched to safety when the blaze broke out. There was no disorder and no casualties from the flames.

The fire, thought to have been of incendiary origin, started at 5:05 p. m., while 300 inmates were at mess.

By 9 p. m., the flames virtually were under control. Convicts with good records were allowed to fight the fire.

The blaze destroyed the power house and threw the prison in darkness.

Townpeople Terror-Stricken
Householders here were terror-stricken and armed themselves to prevent invasion of their homes in case of a general prison break.

The cell block was built in 1887, and was said to have been one of the oldest prisons in the country.

Officials said today they were unable to estimate the loss.

Bang! 'Twas Not Cop's Gun, but Tire

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 4.—A big touring car whizzed down the highway near the state fair grounds with a motorcycle cop in hot pursuit. Suddenly a report rang out. E. D. Smith, 17, of Stockton, drew his car up at the side of the road, his hands in the air.

"Don't shoot again, officer," he begged.

"I didn't shoot," Patrolman F. B. Boniface replied, pointing to a rear wheel. "That was your tire."

The youth collapsed. Today he was taken back to Stockton to face charges of alleged theft of an automobile there.

PICKETS ARE ARRESTED IN S. F. STRIKE

Twenty Held for Selling Papers in Street Scoring Theater Management

'STINK BOMB' THROWN

Thousand Stage Hands and Union Musicians in Los Angeles Out at Midnight

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Arrests for picketing and acts of violence were added today to the developments in the theater musicians' strike, which started here Wednesday and appears likely to spread throughout the west.

Twenty men were at liberty on bail today, on charges of selling literature before downtown theaters, denouncing the management for employing non-union musicians.

Carl Burns, director of a musical act on the Pantages circuit, said he was severely beaten and thrown from a machine by four union sympathizers, the assault coming after he had agreed to join the strike.

Hurla "Stink Bomb"
One man was arrested for tossing a "stink bomb" into a suburban theater, while the performance was in progress. He said he was a roofer from Los Angeles and not a musician.

Strike of Pantages theater orchestras throughout the west was expected today, according to union officials, as well as all musical acts touring the circuit. Stage hands and motion picture operators will join the walkout, it was reported.

Orpheum theater musicians and stage hands in western houses, and extending as far east as Chicago, have been ordered to walk out by tomorrow.

Strikers here today were to join in a big parade, with bands and orchestras in line, as a demonstration of their cause. Stage hands and projectionists, also, were to take part, and the ranks will be augmented by strikers from the East Bay section.

Piano Music in Orpheum
Most of the leading film houses had improvised orchestras working last night, many of them college players from the University of California. The Orpheum, however, still was getting by with piano music only.

One local musical comedy house acceded to the union demands, and that playhouse was the scene of a very rally last night, with leading orchestras of the city, which are out on strike, giving concert programs as added attractions.

Managers Discharge Union Musicians
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—Approximately 1000 stage hands and musicians probably will be jobless here after midnight tonight, as a result of the widespread strike notice of a strike served on the Orpheum and Hill Street theaters here by the musicians' union.

Union players in practically every important theater in the city have been notified by the Los Angeles Theater Managers' association that their services would not be required after midnight.

The managers took this action and engaged non-union players to replace the union men, following notice of a strike served on the Orpheum and Hill Street theaters here by the musicians' union.

Rud Galtan, San Bernardino county, convicted of second-degree murder, had action on his parole postponed 10 years. Peter D'Amico, Contra Costa murderer, convicted of first-degree murder, also had his request for parole put off for 10 years.

Almon Holloway, Santa Clara county, serving an indeterminate sentence for first-degree murder, will be paroled in 13 years and Nick Radovich, San Francisco, was denied parole. He is serving a term for manslaughter.

The four men have been confined to San Quentin from six to 10 years.

DEMOCRATS OF STATE HOPEFUL FOR ELECTION

(By United Press)

POLITICAL critics believe that the voices of the 400,000 registered Democrats in this state, which has not had a Democratic governor since 1896, will be at least loudly heard in the November election.

In the same breath, critics say they believe that men and issues, rather than party tags, will settle the outcome in November.

John B. Elliott and Justus Wardell hold the Democratic nominations for U. S. senator and governor, respectively, and both have committed themselves to fight Samuel M. Shortridge and C. C. Young, their Republican opponents.

By some observers, Elliott is conceded a fair chance of defeating Shortridge. Elliott comes from the populous south and will run as a dry. He is expected to receive a great church vote and a part of the vote cast for the unsuccessful Republican candidate against Shortridge, it is said. He will also be supported, it is expected, by the McDoo progressive elements, strong in Southern California, and William Gibbs McDoo, it is believed, may personally take the stump in Elliott's behalf.

Wardell's chance for the gubernatorial chair against Lieutenant Governor Young is not regarded so favorably by the same observers.

Wardell is expected to run as a prohibition modificationist, though he is not committed to the wet platform.

Wardell said today his program has been decided upon, but that he will offer a strong campaign.

Fights by Democrats also loom in three congressional districts.

The next matter of importance for the Republicans is the state convention at Sacramento, September 21, when reorganization and appointment of a new state central committee will be effected.

TAKE BODIES OF 15 MINERS FROM TOMB

Sixteen Men Perish When Explosion Occurs on 300 Foot Level of Colliery

THREE WORKERS FLEE

Most of Those Killed in Oklahoma Blast Are Survived by Large Families

(By United Press)

TAHONA, Okla., Sept. 4.—Bodies of 15 of the 16 miners who died in a gas explosion in the mine of the Superior Smokeless Coal company, near here, had been removed, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The body of M. K. Hise, father of six children, remains yet in the gaseous chamber in which the miners met their deaths.

Rescue workers were pushing rapidly this afternoon in an effort to recover the five bodies remaining in the debris-filled tunnels.

Squads from the state bureau of mines worked all night in the underground passages, while a small crowd of relatives of the victims huddled on the surface about the shaft.

Only seven of the 23 chambers on the level where the explosions occurred have been penetrated. As the workers dig through the wreckage, they "carry their own air," by building up the air vent as they proceed.

All of the dead miners, with one exception, were married. The majority of them are survived by large families.

Members of the rescue squads described the interior of the wrecked mine as one of horror. Bodies of victims, most of them badly burned, were found, in some instances, clasped in each other's arms.

Wrapped Around Timber
One body was found wrapped around a large timber support. Apparently the blast had hurled the body in that position.

Three men escaped from the ill-fated 300-foot level. Other miners on various levels at the time of the explosion escaped unhurt.

Mine inspectors expressed the belief that the explosion resulted from the opening of gas pockets by a dynamite blast fired the night before.

Loss of life from the storm, however, has not been heavy, the toll mounting to three. Earlier in the week, two persons were killed in Nebraska.

The territory in the vicinity of Springfield was swept by terrific downpours and several washouts were reported. Soft roads caused a delay on a B. and O. passenger train schedule and the train was wrecked, causing injury to 16 persons last night.

S-51 Blame Put On City of Rome Officers

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 4.—Capt. John Diehl, of Everett, Mass., and Third Mate Tim L. Dwyer, of Savannah, Ga., of the steamship City of Rome, were held partly responsible for the collision between that vessel and the U. S. submarine S-51, which cost 34 lives, in the report of steamship inspection officials, made public here this afternoon.

The report said circumstances warrant the suspension of the licenses of Diehl and Dwyer for nine months, effective September 15 or earlier.

The S-51 went down in collision with the City of Rome, off Block Island, on Sept. 25, 1925.

The steamboat inspection officers said, however, that the S-51 was not entirely blameless.

Troops Commanded by Wu Pei Fu and Cantonese Forces Engage in Battle

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 4.—An American hospital at Wuchang, Chira, near Hankow, and the U. S. destroyer Elvans have been fired upon by Chinese troops, the state department was informed today by the U. S. consul general at Hankow.

The American church hospital was struck 20 times by bullets fired during the fighting between Cantonese troops and forces under Wu Pei Fu, the consul reported he was informed by telephone from Wuchang.

Steaming up Yangtze
The destroyer was steaming up the Yangtze river, seven miles below Hankow, when troops, believed to have been Cantonese, fired on it, striking it several times, the report said. The boat did not return the fire.

No reports of Americans killed or wounded have been received.

U. S. warships and marines today were guarding American lives and property endangered by civil war in China and Nicaragua.

State department advices reported on important battle being fought between forces of the radical Canton government and of Marshal Wu Pei Fu, near Hankow, China, where there is an American missionary and business colony.

Expect Two More Gunboats
Two additional American gunboats are expected to arrive at Hankow today.

There was no official confirmation of reports that the U. S. S. Rochester, flagship of the special service squadron, has joined the U. S. S. Galveston at the Nicaraguan port of Bluefields, center of American interests.

A decisive battle between liberal revolutionists forces and the army of General Chamorro, unrecognized president of Nicaragua, still was reported impending across Bluefields bay, at El Bluff.

Death Penalty To Be Demanded
CANTON, O., Sept. 4.—Louis Mazer and Ben Rudner, two of the three men indicted yesterday for the murder of Don R. Mellett, are to be arraigned here next Tuesday and a date set for their trial.

VALENTINO FUNERAL PLANS COMPLETED

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Hollywood completed its plans today for the funeral of Rudolph Valentino. The body is due to arrive here late Monday.

Final services will be held Tuesday morning in the Church of the Good Shepherd, in Beverly Hills. Under special dispensation of Bishop Cantwell, the actor's body then will be laid to final rest in Hollywood cemetery, instead of Calvary cemetery.

Active pallbearers will be Charles Chaplin, Norman Kerry, Emmett Flynn, George Fitzmaurice, Douglas Gerard and John W. Considine Jr.

Studio officials have arranged to have the body removed secretly from the incoming train before its arrival here Monday. The body will be brought to the film capital by automobile and held in a funeral parlor, behind closed doors, until the services Tuesday.

The funeral will be more or less private, restricted to 600 tickets-holders, mainly former friends of the star and his professional associates.

OIL WORKER IS
PULLEY FALLS

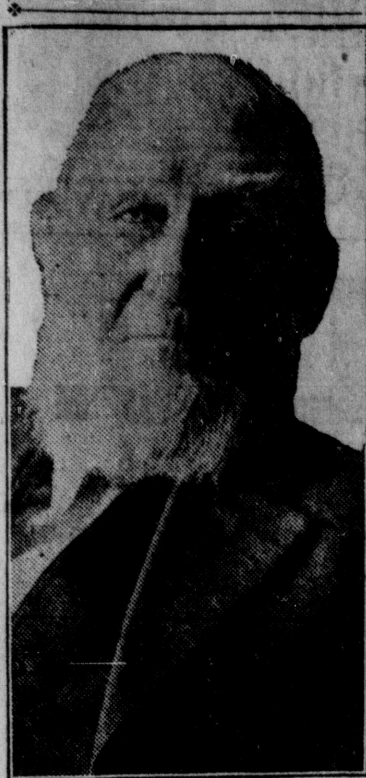

Frank Hendry, 25, of Los Angeles, employee of the Superior Oil company, Huntington Beach, was instantly killed early this morning when a heavy hoisting pulley, used in oil derricks, crashed down upon him.

The accident occurred when steel cables, which hold the heavy pulley in the derrick, broke.

Fellow workmen of Hendry narrowly escaped injury when the pulley fell. According to reports, the impact was so great that Hendry's body was driven through the floor of the oil derrick. Efforts to locate relatives of the man had been unavailing at noon today.

An inquest into the death will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Coroner C. D. Brown in the S. L. Harrell Undertaking parlors, Huntington Beach.

SERIOUSLY ILL

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN

William Zimmerman, 90 years old, who, despite his advanced years, each year has set forth to visit a point several thousand miles from his home, making the annual trips without a traveling companion, suffered a stroke of apoplexy on a downtown Santa Ana street shortly before noon today and was removed to his home, 210 West First street.

This year Zimmerman visited Alaska. Last year he visited Washington, New York, Chicago and several other eastern cities, making the trip around to the Atlantic coast by steamship, through the Panama canal. For many years Zimmerman made his living through carpenter work and contracting. Only a few years ago he built a small house entirely by his own efforts.

Zimmerman planned to visit the Hawaiian islands this fall. He has a number of grandchildren living in Santa Ana.

EAGLE KILLED
IN LONG FIGHT WITH AIRPLANE

After a huge golden eagle had been out-manuevered for 25 minutes in a battle with an airplane near Eddie Martin's airport, yesterday afternoon, the big bird broke its neck by dashing against one of the wires of the plane and dropped, beaten, to the ground. The aviator, who had this thrilling experience, was Joe Skidmore, Laguna Beach birdman. He was accompanied by Mrs. Borghild Stephens, secretary of the Santa Ana Air club.

The plane was at an elevation of between 4500 and 5000 feet when the aviator noticed the eagle flying toward him, the brownish yellow tips of the bird's feathers glinting in the sun. The wings measured six feet from tip to tip. The eagle flew near the plane for awhile and then suddenly darted straight toward it. Skidmore had read of an aviator who was killed when a seagull flew into the propeller and disabled the machine. He headed his plane in another direction, but the bird turned too, seeming determined to fly at the whirling blades.

The aviator realized that he had a real battle on his hands. The evidently crazed bird showed no disposition to give up. Skidmore flew upside down, sideways and looped. He did an Immelman turn and a verticle sideslip and a wing over wing, but the big eagle still clung to the pursuit.

Skidmore believed that his best chance was to out-manuever the bird to the ground. After 25 minutes of all classes of flying, he had dropped three thousand feet. It was at the 2000-foot level that that eagle suddenly made a renewed and determined effort to reach the propeller. Skidmore turned sharply to the left and the bird struck one of the wires, the force of the impact breaking its neck. It seemed stunned then recovered for a few seconds and seemed to be soaring away from the battle. Then it collapsed and fell wing over wing to the ground. Skidmore flew to the ground, got his auto and picked up the bird a mile from the airport.

Valuable Tools
Stolen from Car

Tools, valued at $300, were stolen shortly before noon today from an automobile parked near the Rossmore Barber shop on Fourth street, according to a report filed with the police by B. C. Hall, Long Beach lock salesman.

Hall reported that he had been working on a door at 302 West Fourth street and, having finished, placed the kit of tools in his machine.

He went away and returned to find the tools gone.

MAIN SPEAKER
AT BEACH MEET

The September meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association will be held September 8, in the Obarr hall, Huntington Beach, according to an announcement made today by Herman Zabel, President.

The main speaker of the evening will be Charles W. Fricke, assistant district attorney of Los Angeles county, author of the "Manual of Criminal Law and Procedure for Peace Officers" and a number of similar books. Fricke has chosen for his subject, "Evidence, Its Preparation and Presentation."

A talk on "The Trunk Mystery" is scheduled as an important feature of the program, which is being arranged by the members of the Huntington Beach police department. Henry Hull, division superintendent of the Nick Harris detectives, Los Angeles, will be the speaker.

"The Funny Side of Law Enforcement" is the title of a talk to be given by F. C. Drumm, former superior judge here, who will tell officers some of the funny happenings in his court while he was on the bench in Santa Ana.

LOST FLOWER FOUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The pink turtlehead, a species of flower which was discovered about 1750 and which was lost thereafter for 175 years, has been re-discovered by two scientists, Dr. E. T. Wherry of the U. S. bureau of chemistry, and Dr. J. E. Benedict, of the United States museum.

SHE'S ALL WRONG

According to doctors, there are many things wrong with the modern girl's habit of dress. This picture, posed by Mary Jane Wright, shows some of the faults found by the medics. Does she look all wrong to you?

A WORD OF COMFORT

Control your thoughts. Let your drift like a boat without a helmsman. Make your venture of faith in a God of love and think of every experience in terms of relationship with Him, in whose service you shall find strength and joy and peace.

Never give room to thoughts of rebellion and revolt. Determine in His strength to do your duty well. Lean on His love and day by day you will grow into a better understanding of yourself and

AFTER HARD FIGHT

SAN PEDRO, Sept. 4.—Six dauntless mariners and a tiny yacht, after a hard fight, won yesterday after a long and exhausting voyage of 2300 miles. Two during the perilous journey the skipper and his crew were saved from starvation by steaming passing in mid-ocean. Twice they weathered beating summer hurricane.

The Jubilo, a 40-foot schooner
San Pedro-Honolulu yacht race.
Although the smallest craft to be entered in the contest, she made the run to Honolulu without serious hardships.

Thirty-nine days ago, the Jubilo and her crew sailed from the Hawaiian Islands on the return trip.
Sixteen days out in the mid-Pacific, the ship's food and water supply was exhausted. Her engine broke down two days later and she ran into a hurricane. Fortunately the British steamer Chinese Prince was sighted, and the merchantman transferred 100 gallons of water and 100 pounds of commissary supplies.

Pounding into head seas under double-reefed sail and storm jib, the yacht continued her course eastward, but when Pidgeon Point was reached the supplies were gone. Distress signals brought an Eagle boat alongside and provisions were taken aboard a second time.

When the California coast home into sight a few days ago, their appliances ran out again, and then after two days of hardships they finally brought the Jubilo into port.

After dropping anchor, the men, who had been two days without food, made a dash for the nearest water-front eating house where Sk'pper Mike Schindler related his experiences between gulps.

Covering 4300 miles on their six weeks' trip, the farthest point reached being Vancouver, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. L. Crasher of 813 Oak street are home again. The trip was a most delightful one, and the last two days, when Mrs.
Crasher developed a case of pneumonia and a flying journey home was made and the invalid is now making rapid improvement. Several days were passed in Portland, Ore., where the Columbia river highway drive was enjoyed to Walla Walla, Wash.

Some days' stop was enjoyed in Seattle and the return was made by way of Crescent City and the redwood highway via San Francisco and the coast route. Mr.
Crasher says he returned with Santa Ana air in three tires.

Mrs. Hattie Vanderlip returned last Tuesday from Wichita, Kas., where she spent six weeks ago to visit her brother, J. E. Craig, who suffered a slight stroke of paralysis. He was better when Mrs.
Vanderlip left him. Word from an older brother, Arch Craig, from Amsterdam, stated that he was concluding his European trip yesterday and setting sail for America, planning to land at Montreal.

Miss Emma Hardy, well known young violinist with the West Coast circuit, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hardy at Balboa island while filling her
Thursday over the Santa Fe for the Grand canyon.

Among passengers booked by the Santa Fe this week were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Turner, who have gone to St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Sallie Miller of 1509 North
Ross street has gone to Nevada,
Mo., to visit relatives.

mother came out from their home in Chicago to spend the summer, has gone to Roswell, N. M., to enter Roswell Military academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Emrys D. White and family of 624 South Broadway are at home from their summer outing spent at Avalon, Catalina island.

Miss Bertha Ehlen of Orange, stenographer in the law office of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, has returned from a pleasant week's sojourn at Lake Arrowhead, accompanied by a party of six eastern friends. Miss Ehlen's cousin, Miss Sophie Ehlen of Orange has gone to Berkeley to enter University of California, having been with the law firm for the past year, Miss Bonnie Alt taking her place.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hardy of Balboa island are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Miss Sophie Hardy, who is here from New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Grafton Patterson of Midland, Tex., are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Sanders, 1464
Maple avenue.

Mrs. Laura Looney of 616 South
Main street has as her guest, Mr.
and Mrs. Curtis Brown of Spokane, Wash.

Miss Ella Klausermeyer of Orange has taken a position with the Abstract and title Guaranty company in this city. She was formerly with Ehlen and Grotz at Orange.

Word from Mr. and Mrs. F. P.
Nickey at Franklin Grove, Ill., states that they secured their new car at Toledo, O., are now on their homeward journey, and expect to arrive in Santa Ana October 4 or 5. The travelers are returning from an extended trip abroad.

Mrs. Frank B. Browning has taken one of the Silver flats and is now pleasantly located at 203 1-2
West Tenth street.

Mrs. W. H. Smith of 1230 French street is at home after a very de-
Ana on June 19. In Colorado
Springs, Colo., Albany, Ill., Minneapolis, Minn., and Spirit Lake, Ia.
Mrs. Smith visited relatives and in Chicago she was the guest of friends. Yesterday Mrs. Smith, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and
Mrs. Basil Smith, left for a trip to Wasco, Kern county, where they will visit another son, T. R. Smith, over the Labor day holidays.

Miss Ann Haddon, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haddon of 1014
French street, is at home from the
Samuel Butler hospital at Oakland, where she has been taking a nursing course. She will enter Santa
Ana junior college this year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Lutz who have been occupying their apartment at 518 Spurgeon street for the past two months, have returned to their Balboa home.

H. W. Cozad of 921 West Fourth street was an outgoing passenger via the Union Pacific yesterday, bound for Chicago.

Miss Florence Stone of Main street, Tustin, is looking forward to a pleasant reunion with her people in Louisville, Ky., her old home, which she has not seen for fourteen years. She left yesterday over the Santa Fe planning to visit San Francisco, Chicago, St. Louis and the Grand Canyon.

Among Santa Anans at Pacific
Palisades, Santa Monica, to attend the Southern California Veterans' encampment are E. T. Langley, Willard Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. O.
H. Maryatt and Mr. and Mrs. S. W.
Sutton.

George W. Young of the Van Dien-Yung company and his nephew, Louis Robinson of Trabuco left today for a two weeks' deer hunting trip, planning to motor as far north as southern Oregon. Mrs.
Lizzie Finister of 111 South Birch street will visit her daughter, Mrs.
Robinson, during her husband's ab-

Ana on June 19. In Colorado
Springs, Colo., Albany, Ill., Minneapolis, Minn., and Spirit Lake, Ia.
Mrs. Smith visited relatives and in Chicago she was the guest of friends. Yesterday Mrs. Smith, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and
Mrs. Basil Smith, left for a trip to Wasco, Kern county, where they will visit another son, T. R. Smith,
over the Labor day holidays.

Miss Ann Haddon, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haddon of 1014
French street, is at home from the
Samuel Butler hospital at Oakland,
where she has been taking a nursing course. She will enter Santa
Ana junior college this year.

IMPORTANCE OF THE CHURCH

The tabernacle built by Moses

And Moses took the tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp, and called it the Tabernacle of the congregation. And it came to pass, that every one which sought the Lord went out unto the tabernacle of the congregation, which was without the camp.

And it came to pass, when Moses went out unto the tabernacle, that all the people rose up, and stood every man at his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the tabernacle. And it came to pass, as Moses entered into the tabernacle, the cloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and the Lord talked with Moses.

And all the people saw the cloudy pillar stand at the tabernacle door: and all the people rose up and worshiped, every man in his tent door.

And the Lord spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp: but his servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle.

And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found favor in my sight. Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found favor in thy sight, show me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight; and consider that this nation is thy people.

And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest. And he said unto him, If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence.

For wherein shall it be known here that I and thy people have found grace in thy sight? is it not in that thou goest with us? so shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist

The word tabernacle has deep significance in the English language. It is a place of meeting. Meeting, in the assemblage of people together, is intimately associated not only with the most sacred things of religion, but with the sacred things of government and civil liberty. The tendency of people to forsake and disregard public assemblage either in worship or in the expression of citizenship is one of the lamentable aspects of modern life.

The temptation today toward paths and pleasures that are largely or purely individual, that involve no expression of a common life of worship and devotion or of political idealism, has become emphasized with so many means and opportunities of pandering to selfish instinct. Serious-minded men and women ought to give more careful consideration to this matter.

There was a time when the church represented not only a center of worship but a center of the social life of the community, where people came from their daily toil to find a common life on Sunday. Instead of allowing this common life and its expression to be scintillated, we ought to be strengthening and emphasizing all the things that bring men and women together in the interests of the state and in the worship and services represented by the church.

Center of Life
Here in our lesson we have a fine picture of a religious and democratic institution developing out of primitive conditions and needs. The tabernacle symbolized the center of this common life and the presence of God in the midst of the people. It was the "tabernacle of the congregation."

True, the people did not assemble there, but "when Moses went out unto the tabernacle all the people rose up and stood every man at his tent door." Thus the tabernacle became the place and symbol of a common life in worship and aspiration. We should note that this worship found expression in the quest of guidance. The mind of Moses was full of the idea and the responsibility of leadership. The leadership of Moses, however, was not a matter of ambitious domination or a desire for rule. He shrank from his responsibilities with the sense of his weakness and with a prayerful spirit. He wanted strength; he wanted help. His prayer to God is very beautiful:

"See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people; and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found favor in my sight. Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found favor in thy sight, show me now thy way, that I may know thee, to the end that I may find favor in thy sight; and consider that this nation is thy people."

Symbol of Devotion
Here in this prayer we have expressed the profound fact concerning a great and true national life. Moses thought of the nation as constituting the people of God. Is that nation ever safe or even well led that is not imbued with some sense of its own holiness? One thinks, in connection with this statement of Moses, of the fine description of the Christian community in I Peter 2 and 9.

The response to the prayer of Moses is similarly beautiful. Just how the voice of the divine came to him we do not know, but it came at least with great reality. "My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest."

A proper study of this lesson would reveal the principles of true leadership and of social progress. After all the world changes more in outward form and in the details of its problems than in the essential factors and principles involved. The consecration, commonsense, and courage that made Moses a great leader would make men great leaders today in proportion as they shared the forcefulness and ability of Moses. The people that establish in their midst a tabernacle of the living God and for whom this tabernacle is a center and symbol of devotion are in the way of true progress.

SCHOOLS HERE WILL OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 13

Boys and girls of Santa Ana will pack their books under their arms and again heed the school bell when the city schools, from the kindergarten to the junior college, open for the fall term September 13.

J. A. Cranston, Santa Ana city school superintendent, today announced the opening date.

Little more than a week intervenes before vacation. The first indication that school opening is so near comes with the announcement that students entering the Santa Ana junior college will be given the entrance examinations in English subject A and the intelligence test next Tuesday. The English examination will be held in the morning, at 9 o'clock and the intelligence test will be given in the afternoon.

McKee Fisk, of the junior college faculty, said that the results of the intelligence tests would not debar students from admission. The data obtained is to be used to advise the students in outlining their course of study, he said.

Last spring the junior college gave the entrance tests to students intending to enroll this term. Only students who did not at that time take the tests will be given the examination Tuesday, it was said.

The day following the examinations has been designated as freshman day at the junior college. A program has been arranged, beginning with an address by Principal

Salesman Enters Not Guilty Plea

Charged with possession of intoxicating liquor, C. H. Quavis, Los Angeles salesman, pleaded not guilty in City Recorder John F. Talbot's court today and trial was set for 10 a. m. next Thursday morning.

Bail was fixed at $300, which Quavis prepared to meet some time this afternoon.

Quavis has asked for a jury trial.

JUDGE MORRISON TO VACATION IN NORTH

Justice Kenneth Morrison, successful in his race to hold the office he now occupies and a little tired from a strenuous campaign, will leave here late today or tomorrow, with Mrs. Morrison, for a two weeks' motor trip through northern California.

They will spend some time in Sacramento, it was said, and will be away from Santa Ana during the entire vacation period.

Judge Andrew Wilson, former justice of the peace in Newport Beach, will sit on the justice bench here during Morrison's absence. Judge Wilson will start his duties Monday morning.

Another Register Girl Will Become Bride In Early Fall

AGAIN has the Register family been called upon to surrender one of its members to the wiles of Dan Cupid, for friends have been apprised of the betrothal of Miss Helena Lieberman, of the Register advertising department, to

J. Ogden Markel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules W. Markel, 1230 North Broadway.

The first announcement of the engagement came last night when the Misses Anne and Gretchen Lieberman entertained members of the two families and a very few close friends at an evening of bridge in the Lieberman home, 612 French street.

The decorative motif was furnished by myriads of vivid butterflies which adorned the curtains, fluttered above rose-tinted asters and were attached to small envelopes which marked each place at the card tables.

Just as the guests were ready to take their places for bridge, dainty little Caroline Borchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Borchard, fluttered into the room on butterfly wings, and distributed the cards, which were at once read aloud, thus disclosing the betrothal secret.

Bridge immediately took second place in the interest of the players, and it was difficult to say to whom the pretty prizes of a hand-painted plate and a tasseled bridge pencil should go. When decision had finally been made, the hostesses, Marie Lieberman, arranged the four small tables attractively with pretty linens and asters in two tones of pink, and served an appetizing little supper of salad with cheese sandwiches followed by tutti-frutti ice cream, cake and coffee.

Last night's formal announcement of the engagement, was followed by an informal one this morning, when Miss Lieberman told her associates at the Register office in a characteristically charming manner. A huge box of fine chocolates was placed on a central desk in the main office of the building, and on it was one of the engraved cards which announced the betrothal.

Both young people are popular in a wide circle of friends. Miss Lieberman has been in the Register office practically ever since completing high school. Mr. Markel is associated with his father in the building and contracting business and returned less than a month ago from New Orleans where he took an architectural course at Tulane college. They are not disclosing the date selected for their wedding but it is anticipated as an early autumn event.

Miss Lieberman will be the third Register bride in less than six months' time. Miss Julia Linsenbard having been the first when she became the bride of Henry Egert of Los Angeles in June, and Miss Clara Kramer will be the second when she marries Burling Wing of Orange in the near future.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. King, the latter's uncle, John Brannon, and George Freund all of Alderpoint, Humboldt county, have been guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Isherwood, 521 East Seventeenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Williams of Tustin have been entertaining the latter's sisters, Mrs. S. G. Bent of Modesto and Mrs. J. H. Fairweather of Redkey. One week was spent very pleasantly at the Williams cottage at West Newport, and the remainder of the time was devoted to visiting old friends in Los Angeles and Long Beach and the enjoyment of the pleasant ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Williams on Williams street.

Mrs. Charles Hodge of Long Beach was a recent visitor in the A. C. Williams home.

Mrs. J. L. Dryer and daughter, Miss Kathryn Dryer of 602 Spurgeon street, together with Mrs. Dryer's sister, Miss Augusta Alexander, have returned from a pleasant stay of two months in Balboa.

Miss Ruby Nanney, former resident of Santa Ana, was chosen from a student body of 850 as the most popular girl in Woodbury Business college, Los Angeles. Miss Nanney is a member of the Dramatic club, president of the Girl's Glee club and secretary of the Sigma Iota Chi sorority. She is the niece of Mrs. L. H. Hill of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Larzelere and sons Clarence and Lee, 1201 East First street, left this morning for a two weeks' motor trip to Yosemite National park, and San Francisco.

Miss Kathryn Oliver, formerly of Honolulu, who has been attending school in the east arrived this afternoon to be the week end guest of Miss Virginia Russell, 1018 Spurgeon street.

Mrs. Leroy G. Wilson

Well known teacher of the piano in San Francisco and the Bay region and a pupil of Frederick Zech, of San Francisco, and Francis Graton, of London, announces the opening of her piano studio at 311 South Main street, Santa Ana, where she will accept a limited number of pupils. For appointment, telephone 501-R-K.

Excellent Program Is Promised Tuesday At County Fair

TUESDAY will be the day of days for femininity at Orange County fair, for elaborate plans are being made for both afternoon and evening events, in celebration of Orange county Federation club day, with Mrs. H. Nelson White of Anaheim in charge of the program.

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock, a delightful program will be presented in the feature tent, under the direction of Madame Manuela V. Budrow and through the courtesy of the County Federation of Women's clubs.

Dinner for the county clubwomen will be served at 6:30 o'clock by the Garden Grove Women's club. Reservations are pouring in for the affair which will be planned for 200 guests. Community singing will be a feature of the dinner and will be led by Harry D. Riley with Paul Barr, organist at the California theater, Fullerton, as accompanist.

Vocal numbers will be presented by a trio composed of Mrs. Leon de Larzes, Mrs. Albert Rohrs and Mrs. W. J. Sutherland, from the Orange Woman's club, and Randall Maass will play a cornet solo.

The 4 o'clock program directed by Madame Budrow, will be in two parts, the first given by artist pupils of the cantatrice and the last given by Madame Budrow and Lene Tunison Peek. Mrs. Peek will also act as accompanist for the vocal numbers.

The program will offer the solo "At Night" by Rjenes, sung by Miss Nada Smith; "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," (O'Hara) Allan Rains; Selection from "Rigoletto," (Verdi) Arthur Smith; "The Gypsy Trail," (Galloway) and "Amaryllis," (Parlow) sung by a male quartette composed of Arthur Smith, Kenneth Workman, Allan Rains and Edward Delgado; violin solo, Allan Rains with Marjorie Rains at the piano; Toreador's Song from "Carmen," (Bizet) Edward Delgado; "Song of the Soil," (Brell), Mrs. Ruth Madlener with violin obligato by Allan Rains; chorus, "Come!" (Budrow) Catherine Maroon, Josephine Taylor, Blanche Hillman, Helen Grimm, Adahuth Ellis, Mary Ethel Ellis, Rebecca Budrow, Nada Smith, Dorothy Maroon, Ruth Madlener and Mary Louise Budrow.

The second part will open with two vocal numbers by Madame Budrow with Mrs. Peek at the piano. The songs will be "A Rose for Every Heart" by Cadman and "Primavera" and will be followed by a Chopin Scherzo played by Mrs. Peek. The program will end with a group of requested Spanish songs including "A Clavellito" and Madame Budrow's own composition, "Serenata."

Pretty Wedding Is Morning Event

THURSDAY morning, September 2, was the date of a pretty wedding in Orange when Miss Ethel Soden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Soden, became the bride of William Cochems, son of Mrs. Kate Cochems of Huntington Beach.

The ceremony was distinguished by an attractive simplicity and took place at the Soden home at 533 West La Veta avenue. Autumn flowers in their soft colorings, were used in decorative effect.

Miss Soden, gowned in white satin, delicate pink tints, was a charming bride, entering the room on the arm of her father who later gave her in marriage. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Allan Young of Huntington Beach, as honor matron. Mrs. Young was also in white, choosing a dainty georgette frock and carrying deep roses.

Mr. Young assisted Mrs. Cochems as best man. The ceremony was read by the Rev. W. W. Hall, pastor of the Orange M. E. church. After a period of congratulations, the assembled guests were served an appetizing wedding breakfast by Mr. Cochems and his bride departed on a motor honeymoon to the Yosemite. Upon their return they will make their home in Huntington Beach where Mr. Cochems is with the Standard Oil company and where he has hosts of friends to extend a warm welcome to his bride. The latter has been teaching in Rock Springs, Wyo., returning to Orange with the close of school in June.

Guests at the wedding were confined to relatives and a very few close friends and included in addition to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Soden and Mrs. Kate Cochems, the Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Young, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Anderson and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle W. Soden and young sons, Leonard, Mervin and Harlan, Tony, Vincent and Paul Cochems, Merle Soden, Mrs. K. Brophy and Miss Dora Hoffman.

Oil is now being laid on the highway between Victorville and Barstow.

Enacts Regal Young Queen

AUDREY ISBELL PETERSON WHO WILL ENACT THE ROLE OF "QUEEN" IN THE PAGEANT, "BIRTH OF AN EMPIRE" AT THE ORANGE COUNTY FAIR.

Choice of Audrey Isbell Peterson for the role of queen of the pageant, "The Birth of an Empire" to be presented on three nights of the Orange County fair was considered a particularly wise one by the countless friends and admirers of the talented young reader and musician.

The pageant, written by Jennie Lasby, will be presented in front of the grand stand on the fair grounds, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights, and will be one of the most delightful features of the week, according to those to whom she have watched the progress of the rehearsals.

Mrs. Peterson is well-known for her ability both as teacher and exponent of the dramatic art, and has flourishing classes in music and expression both in this city and in Orange. She was formerly assistant piano teacher with Clarence A. Gustlin at his North Main street studio and is now Orange county representative of Frieda Peycke, famed for her musical readings. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have recently taken possession of their charming new home on South Broadway, and she is continuing her classes there.

Mr. Peterson has taken various prominent roles in Santa Ana Community Players' productions and will be remembered for his excellent work in the title role of "Captain Applejack" as well as in "The First Year" and other successes. James Duggan, also prominent in Community Players will play opposite Mrs. Peterson, in the pageant, as the King.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Hermosa Circle members will be entertained Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. George Dobson, 1069 West Fifth street, where Mrs. E. T. Mateer will be chairman of the committee and co-hostesses will be Mrs. Lucille White, Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Mary Bruner. Anyone desiring transportation, may call Mrs. A. E. Wallace, 2292V.

Ebell dancing classes will resume their activities on Tuesday, September 14, instead of next Tuesday as was first announced. However, new pupils who wish to register will find someone at Ebell clubhouse next Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5 who will take their names and assign them to classes.

Business and Professional Women will dispense with their weekly luncheon and meeting this coming week on account of Monday being a holiday. At the next meeting, Monday, September 13, they hope to hear reports of the state convention closing today in Hollywood.

Unitarian women will hold a church social Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Adams, 715 East First street where Labor day will be celebrated with friendliness and sociability.

Campers Return from Mountain Outing

Two intrepid Santa Ana girls, Miss Elsie Reuter, 111 East Twentieth street and Miss Esther Bose of East Seventeenth street, have returned from a delightful camping trip into Sequoia, General Grant and Yosemite National parks and visits in Sacramento and San Francisco.

The travelers left Santa Ana over a month ago with automobile well-equipped for a camping trip, including a tent which they pitched every night. They did everything that trained campers do, cooking all their meals en route with the exception of the time spent in the cities. In Sequoia they climbed the famous Alta Peak, thereby automatically becoming members of the Alta Peak club, sacred to those who have scaled the mountain heights.

Various other peaks were conquered and interesting hikes led them into remote spots of beauty. While in Sacramento, side trips were made into the gold-mining country where Miss Reuter, daughter of a California pioneer and steeped in the lore of early days, visited for the first time, the mines about which she had heard glowing tales. At Hammonton they saw the largest gold dredger in the world, and one which brought out a million dollars in twelve weeks time.

The final week of their outing was spent at Carmel, then the two motorists returned home to prepare for the opening of school. Miss Bose will resume her place as secretary at Frances Willard junior high school and Miss Reuter will go to Hollywood to teach home economics in the new Thomas Starr King junior high school.

Invitations Issued For Wedding in Santa Barbara

INVITATIONS have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Busby of Santa Ana and Santa Barbara, to the marriage of their daughter, Miss Beryl Busby, and Robert Walter Hunt, son of Mrs. Walter L. Hunt of Santa Barbara, on September 11. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening, in the Trinity parish house with the Rev. Charles E. Deuel, rector of Trinity of officiate.

Miss Busby and Mr. Hunt will be surrounded by a group of college friends, who will form part of the charming pageant planned for the wedding. Miss Dorothy Busby will attend her sister as honor maid, while the bridesmaids, the Misses Ellen Tognazzini, Frances Lincoln and De Eite Conklin, were all chosen from the ranks of the bride's sorority, Alpha Phi.

Mr. Hunt will be assisted by his brother, Le Roy Hunt as best man and a group of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity brothers, Messrs. Thomas Condit, Thomas Prentice and Leland Prentice, as ushers.

The nuptials will crown a pretty romance beginning in the childhood of the young people and developing through the companionship of college life. For both Miss Busby and her fiancé are graduates of Stanford, members of the class of 1926. Each was prominent in university life and Mr. Hunt was a member of the famous varsity football team.

The young people will make their home in Santa Barbara. Miss Busby has made many friends in this city during vacations spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Busby of the Santa Ana hotel.

The gravel highway between Brawley and Imperial is being oiled, states a bulletin from the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

AT THE THEATERS

Richard Barthelmess as he appears in his latest picture, "The Amateur Gentleman," which opens at the Yost Broadway theater Sunday.

Edward Everett Horton in flight from his happy home, wife and job in "The Nut-Cracker," comedy closing tonight at the Yost Broadway street theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
One of the greatest casts of any recent picture supports the late Rudolph Valentino in "The Son of the Sheik," the picture which closes tonight at the Yost Broadway theater. The return of El Rudolph to the stage role in which his public so esteems him is made in the very best moving picture company.

Vilma Banky, beautiful and exotic Hungarian actress who came to America a few years ago and has since appeared to fine advantage with Ronald Colman in "The Dark Angel" and other films, as well as with Valentino in his last picture, "The Eagle," is once more opposite Rudy. She is Yasmin, the tortured dancing girl of the desert whose heart calls to the stern Son of the Sheik. Montaku Love, himself a star in pictures, plays the chief villain's role.

WEST COAST WALKER
"His Majesty, Bunker Bean," the picture which closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker, is founded on the novel of Harry Leon Wilson, and the play by Lee Wilson Dodd. Matt Moore has the title role.

Bunker Bean is a timid, inconspicuous clerk who is convinced by two fake clairvoyants that he is the reincarnation of Napoleon and an Egyptian king. Filled with the illusion of majesty, he finds himself carried along in a stream of riotously entertaining incidents.

Featured with him in "His Majesty, Bunker Bean," is Dorothy Devore, who played heroine to his hero in the other productions.

Santa Ana audiences are in for a treat, for Von Stroheim, "the singing cowboy" is one of the finest tenors in the country and is known from coast to coast for his wonderful voice and personality. A living image of Tom Mix and real artistic work make this young man worth hearing and seeing.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon in the church parlor.

Mrs. W. B. Snow, president, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Will Betts opened the devotional period by asking all to join in singing the doxology. She then read the scripture lesson from the 121st Psalm and instead of commenting on the Psalm, read a letter written by a Santa Ana girl who is in training in the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles. The letter was written Sunday morning at 4:30 and very appropriately expressed ideals suggested by the Psalm. Mrs. Fannie Lash led in prayer at the close of the devotional period.

Following a brief business session, Mrs. Horton Palmer presented the plans of the program committee for the coming year. Very interesting programs are planned for each meeting, and include the various phases of work in which the society is interested, as well as the study of the book "In Temple Hills," a study of the church and rural life by Ralph Felton.

The concluding number of the program was unusual, also very stimulating. Three young ladies, the Misses Geneva Hartung, Eva Ramsey and Vena Goodwin, gave accounts of ten days they had spent at the Pacific Palisades in company with leaders of missionary work, both at home and in foreign countries. The comment of the girls was that they could not express in words the inspiration they had received, they would have to show it in their lives.

Musical Acorns

An Indian musical instrument made of strings of acorns is the latest discovery to be made by J. P. Harrington, ethnologist of the Smithsonian institution, in his fruitful researches among the 60 and 100-year-old elders of the Southern California Indian tribes.

"The instrument consists of a string of acorns, carefully tuned according to their size," says Mr. Harrington in a report to Dr. J. Fewkes, chief of the bureau of ethnology. "One end of the string is held in the hand and each acorn in turn is held in the mouth between the teeth. As the string is swung and pulled taut by the other hand, the acorn between the teeth vibrates with a clear tone, and by alternating the acorns a tune is played as pretty as flute music."

Harrington is bringing back to the Smithsonian a specimen of this new discovery among Indian musical instruments, but refuses to promise to play it correctly. "It is harder to play than the open end Indian flutes," he says, "and I have always had to draw the line at them."

Another interesting discovery of a musical nature made by Harrington is the process of Indian flute manufacture out of elder wood. "The Indians cut the elder stick green in the early spring and let it lie with the leaves on it for a week so that the leaves might draw the sap out." That prevented it from cracking. Only four holes were bored, the method being to scrape the wall of the flute where the holes were to be bored very thin and then to press a glowing twig of the desired diameter against the wall. The holes were placed at random so that each flute had a different scale. Some players knew as many as 30 tunes. Many of these were peculiarly flute melodies and were never sung."

PLAYS ANNOUNCED

Nineteen twenty-six and 1927 will be notable in the history of Paramount, which has assembled for its new season product the cream of directorial talent, the finest in literary work and the most brilliant array of actors and actresses ever aligned under one banner.

Among the great pictures planned for the new season are "Old Ironsides," a story of the famous American frigate Constitution; "Beau Geste," a romantic mystery of the French Foreign Legion; "The Sorrows of Satan," the Marie Corelli story; "Glorifying the American Girl," the first of the Florenz Ziegfeld supervised pictures; "Variety," an outstanding film of the year produced in Germany; "The Wedding March," a Von Stroheim attraction; "The High Riders," a story of Theodore Roosevelt and the Spanish-American war; "Kid Boots," which will bring Eddie Cantor to the screen; "Padlocked," Rex Beach's sensational Cosmopolitan magazine story, with Lois Moran, Wallace Berry and Louise Dresser; "Aloma of the South Seas," a South Sea island stage hit, featuring Gilda Gray, Warner Baxter and Percy Marmont.

Richard Barthelmess, noted for the versatility and charm of his many characterizations on the screen, has found a vehicle worthy of his talents in "The Amateur Gentleman," which opens tomorrow at the Yost Broadway theater. He appears to splendid advantage in the colorful role of Barnabas Beverly Barty and looks amazingly well in the costumes of the Beau Brummel period. The story deals with the Regency period in England and contains numerous thrilling and dramatic high lights, which are intensified by the harmony and realism of the settings.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Vienna before the war. Bewitching, mad Vienna, with its light-headed gaiety, its capricious disregard of the conventions, its singing and its waltzes, forms the background of a charming, yet virile story. From royal palace, stately, regal and solemn, to the wine gardens of old Vienna, where love and wine and song mingle gayly, the romance of a Princess grows in "The Waltz Dream," the film opening Sunday at the West Coast-Walker theater.

"The Waltz Dream," was the

biggest hit of the New York theatrical season some years ago on the legitimate stage. Many companies sought vainly to secure the film rights.

A lavish picture has resulted. A picture filled with sentiment and box office appeal. Previews have shown the American response to this great romance. It packs a powerful punch as a climax to the love of a Princess for an Austrian officer, and the renunciation of her sweetheart by a girl of the people. It is bound to appeal to everybody, wherever played.

YOST THEATER
Every once in a while a picture comes to town at which the inveterate movie-goer has a grand time. Such a film is "The Lucky Lady," which opens at the Yost theater, on Spurgeon street, Sunday.

The story itself is amusing and the company which enacts it, stands far, far above the average. Greta Nissen was never cast in a part that fit her better than as Princess Antoinette, the girl who falls in love with a young American and then has a terrible time manifesting and proving where her heart really lies. Lionel Barrymore gives a distinguished performance as the disolute roue, a role just a bit reminiscent of the part he played in "Enemies of Women." As fine a bit of pantomime as has been seen on our screen in many moons, is the sequence in which Miss Nissen disguises herself as a coquette in order to prove that the roue's heart is fickle. And on seeing the girl, he forgets his professed love for the princess, but follows the little beauty.

The two other featured players, William Collier Jr. and Marc McDermott, each give the splendid performances for which they can always be counted on. Collier is the young American lover and McDermott, the prime minister who is "promoting" Barrymore's marriage to the princess.

Legal Notice

NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Red Hill Water Co., held on the third day of August, 1926, at the office of the Goldenwest Citrus Association, an assessment of $5.00 per share was levied upon the capital stock of the corporation, payable on or before October 15, 1926, to the Secretary of said corporation at his office on Newport Road, Tustin, Orange county, California.

Any stock upon which the assessment shall remain unpaid on the 15th day of November, 1926, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction and unless payment is made before said date, will be sold on December 1, 1926 to pay the delinquent assessment, together with the cost of advertising and expense of sale.

By order of the Board of Directors of the Red Hill Water Company, GEORGE B. SHATTUCK, Secretary.

WEST COAST CENSOR
PUTS O. K. ON ACTS

Few theatergoers know that a special Public Relations department in charge of Miss R. Hemington is maintained by the West Coast Theaters, Inc., to promote confidence and good will on the part of patrons toward the West Coast chain of theaters.

Miss Hemington is given the responsibility of providing for all junior matinee programs, only pictures and entertainment approved by civic organizations and welfare clubs. All objectionable parts of a film are "cut" by Miss Hemington before it is allowed to be shown to boys and girls of the West Coast junior matinee houses, according to C. E. Walker, manager of the West Coast-Walker theater.

Stage attractions also must be clean, high class and worth while to receive Miss Hemington's approval. La Royal, now appearing at the West Coast-Walker theater, has the written approval of Miss Hemington. She considers his magic entertainment flavored with educational thoughts a real treat for boys and girls, Walker stated.

YOST THEATER
Edward Everett Horton, one of the best known and most popular players of the stage and screen today, has never had a role which suited his particular genius for comedy interpretation as well as does that of Horatio Slipway, in "The Nut-Cracker," the photoplay closing tonight at the Yost Spurgeon street theater.

To the part of the humble and henpecked clerk who finally goes socially berserk and becomes the rich Mr. Peters he lends a distinctive characterization which is a splendid piece of acting. Critics who have seen the picture, agree that Mr. Horton has touched the high water mark of comedy in his vivid delineation of a most amusing personality.

The acting of Mae Busch, too, is superb—and hers was a particularly difficult role. As Martha Slipaway, Horatio's nagging wife, she has anything but a static part to interpret.

ROBERTS WILL LEAVE SANTA ANA PASTORATE

The Rev. William A. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana since early in 1923, will submit his resignation to the congregation following the service tomorrow morning.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts said today that he wished to accept a call to the pastorate of the West Adams First Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, and had every expectation that his resignation would be accepted. Robert McLean, moderator of the Los Angeles presbytery, will be in charge of the meeting at which the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Roberts will be submitted.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts took the pulpit here after resigning as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Champagne, Ill., of which church the father of Senator McKimley, of Illinois, was the pastor for many years. The Santa Ana presbytery was well acquainted with Senator McKimley, who now is seriously ill, and has taken a great interest in the bulletins issued from his bedside.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts will preach his farewell sermon September 26, the last Sunday of the month. He stated that it was only the opportunity to embrace a larger field that prompted him to leave Santa Ana, where he has made a host of friends and has found special pleasure in becoming affiliated with the Spanish-American War Veterans, the Rotary club, and fraternal organizations, and in taking part in the civic work of the city as a member of the chamber of commerce.

Official Ballot Count Completed

The board of supervisors today completed the official count of the ballots cast in Orange county in the primary election of Tuesday. The results will be tabulated Monday. The "write-in" names will not be listed, except under the general topic of "scattering."

REALTORS DISCUSS NEW CONSTITUTION

Discussion of the new constitution and by-laws of the state organization of real estate dealers and discussion of plans to erect a sign at the intersection of Newport boulevard and the Coast highway, directing traffic to Santa Ana, occupied the time of Santa Ana realtors yesterday noon.

In discussing plans for placing a sign on the Coast highway, at Newport Beach, the realtors pointed out the benefits received by Santa Ana from a sign placed at Orana, directing traffic to Santa Ana from that point. W. B. Martin, chairman of the advertising committee, is in charge of arrangements to secure a sign.

Martin is co-operating with various civic organizations of the city with the view of financing the sign project.

Freeman Bloodgood spoke to the realtors on the new constitution and by-laws, which now are being drafted. According to Bloodgood, there are many improvements in the new documents.

The realtors announced yesterday that nominations would be made in the near future of directors from the Santa Ana board to serve on the state body.

MOTHER WANTED TO TAKE BABE TO JAIL

Charged with a statutory offense, Florence M. Prather, 36, 1017 East Santa Ana street, Anaheim, was lodged in the county jail last night by Ed Marion, Anaheim constable, but not until after the baby, which she carried in her arms, was returned to Anaheim and turned over to relatives.

Arrested on a complaint sworn out in the district attorney's office here, the woman and her baby were brought to jail, but Orla Moncrief, chief jailor, refused to allow the woman to enter with the baby.

Before the jail doors opened to her, Marion was forced to drive her back to Anaheim, where she left the baby, and then returned her to jail.

BOARD NOTIFIED OF FOREST FUND

The county board of supervisors were notified today by J. E. Elliott, supervisor of the Cleveland National forest, that $10,000 of a $100,000 fund has been set aside for the construction and maintenance of fire trails in that portion of the forest in Orange county, the money to be made available upon the condition that the supervisors set aside a similar sum for the work.

The administration of the fund and the direction of the work is to be in charge of J. B. Stephenson, district ranger, according to Elliott.

As soon as the county sets aside its amount, a detailed program for the expenditure of the money will be submitted by the forest officials it was added.

Speed Boats Used By Island Whalers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Use of a 45-mile-an-hour speedboat with a 700-pound aluminum gasoline engine to chase whales has been reported to the commerce department from New Zealand. Competition forced the South Sea whalers to abandon their picturesque wooden vessels, the report from Consul-General Lowrie, Wellington said.

Court Notes

Husband Asks Divorce
James Jones has filed suit for divorce in superior court against Esther Jones, charging desertion. They were married in Pennsylvania in 1922 and separated in 1922. Attorney Lucas F. Smith, of Los Angeles, represents Jones.

Bank Is Plaintiff
The First National bank, of Anaheim, today had a suit on file in superior court against Hugh Grant and Victor D. Loly, asking judgment for $1350, interest on that sum and $175 attorney fees. The action is based on two notes given by Grant to Loly and assigned by Loly to the bank, it is alleged. Leonard Evans is attorney for the bank.

Foreclosure Is Sought
Foreclosure of a mechanic's lien of $345 against property in Santa Ana is sought in a suit filed in superior court by J. L. Boteler against C. T. McGrew and Sons, Santa Ana firm.

$724.17 Judgment Asked
The Orange County Credit association is plaintiff in a superior court action just filed against E. M. Thetford, asking judgment for $724.17 on a claim of the Costa Mesa Lumber company. Harry C. Westover, Santa Ana, is counsel for the plaintiff.

Husband Charges Cruelty
Extreme cruelty is charged in a divorce action on file in superior court against Mrs. Marie G. Johnson, the plaintiff being Ernest Johnson, who is represented by Attorney A. E. Tanberg, of Laguna Beach. The Johnsons married in 1918, and separated last June 19. The plaintiff asks custody of two children.

WHITE HORSE
LONDON, Sept. 4.—One of the strangest of the "ancient monuments" in Great Britain is the White Horse on Bratton Down, Westbury, Wiltshire. The horse is cut in the hillside to expose the chalk and measures 170 feet from nose to tail, and 160 feet from ears to feet. According to tradition it was originally fashioned in the reign of King Alfred.

ON JOB AT 97
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—John R. Voorhis, is 97, but works six days a week from 10 to 6. He is election commissioner and Tammany hall's grand old man. He still is alert and clear-sighted and smokes two cigars a day.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1926

UNIFORMITY OF TRAFFIC LAWS IN CALIFORNIA IS CLUB AIM

Much Headway Reported In Bringing About Adoption Standardized Code

SAFETY MEASURES AROUSE INTEREST

Public Safety Conference of State Endorse Efforts for Greater Traffic Safety

California will be the most modern state in the union in motor traffic regulation if uniformity of ordinances in its cities is securely established, according to authorities on the subject who have recently studied the uniform law proposal now being considered by communities throughout the state.

No other state or section of the country has as yet attempted the elimination of confusion through uniform traffic rules, according to records, although nation-wide interest is indicated in the many requests for copies of the "Uniform Traffic Ordinances for California Cities" that have been received, advises the Automobile Club of Southern California, sponsors of the plan in this section.

As the system of traffic control prepared by the motoring organization is gradually being adopted by one city council after another in this section, the project is also reported to be gaining headway in the northern and central parts of the state through efforts of the California Public Safety Conference, under the auspices of the women's division of the California Development association. The measure is also endorsed and being pushed by the California State Automobile association operating in the north.

Among the modern provisions of the proposed ordinance is included the safety measure of stopping of vehicles at designated boulevards and when emerging from alleys and driveways into the street. The prohibition of left turns at busy intersections is suggested, and provision is made for the method of approach to an intersection for a right or left turn. To prevent congestion, drivers are required, for example,

Motorists Given Traffic Demerits On License Slips

Motorists in England are given demerits for law infractions and the system works well for courts and the motoring public likewise, according to E. O. Hoppe, an English author who has been gathering material in Southern California.

The system in England for dealing with violators of traffic laws is to make a notation on the back of the drivers' license. These are called endorsements and are brought into court when the trial occurs.

If a driver is brought before the bar and his license has no endorsements, his treatment by the court is far less severe than if the license indicates a number of previous arrests. It is claimed for the system that it enables the authorities to keep close tab on traffic law violators and with the driver's license as a part of the evidence before it, the court is enabled to "make the punishment fit the crime."

In this country, it is pointed out, a motorist may have a very bad record for law violation, but the court has no means of determining how many offenses have been committed. Under the English system, each motorist must carry his record right with him so that his past is an open book before which the offender may be summoned.

Tree Planting Urged to Hide Big Sign Boards

Maryland is considering a novel plan through the operation of which it hopes not to get rid of unsightly billboards which are ruining the beauty of the state's highways, but to hide them from view. It has been proposed that the state, through its forestry department, plant a line of trees or a group of trees at points where they will hide the obnoxious boards from the view of travelers along the highways. While the boards would not be completely hidden, the view of them would be so obscured as to rob them of any advertising value and their further erection would be discouraged and eventually abandoned.

GIVES FIGURES ON MILEAGE OF AVERAGE AUTO

California Cars Traveled Total of 10,471,189,598 In 1925, Club Reports

How far does the average California motorist travel in his car in a year?

How many gallons of gasoline does he consume?

What is done with the gasoline tax he pays?

It is probable that only vague guesses could be made in answer to these questions until yesterday, when the engineering department of the Automobile Club of Southern California compiled some figures of interest to the average motor vehicle owner. Some very definite facts are brought out, which in view of the coming general election when a state highway amendment will be submitted to the people, throws considerable light on California as a motoring state.

Use 1925 Reports

The figures are based on the year 1925 reports, which show that the average registrations for that year in the state were 1,379,967 motor vehicles. These cars did some traveling, based on an estimate of 14 miles to the gallon of gasoline, they show a total annual vehicle mileage of 10,471,189,598.

It is believed that the average annual mileage is greater than in any other state because of the estimated facts that Californians use their cars more for recreation purposes, and are able to tour in most parts of the state any day in the year. The average annual miles traveled per vehicle is 7582, and the average driver purchased 542 gallons of gasoline, on which he paid $10.84 to the state in taxes.

The total gas tax collected by the state was $14,956,789 and this, under the present laws, is divided 50 per cent for maintenance and improvement of state roads, and 50 per cent is returned to the counties in proportion to the amount that was collected in each.

A Huge Total Rolled Up

According to the California highway commission, 2,120,000,000 vehicle miles were traveled on the state highway during 1925. This equal 22.4 per cent of the total state travel. From that it would appear that 50 per cent of the gasoline tax goes toward the maintenance of roads carrying only 22.4 per cent of the total state travel.

Although the state highway carries something more than one-fifth of the vehicular travel, they com-

STUTZ NEW SAFETY SIX TO BE DISPLAYED IN AUTO SHOW AT ORANGE COUNTY FAIR, SEPTEMBER 6 TO 11

Rumors have been circulating to the effect that the National Forests were to be closed the first of September. These rumors were unfounded, as the National Forests will remain open.

The new coast highway from Laguna to Serra Station is open, advises the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. This road is surfaced with gravel, and is very dusty.

SAFETY PREDOMINATES IN FEATURES OF NEW MODELS SHOWN BY SANTA ANA FIRM

Safety, as far as human ingenuity and applied engineering science can establish, is the keynote of the advanced models of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America, Inc., according to announcement today by Joe Finley, manager of the Reo and Stutz Sales and Service of Orange County.

Finley points to the many safety features of the new Stutz, including the new theft protection, the safety glass, which comes as standard equipment on all Stutz models, the safety chassis, swung low to impart a heretofore unknown stability to an automobile, the new hydrostatic brakes, and the remarkable full vision front corner posts which tend to prevent accidents.

Easy to Control
Quick acceleration offers the driver ample opportunity to get out of "tight places," and, according to Finley, the ease of control of the car is remarkable.

Just as the safety Stutz attracted universal attention at the automobile shows earlier in the year by its low center of gravity, so the new models will be the magnet which will attract the eyes and hold the interest of the automotive multitude, says Finley. Finley is backed up in his statements by Harvey Traveller, well known automobile salesman of Orange county, who is sales manager for the Stutz car. The arresting features of the new model Stutz is the all-around safety glass feature, the non-shatterable feature that drew the inquires of thousands to the Stutz windshield several months ago, and the feature which prompted Stutz engineers to incorporate the safety feature in the entire car.

Vice President E. S. Correll is outspoken in his reason for this distinctive innovation in passenger car practices.

"Traveling 40 or 50 miles an hour in a glass cage with your family, with the practical certainty that if there is an accident, glass will fly and somebody must be cut, is not our idea of safety," says Correll. "Our experiments with safety glass have convinced us that we are on the right track to the extent of equipping the new safety Stutz with non-shatterable glass as standard equipment."

AUTOISTS ARE HELD AT FAULT FOR MAJORITY OF FATALITIES

MORE DEATHS IN L. A. ARE REPORTED

Metropolis Making Strong Effort to Find Remedy For Accident Causes

Let motorists and pedestrians be more watchful for each other and auto accidents will be materially reduced, is the opinion of the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, following the receipt of national figures showing that two-thirds of the accidents involve striking pedestrians.

Sixty-eight per cent of the fatal motor accidents during the first half of this year were due to a vehicle striking a pedestrian, according to statistics filed with the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

With California leading the world in the density of automobiles per population, with approximately one car to every three persons, and the greatest congestion of autos and pedestrians in its cities, it is indicated that the need for protecting the pedestrian should be most noticeable here. Figures of the auto club safety department show that a large proportion of the fatal motor vehicle collisions here are between auto and pedestrian. There were 86 such fatalities during the first six months of this year in Los Angeles city and county as compared with 84 of the same period of the year before.

That Los Angeles, however, is making an aggressive drive to remedy the accident situation as affecting pedestrians is evident in its program of construction of pedestrian subways, considered by national authorities the most practical solution of the street crossing problem. With two subways already in operation since financial provision was made through the bond issue last year, two more are nearing completion and 15 tunnels are under construction. Plans are drawn for eight others, and contracts have been let for three more, according to data on file with the safety bureau of the motoring organization. Altogether 33 tunnels are in the safety program, and it is indicated that construction of 19 others is a possibility, it is said.

Painted crosswalks to complement sidewalks is another national suggestion for the protection of the man on foot. Many communities in the southern counties of this state have adopted this plan, and the establishments of such crosswalks by city authorities is one of the provisions of the uniform traffic ordinance for California cities that has been adopted by a dozen of the larger cities in this section and is being supported by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In the endeavor to educate the walking public to the danger of accidents and the necessity for caution at all times, the automobile club recently installed warning signs on the automatic signals at intersection.

Another Trainload of MARMONS for Southern California

—The Second in Six Months

Prior Showing of Important Advancements

In addition to regular shipments from the factory this is the second full trainload of Marmons demanded by the fine car buyers of Southern California.

New things are in store for you in the Marmons now en route. Acceleration greatly increased—top speed greatly increased—new self-energizing four wheel brakes in combination with exclusive Marmon Steering Stabilizer which stops "shimmy" at its source—ball and roller bearing steering with all elements of friction eliminated—new Marmon Modulator, which, in combination with Marmon system of double-fire ignition, provides a new standard of vibrationless capability in an engine already notably smooth—these and many other important refinements in the famous Marmon engine and chassis.

In addition, a wider variety of body styles and colors than Marmon has ever offered.

You will want to see these new Marmons. Let us enter your name at once for prior showing and demonstration. Not the slightest obligation is involved.

The Packard Six Pioneers a New Era

The Packard Six is converting motorists from the costly habit of buying new cars every two or three years. The average Packard Six owner expects to keep his car for more than five years—over twice as long as the car traded in.

And Packard insures that owners may keep their cars without embarrassment. For Packard lines are preserved from year to year and will be preserved until something still more beautiful is found, which is unlikely.

The improved Packard Six will convert additional thousands to Packard ownership.

Now, with a refined beauty and even greater comfort, there is a forty per cent increase in power—and performance that makes it the most outstanding of all stock cars with one exception—the improved Packard Eight—Boss of the Road.

There is but one way to learn the ability of today's Packard Six—to ride in it and drive it, in traffic, on the open road and on the hills.

This you are invited to do without obligation.

As an example of Packard Six prices, note that the improved five-passenger sedan with complete accessories costs but $2928 delivered at your door with all charges paid.

WILLYS-KNIGHT ENGINE HANGS UP NEW RECORD

Surpassing anything on record, a Knight six-cylinder motor has traveled 663,344 miles, or a distance estimated equivalent to a round trip to the moon and half way back again, according to information that has just been received by Willys-Knight Overland Sales company, Willys-Overland dealer.

This motor is 13 years old. It has given tough, strenuous service in piling up this amazing total and is still going strong and its driver stated that it appeared as if it will be able to reach the million mark before it is through. It is doing duty in an ambulance of the Toronto General Hospital, Toronto, Canada and for the 13 years has been on duty 24 hours a day. This same type motor is on display at the Orange County fair.

The ambulance was presented to the hospital by Sir John Eaton and was built by the Russell Motor Car company of Toronto in 1913. The ambulance has been vigorously speeding here and there on calls of mercy ever since, according to Dr. C. J. Decker, superintendent of the hospital.

Dr. Decker's attention was first called to the record run of this motor when the head of the hospital ambulance department suggested that the antiquated appearance of the vehicle and old facilities warranted the purchase of a new machine.

"Why that ambulance is comparatively new and has run only a couple of hundred thousand miles," jokingly remarked the superintendent.

The head of the ambulance department took the remark seriously and got the car's records together. There they found the grand total of 663,344 miles and would scarcely believe it until they had checked the records over a couple of times.

Safety Is Feature Of New Stutz

additions to the safety Stutz line include two new seven-passenger models, one a limousine model for the owner who prefers a chauffeur and another for the owner who prefers to drive. These new seven-passenger models are distinctive, with a wheel base of 145 inches, which accentuates the lowness-to-the-ground character of the new Stutz.

All Stutz models are now powered with the Stutz verticle eight engine. The quietness of operation of the poppet valve motor, the ease of handling the tremendous acceleration and the positive deceleration from a composite that marks the new Stutz as a very distinctive advance in the automotive engineering art.

The distinctive worm-gear drive and the hydrostatic brakes have proven their outstanding merit. Braking on all four wheels is controlled by a foot brake pedal.

Add New Models

Body designs have branched out and now include a two-passenger speedster, a four-passenger speedster, a five-passenger sedan, a brougham, a Victoria coupe, and a two-passenger coupe. The two-passenger coupe is one of the latest models and contains many conveniences. A rumble seat occupies the rear end of the car, a door is located in the curb side of the rear deck to accommodate golf clubs, fishing or hunting equipment, a parcel compartment is found back of the seat and ventilators of unique design are on both doors.

Mileage Figures Of Average Car

prise less than nine per cent of the total rural roads in the state. The state highway system at present embraces 6629 miles of the total rural roads in California of 75,618 miles.

Although 50 per cent of the present gasoline tax is applied to less than nine per cent of the total state roads and less than 23 per cent of the total state travel, there are those advocating an additional one cent gasoline tax that shall go entirely to the state.

If this measure should pass it would give the state 66 per cent of approximately $22,000,000 to be spent on nine per cent of the rural roads in use, which carry less than one-fourth of the total vehicular travel.

'PRESIDENT' IS LATEST MODEL OF STUDEBAKER

The President is the name of a Studebaker big six custom sedan for seven passengers—one of the line of custom designed motor cars recently announced—and it is interesting to note how truly the character of the car proves worthy of its name.

Designed to do justice to the men identified with successful business achievement and symbolize the leadership of its owners, The President is a study in reserved dignity.

The full-vision steel body is finished in lustrous black with a belt of this green, pin-striped in Sisliou yellow. Disc wheels are hand-drawn in harmony. The interior is replete with custom luxury, upholstered in deep gray broad-cloth and broad-lace trim. A color scheme of croatan green with black belt and pin striping in ivory and upholstery in mohair is optional. Butler finish hardware, silk curtains, toggle grips and opal iridescent corner and dome lights, the latter lighting when the rear door is opened, complete the effect of custom refinement.

Both front and rear seats are deep and wide and form-fashioned to assure maximum riding ease. Even the auxiliary seats for the sixth and seventh passengers are designed and dimensioned to give full comfort.

On the instrument board, which is finished in a harmonizing duotone lacquer, the instruments—speedometer, ammeter, gasoline gauge, engine heat indicator, pressure gauge and clock—are artistically grouped under glass and illuminated by indirect lighting. Ventilation, without draft, is obtained by an exclusively designed windshield, controlled by turning a convenient handle on the dash. The double-beam headlights are operated by a lever on the steering column.

Custom design has given the car low-slung graceful lines, and the rich coloring of the lacquer finish is given a dash of brightness by the nickel-plated radiator surmounted by the silver figure of Atlanta racing the wind, and nickel-plated acorn headlights. Four-wheel brakes, balloon tires and Watson stabilizers insure comfort and safety on every type of road.

Uniform Traffic Laws, Club Aim

to approach the point of turning in the line of traffic nearest the right-hand curb when turning right. Turning completely around certain intersections is prohibited during designated business hours.

Control of pedestrian traffic is another measure incorporated in the ordinance for the sake of safety and system. It provides that the pedestrian using a marked cross walk at an intersection has the right-of-way over automobiles, but also that a pedestrian must cross an intersection only over the cross walk and with the traffic when it is being directed by a police or traffic officer or by automatic signal.

BEACH PAIR ON LONG DISTANCE TOUR BY AUTO

Averaging better than 250 miles per day for 12 days is not a bad record for a single driver. This was the feat recorded by B. E. Lawton of Long Beach, who with his wife recently set out in their Hupmobile six sedan bent on seeing the country. Leaving Long Beach they traveled via St. Louis and Kansas City and reached Washington, D. C., a distance of 3,193 miles, just 12 days later.

To read the account of their trip so far is like turning the pages of a geography rapidly. When you note that despite their extensive travels they are still far, far from home, you will agree that this couple are somewhat successful in their efforts to see new sights.

From Washington they continued their peripatations with renewed effort. They went to Richmond, Va.,

through the Shenandoah valley, thence to Baltimore, Atlantic City, New York, through the New England states as far as Bangor and Bar Harbor, back to Provincetown, New York and Philadelphia. From there they directed their way to Canada, going via Montreal, Quebec City and Ottawa and are proceeding homeward by a northern route. That is an itinerary to conjure with.

To date they have traveled 7715 miles over all kinds of roads with the unique record of having made the journey without trouble of any kind save for the fact that a couple of vagrant tacks got in the way.

"The car has not cost a cent since I left California, save for gas and oil," declared Lawton, who is a Hupmobile enthusiast. "Furthermore," he added, "I expect to complete the 17,000 miles before we arrive home without spending a nickel on it."

TOPSY-TURVY LAND

NEW ESSEX IS DISPLAYED BY LOCAL AGENCY

Product of a new ten-million-dollar plant which the Hudson Motor Car company erected at Detroit, especially for the building of these bodies, the new Essex coach, marked by an all-steel body of new and radically improved design, has just been put on display here by the Hub Motor company, Hudson-Essex dealers.

The debut of the new Essex coaches, both here and at the dealers' establishments throughout the Southland, was featured by a new rush of buying, many prospects, it is declared, having been "lying in wait" for the anticipated coming of these models.

Although the new bodies are radically different in construction from anything previously known, visitors discovered, they found them retaining the characteristic Essex lines with a few exceptions. The changes noted at first glance are: cars lowered two inches; heavier and more lustrous baked enamel finish; rear quarters slightly curved, eliminating the former square effect; a nicked radiator shell.

Closer inspection showed that the doors are swung on a brand-new type of hinge, known as the piano type; that these doors and windows are much improved as to strength; that rattles and squeaks have been eliminated by new methods of construction, and many little refinements added, such as a dash switch for the electric windshield wiper.

"All the refinements and improvements have been made in the body of the new Essex," stated Mr. Shira, of the Hub Motor company organization, in discussing the new coach. "The powerful, an flexible super-six Essex motor, which has proved so satisfactory in the hands of thousands upon thousands of contented Essex owners, has not been changed."

Important in connection with the bringing out of this much stancher Essex coach, it was pointed out by Mr. Shira, is the fact that the new $10,000,000 body plant at Detroit alone made such a bettered car possible. This plant is declared by Hudson-Essex officials to be the largest single body plant in the world.

PLAN BACK YARD FLIGHT

These two U. S. marine corps aviators are about to hop off on a regular "back yard flight" from the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla., to San Diego. They will start with only two gallons of gas in their tank, and when it is gone will land in the handiest meadow, or back yard, seeking out the nearest garage to replenish their supply. What's more, they will follow this system throughout their journey. They are Maj. Ross Powell (left) and Lt. William J. Wallace.

NEW RECORD SET BY PONTIAC SIX

Another record has been added to the laurels of the Pontiac six. This time it's one of endurance and of speed—while many motor car engineers' claim could only have been established by a car built to withstand strains not ordinarily placed on it by the owner.

"Pontiac's latest achievement is a new round trip record between Oklahoma City, Okla., and San Antonio, Tex., a distance of 1070 miles," said George Ball, sales manager for Cadillac Garage company, distributors in Santa Ana territory for the Pontiac.

"The round trip was made in the fast running time of 22 hours, 21 minutes, an average of 47.87 miles per hour," Ball continued.

"It is interesting to note that the run from Oklahoma City to San Antonio was made in 11 hours, 25 minutes, while the return journey required only 10 hours, 56 minutes. The difference of 29 minutes in the time recorded for the two legs of the trip is attributed principally to wind conditions. As a matter of fact, the trip was made under exceptionally unfavorable conditions, over hilly country and muddy roads, and with a strong head wind during the entire run to the Texas city.

"The car was piloted by Leo Rice, of Oklahoma City, and his time checked by Western Union officials at both cities. In addition, Guy Webb, a newspaper man from Oklahoma City, rode with him as an observer.

The record is the third made within a comparatively short time by the Pontiac.

RADIO USED IN HUNT FOR DEAD GIRL'S MOTHER

Efforts were being made today by radio and through the forest ranger service in the Oregon mountains to locate Mrs. L. A. Lawton, mother of Miss Eunice Lawton, 17, of Huntington Beach, who died in the Santa Ana Valley hospital yesterday morning.

The girl well known in Santa Ana, where she attended high school, and in Huntington Beach, where she also was a high school student, died of pneumonia, contracted two days ago. According to reports, the girl had been on a vacation trip to Catalina Island. Returning on the boat she became seasick and the complications resulting led to her death.

Mrs. Lawton is vacationing in the mountains in Oregon with her sister and efforts to locate her have been unavailing. Radio service was used last night and today and rangers will be asked to assist in locating the mother today. The father is Lou A. Lawton, former billiard parlor proprietor of Santa Ana and now a resident of Huntington Beach. Funeral services will be announced later.

This was nearly half of the month's total. The number of permits issued during August was 101.

VAN NUYS—Nobody walks in San Fernando valley. Everybody rides, and if not in his own auto, at least in the family car. New figures show that there is an automobile for every family of five members in the valley, if the recent population estimate of 75,000 inhabitants is correct. According to present records, there are 15,430 autos, from the highest priced to Fords, in the valley areas. They are distributed as follows: Van Nuys, 3575; Burbank, 4111; Lankershim, 3005; San Fernando, 2828; Owensmouth, 934; Saugus, 415; Reseda, 325; Chatsworth, 232; and Girard, 45.

PACKARD ANNOUNCES NEW IMPROVED SIX

Superior performance, greater beauty, greater comfort and added protection of precision are claimed by the Packard Motor Car company for the Packard six through improvements to the car which have just been announced.

In appearance a refinement in beauty is noticeable but, in keeping with Packard's policy, there is no drastic change to make it a new model. The most noticeable feature to the driver is the increase in power and the resulting unusual performance. The company says the improved six will out-perform, in traffic and speed, any Packard car ever built, except the Packard eight.

Because of the growing tendency of motor car owners to cover great distances and to spend more and more time in their cars, the utmost in comfort is demanded by the public and Packard asserts some of the present changes incorporated into the six with this in mind have brought maximum ease of riding. Lines of the enclosed bodies have been lowered somewhat and the roof line has been extended beyond the windshield to give a permanent visor. Head lamps have been made the same in appearance as those used on the Packard eight and other changes in body lines have, it is declared, enhanced the beauty of the car which before had been a winner in a number of European beauty contests. Many points of refinement in beauty and comfort are found in the body interiors.

A combination of new motor head with a changed form of combustion chamber, new intake and exhaust manifolds, new spark and valve timing and redesigned carburetor has resulted in an increase of nearly 40 per cent in power, giving the six now more than 80 actual brake horsepower. Because of the increase in power the clutch has been made more rugged. A new form of rear axle gears which, it is said by the company, will prove as revolutionary as the spiral bevel gears when they were first adopted years ago by Packard, has been adopted.

Women Are Big Stockholders In Santa Fe Railway

The Santa Fe railroad has more women stockholders than men. In a bulletin issued by S. T. Bledsoe, general counsel, on authority of President W. B. Storey, it is shown that 30,083 women, who own 955,357 shares, are on the books of the company, compared with 25,939, who hold 1,375,934 shares.

The bulletin significantly remarks "that having passed in numbers our men stockholders, it seems not improbable that the women may, before long, own more shares than are owned by the men."

The largest single owner of shares in the Santa Fe is one of the leading educational institutions of this country—26,100 shares. This is only about three-fourths of one per cent of the total outstanding, the bulletin states.

The Santa Fe has outstanding 3,555,223 shares of capital stock of a par value of $100 each and an aggregate par value of $355,522,300 owned by 63,933 shareholders, of which 1,241,728 shares are preferred, and 2,324,095 common, states the counsel. Of the stockholders, each of the 48 states and the district of Columbia, Hawaii, Philippines, Porto Rico, Canal Zone and 35 other countries are represented. Individuals own 2,371,291, or 66 per cent of the total stock outstanding. The remaining 34 per cent is held by fiduciaries, estates, insurance companies, educational and scientific institutions, religious organizations, savings banks, trust companies and business firms.

A woman owns the largest number of shares held by an individual—16,045 shares. Five per cent is paid on Santa Fe preferred stock and seven per cent on common stock, the report concludes.

Berkeley Savant Is Highly Honored

BERKELEY, Sept. 4.—Dr. W.W. Campbell, president of the University of California and one of the world's leading scientists, has been elected to the Royal Academy of the Lincei, in Rome, as a foreign member of the astronomy, geodesy and geophysics section of world research.

The savant, before assuming duties at the California institution, was for 22 years a director of Lick observatory.

PEDDLER IS 81

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 4.—Uncle James Kennedy, 81, veteran of the Civil war, twice wounded in action, is still busy. Kennedy was in Cedar Rapids recently on his way from his home in Vinton. He was toting two heavy suitcases in which he carries his store of wares.

45 APPLICANTS GIVEN SCHOOL CERTIFICATES

Forty-five teachers and applicants for teaching positions in the public schools of the state, having complied with all requirements, were granted teaching certificates for their respective grades at the regular meeting of the county board of education, held this morning at the Hall of Records.

In addition to furnishing satisfactory credentials from universities, colleges and other training institutions, the candidates for certificates were required to pass an examination on the United States Constitution and its principles.

Certificates were issued as follows:

Elementary—Maxine Mildred Zolman, Santa Ana; Naomi Pauline Zolman, Santa Ana; Edna S. Elliott, Anaheim; Irene Louise Leon, La Habra; Edith R. Hoag Manley, Montrose; Lucie Margaret McDermott, Santa Ana; Dorothy Sohrelweide Oliver, Ontario; Ruth Miller Langley, Santa Ana; Myra Anna Miller, Los Angeles; Opal E. Mowder, Los Angeles; Carolyn Worth Strong, Briggs; Marie Stevens Hogue, Garden Grove; Mildred Virginia Lee, Fullerton; Laura Eleanor Ross, Los Angeles; Elizabeth Wagner, Tustin; Hazel Marie Coleman, Fullerton; Janey Lillian Van der Veer, Anaheim; Vera Elliot McKnight, Buena Park; Alma Schubert, Long Beach; Helen D. Hay, Slip, Pasadena; Kathryn Viola Ryan, Santa Ana; Marjorie E. Dudley, Santa Ana; and Thelma M. Andrews, Los Angeles.

Junior high—Norma Hortense Newman, Los Angeles; Catherine Olive Phillips, Anaheim; and Alma Emma Marie Becker, (certificate covering both junior high and elementary) Pasadena.

Administration certificate, for position as superintendent or principal—Marian Fanny Bragg, Santa Ana.

Special certificates, secondary grades—Ester Fanner Long, pre-vocational, domestic science; Lois Melissa Cleland, physical education; Edna May Abbey, music; Helen Marie Moore, music; Maurine Newton Sims, library.

Kindergarten, primary—El Doris Fenner Wood, Margaret Ellen Carson, Marjorie Ruth Hunt Harding, Mignonne Walbridge Goodard, Helen Marguerite Jacobson and Clar Koth.

Strong-armed baseball fans who attend the National league games in St. Louis may no longer indulge in the sport of bottle throwing. Soda pop at Sportsman's park is now served in paper cups.

Lice and Mites Easily Cleaned Out

A quick end to lice and mites without dusting, spraying, greasing or dipping. All you need do is dissolve occasionally a tablet of a new homeopathic discovery called LIMISAN in the drinking water. In a few days lice and mites disappear as if by magic.

LIMISAN is a homeopathic preparation, tasteless, colorless, odorless. It does not in any way affect the eggs or flesh. It is positively non-poisonous, and keeps your flock free from all blood-sucking pests, as they will not attack a fowl that drinks LIMISAN. "It not only rids the hens, but the hen house of vermin," writes a Virginia poultryman. From Calif: "Before using I couldn't go near the nests without getting them all over me."

A full season's supply for the average flock can be had for only $1.00. (C. O. D. plus post from the F. W. Webster Co., Dept. N-213, Forest Ave., Kansas City, Mo. In addition, they will send you free, a sample of IN-CRE-SO to make hens thrifty and active and keep them laying. Don't put up with lice, mites, blue-bugs, etc., a day longer. Clean them out in this easy, new way. Have huskier chicks, healthier fowls, get many times the eggs. Money back, if not delighted.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PRESENT PROGRAM

An appreciative audience gathered in the Frances E. Willard school last night to enjoy the program prepared under the direction of Cecil Fross Willits as a part of the city summer playground activity.

The following numbers made up the program:

Vocal solo, "The Tale of a Bear," Talk, by L. W. Archer, superintendent of playgrounds.

Skit, "Who's Afraid?" by Fay McCurdy, Dorothy Heiny and Harry Appling.

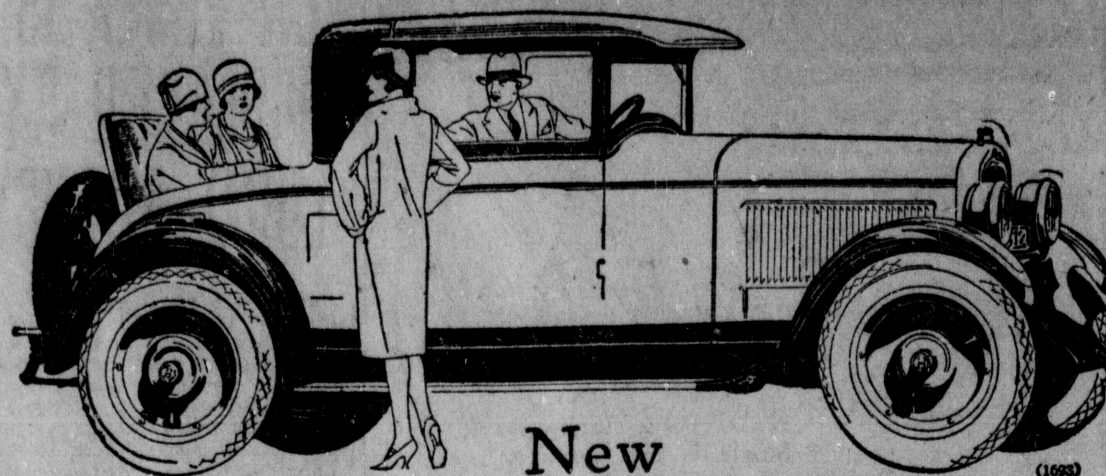

Dance, highland fling, by Ruth Waterbury, accompanied by Mrs. Lester Garden.

Readings, by Robert Harmon, Bee Evelyn Harmon and Dorothy Jane Taylor.

Dance and reading, by Betty Jane Graham.

Play, "Captain Kidd's Treasure," by Harry Appling, Edwin Bradley, Ralph Bradley, Floyd Best, Melmoth Stanley, Dorothy Jane Taylor, Zelma Smith, Fay McCurdy, Betty Jane Graham and Isabel McCormack.

Miss Esther Jacobson announced the numbers.

New Hupmobile Six 2 Passenger Coupe

Happy union of surpassing beauty with the practical and efficient.

For the woman who wants a car for her very own—smart elegance, good taste, grace, and superlative ease and safety in handling. For the man who daily drives his car in business as relentlessly as he drives himself, the time-proven Hupmobile appetite for punishment, and the finest six-cylinder performance brought down from high-cost levels. See this car and ask yourself where you would look for its equal.

of Special Interest

Velvety Duo finish—green below, with black upper body. Double bead with gold stripe. Seat 47 inches wide—ample for three persons. Rumble seat for two additional passengers. Rumble cushions removable, if you need all the storage space. Rear window can be lowered for chumminess and ventilation. Upholstery in hand-crushed leather, or velour, as you choose. Locks for golf bag door at side and for rear deck cover. Clear-vision body, with special vision-ventilating windshield. Oil filter, gasoline filter, dash gasoline gauge, transmission lock, automatic windshield cleaner, rear view mirror, rear signal light, snubbers, four-wheel brakes and balloon tires of course.

Hupmobile Six

CONFIDENCE built this Success

Modern Engineering Stable Balance
Straight Line Drive
Flashing Speed
Lightning Acceleration Amazing Power
Unequalled Flexibility

PROVED MERIT—attested to by over 100,000 owners—has built up an unprecedented success for this Overland Six.

Modernly engineered—it delivers the type of service that is without equal in its class.

Quality features such as are generally associated with cars in a higher price range are found in every detail of construction.

It will out-run, out-pull, out-perform any other car in its price or size class.

Long hard service in the hands of owners with astonishing mileages piled up in the first year of driving, is showing it to be a car of unusual stamina.

Based on this general satisfaction, present sales records are climbing to new heights. Today, the first choice among light sizes, based on experience and all-round satisfaction, is the Overland Six.

The high torque motor—this is an Overland feature; so is the low center of gravity—and the straight line drive—all highly important in general driving.

Try this car out—test it for the elements of performance which set it well ahead of any other in its class—prove that the features we claim for it are real—that you can get the benefit they offer.

HOW TO ANSWER BLIND

CLASSIFIED ADS

In answering blind addresses (for instance, L. Box 38, Register, or other similar addresses), please be careful to use the precise address given in the ad. Write address plainly. Letters brought to the Register office do not require stamps. Always enclose your answer in sealed envelope.

T. F. (TILL FORBID) ADS

If an advertiser who has made application for credit and opened an account with The Register Credit department in the Register form desires to have any "line" advertisement published continuously, he must sign a "T.F." order to that effect. An advertisement that has been published regularly until countermanded by written order.

BOX OFFICE REPLY

The Register postoffice department is conducted for the benefit of patrons who wish answers to come to the office. Advertisers are furnished with identification cards which must be presented at the Register office. For the protection of our patrons, replies are not given out except on presentation of box card.

No record is kept of the names and addresses of patrons using the Register postoffice, and therefore no information concerning these advertisers can be supplied. A charge is made for the words "Box A-24, care The Register."

FORTUNE NOTHING;

LOVE EVERYTHING

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The French liner Chicago brought a passenger whom Marie Kryl, young Chicago pianist, has preferred to $100,000.

The passenger was Spiro Hadji Kyriakos, Greek musician, to whom Miss Kryl became engaged in Berlin a year ago.

Bohumir Kryl, the girl's father, offered her $100,000 if she did not marry until she was 30. When she declared her intention of marrying Hadji Kyriakos, her father finally relented and said he would give her the money anyway. They will be married at Tarpon Springs, Fla., in a few days.

Miss Kryl met her fiance at the pier. Miss Kryl's sister gave up her career and $100,000 for a husband four years ago.

ARRESTS CLEAR

UP BURGLARIES

Seven boys, ranging in age from 7 to 14 years, were arrested today by city police and are being held in the county juvenile hall in connection with a series of burglaries, which have baffled police for several weeks.

City Marshal Claude Rogers said that in his opinion the arrest of the youths clears up the mystery of at least 10 burglaries in Santa Ana.

Several of the boys are said to have admitted to the police of robbing the Ralph Mosher home, 1428 North Spurgeon street; the M. A. Patton home, 1603 French street; the Hayden home, and the O. A. Haley home, 327 East Washington street.

They also are said to have robbed two homes near Orange and Walnut streets and a house on Garfield street. The boys said they did not know the names of the owners, police said.

Police announced that a small quantity of jewelry was recovered and a few old coins. No money, other than the coins, has been found.

That it will take several days for officers to uncover all of the crimes alleged to have been committed by the "gangs" was evident today. Rogers said that an investigation into each burglary will have to be made.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Aviation enthusiasts stick to it that the plane is no more dangerous than railroad trains or automobiles.

Reckless "stunt flyers," they contend, have most of the accidents—not the careful ones.

The fact remains that Lt. Cyrus K. Bettis of the army air service, who died as a result of a recent crash, and Com. John Rodgers, hero of the navy's San Francisco-Hawaii flight, who perished in a fall into the Delaware river, were not reckless flyers.

As army and navy men they took occasional risks which civil aviation ordinarily doesn't call for, but both prudent and highly experienced, they didn't take them unnecessarily.

They weren't taking them at the time of their respective falls. Two of the best flyers in the world, they simply crashed because, when anything goes seriously wrong with an airplane, nobody, regardless of his skill and courage, can defy gravity.

That, in brief, is the war and navy department's verdict on the Bettis and Rodgers accidents. The technical investigators' reports doubtless will be more complicated, but the above is the unofficial one, from a thoroughly well informed source.

A point may be reached where aviation accidents are, proportionately, no more numerous than those on the surface, but when there is one, it probably always will be more serious to its victims.

That, at any rate, is what competent army and navy military say.

The bitterest of the military air

service's complaints is that promotion isn't fast enough.

Naturally the question arises: Why isn't it just as fast in the air service as in the infantry or the artillery or the cavalry or any other branch?

The answers are divers and sundry, but they all boil down to this: A military aviator doesn't live long enough to be promoted at all unless he's promoted in a hurry.

There are military aviators who are getting on in years, like Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service at 63, but it's noteworthy that General Patrick won his pilot's wings at 60.

The way army and navy flyers describe it to me, aviation is about on a par with seamanship. In the old days before steam, and, of course, before radio communication.

One voyage was comparatively safe, but the sailor who kept at it long enough generally wound up in Davy Jones' locker.

Even then the merchantman's prospect of longevity was better than the man-of-war's man's, but at that, the former wasn't anything to brag about. Sooner or later he usually went on a lee shore, sprang a leak or a pirate overhauled him.

True, the ocean is safer today than Pennsylvania avenue.

Nobody knows what may be done for aviation. Military airmen are as ready as anybody to admit that the time may come when planes will be able to stop, miles above terra firma, and repair damages.

CALIFORNIA ORANGE

MARKET IS STEADY

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—(Office of the Fruit World)—Good quality, sound stock valuations held their own in both the auctions and private sale markets the past week, while on ordinary stock, showing decay and off small sizes, the market was generally lower.

Supplies enroute and on track have been materially reduced. The shipping schedule for the coming week calls for approximately the same number of cars as were moved the past week, viz: 539 cars, of which total approximately 75 cars were for export. Out of the coming week's shipments between 75 and 100 cars will be exported.

The shipping schedule for September and October of the 1925-26 season shows the following movement of valencies by weeks:

Week Ending Cars Val'cs
September 7 ..... 548
September 14 ..... 591
September 21 ..... 643
September 28 ..... 655
October 5 ..... 612
October 12 ..... 553
October 19 ..... 524
October 26 ..... 491
October 31 ..... 332

Total ..... 5659
The 1925-26 season offers the best basis for comparison because of the crop shortage in 1924-25 due to cold damage.

After the close of the season on October 31, 1924, there were approximately 800 cars of valencies remaining in the neighborhood of 50 cents a box. During the month of November, the remaining supply of valencies shipped after September 1, of the 1923-24 season was approximately 5000 cars. The estimate for the present season for the corresponding period is 6,000 cars.

4,500 Cars Shipped
Shipments of oranges to August 31, inclusive, this season totaled 44,020 cars. With the 6,000 cars estimated to go to September 31, the total crop will show in the neighborhood of 50,000 cars and will rank next in size to the 50,000 cars of the 1923-24 season, October 31. Of the approximate total of 50,000 cars this season, probably 400 to 500 cars will actually be carried over into November and will not

THE MONTH OF SEPTEMBER

September is always an interesting and an important month in Orange county. It is the month in which we complete our summer vacation period, when the drag of summer on business is released, when schools open for their fall terms, when numerous activities that have been suspended for two or three months are renewed.

This is one of our heaviest harvest months. September always holds a position of importance in the marketing of our Valencia oranges. It's sometimes an anxious month, to be sure, for those in charge of selling our fruit are getting along toward the time when they must have the whole crop picked and gone. Markets are watched tensely. The bean threshers are at work. All month long there'll be a race between the giant machines and the first heavy rain. If the bean men have their way about it, there will be sunshine and plenty of it every day now until late October. Walnuts are beginning to drop here and there, and September will find the harvest well along.

Schools all over the county are preparing to receive their hosts of young folk. Getting ready for school is an interesting time in nearly every home in which school children live. It takes the opening of school to impress upon us the tremendous consequence of the school in our daily life.

Now is the time to plan our winter campaigns in business, to size up the situation, to lay out our programs of work. Let's find out where we are going, and, having determined that important fact, direct our efforts along the line of achievement. The use that we make of the month of September is likely to be the measure of our success for the next six, eight or ten months. September, with many of us, is a far better month for resolutions than is January. The time fits better into our scheme of activities.

MODEST OLD AGE

America's oldest banker—probably the world's oldest—celebrated his 104th birthday recently at his home in Morristown, N. J., "serenely," as a patriarch should.

This remarkable old gentleman, John A. Stewart, who was a friend and adviser of Abraham Lincoln, and who is still alert and actively engaged in banking, announced on his 100th birthday that he would give no more birthday interviews, and has kept his word.

That was a wise resolution. It is customary nowadays for reporters to interview aged persons on their natal days, and the public seems to expect it. But the results, on the whole, have been disappointing. The octogenarians and nonagenarians and centenarians nearly always tell the world how to attain to a similar age, and their testimony is so conflicting that ambitious young contestants for longevity honors are sadly puzzled. Most of their dissertations, for which reporters are likely to blame, emphasize trivial habits and ideas.

The truth seems to be that persons of exceptional age probably don't know how or why they have attained it, any more than others know.

PACIFIST STEEL

It is good to hear Baron von Krupp, who will control the great German "steel trust" some day, saying that he is opposed to warfare and therefore will never use his great steel plants to manufacture munitions. If the steel magnates of the world agreed on this, future wars would be impossible.

Yet it is not entirely reassuring. Aside from the fact that other steel works, in Germany and elsewhere, might not agree, there is always the chance that an idealist like young Krupp might change his mind. When religious people almost invariably take sides in case of war, or mere threats of war, and use their spiritual ammunition in behalf of their own country, what is to be expected of steel men?

THE PERIL OF EATING

Dr. John T. Buckley of the University of Southern California says people's physical ailments are caused mostly by over-indulgence in food and drink, anger, worry and lack of personal hygiene.

He does not place emphasis on the drink, either, bad as that is. He corroborates the dictum of Chauncey Depew, that "most people dig their graves with their teeth." He tells the international dental congress: "A constitutional amendment restricting people's eating is more important than that restricting their drinking."

It would be hard to get, though, and still harder to enforce. People have been eating longer than drinking, and are more addicted to it.

MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Many people find a sob in the story of the mother blackbird who was dashed to death with her five fledglings when she refused to desert them.

The mother and her brood nested high up on the girders of an old bridge across a river of Ohio. Wreckers razing the bridge sought to drive the mother away before the last hook of the giant mechanical ax sent the bridge hurtling into the river 80 feet below.

But the mother bird would not stir, clinging to the nest, calling out in that weird cry of terror which sometimes birds, always mute before, can bring forth.

The poets and mother idealists find a tear and parallel here for the glory of motherhood. They are right. Nothing in the whole world equals the eternal devotion and stand-by-ness of mothers.

Dining On Air

Pasadena Post

In relation to the future food supply chemists are saying that it may be derived directly from the air. The product will be synthetic, snatched from the light of the sun, and the nitrogen of the atmosphere.

It may be said without desire to reflect on the science of chemistry, to remark that the people of a practical world, accustomed to setting their teeth into substance grown on the surface of the earth or in the water, are likely to fail to be impressed by these claims. Common folk would first have to be wrought into a receptive state of mind by realizing the possibility that the globe was not bringing forth enough to sustain its inhabitants or was proceeding towards such a condition.

Chemistry has done wonders. It has enriched the soil. It has added to the variety of products, and extent it may go in these quickening processes there given them additional nutritive elements. To what is no knowing. In contemplation of what has been accomplished, the mind of mortal would not presume to set a theoretical limit. The form and even the character of the sustenance upon which the race ultimately must depend remains for the present conjectural.

However, that food is to be taken directly from the air, as water is taken from a well, overtaxes the credulity of this generation. Far more likely does it seem that new foods will be developed from plant and animal life now regarded as waste. The food value of the growth of all foodstuffs will be vastly stimulated, so that the capacity of each acre as now understood, shall be but a small part of its capacity as urged on by scientific methods.

Congratulations To Young

Fresno Republican

The nomination of C. C. Young as governor of California is sufficiently assured by the latest returns to be accepted. Congratulations can now be offered to those who pledged to the people their assurance that he will make a good governor, as well as to Mr. Young himself. As the Republican nomination is almost a guaranty of election as governor, Mr. Young's success can be discussed on that basis.

Probably no man has ever been elected governor of California with a wider acquaintance than has Mr. Young, both with masses of voters and particularly with those who take part in state governmental affairs.

That he should be elected governor under this circumstance is a remarkable tribute to him, as well as a very great asset to his administration, even though it is countered by the fact that he is in a sense "minority" governor. That fact becomes almost meaningless the moment a man is elected. The very fact of success, if sufficiently understood ahead of time, would have diverted to him many thousands of votes, as they would have been diverted at once to Richardson had he attained a plurality. Mr. Young now becomes the Republican candidate for governor, with all the prestige that that nomination gives him. Unless something remarkable happens he will take his seat as chief executive of California next November.

Not only is Mr. Young the best known man ever so far to be selected as governor of California, but he is the man among them best fitted by his experience for the position. Eighteen years of continuous contacts with the problems of the state, as a member and an executive administrative officer of the legislature have given him a thorough acquaintance with the alternatives that present themselves to the governor. Mr. Richardson had only such acquaintance with them as any active citizen would have who had particular duties had given him for some years an office at Sacramento. Mr. Stephens became governor virtually by appointment and his previous official service had been entirely at Washington. Mr. Johnson had no familiarity with state details at all before being elected governor. Mr. Gillette was a member of Congress, with no Sacramento experience. Mr. Pardee was an Oakland physician and local citizen. And so one could go back for many years.

If there is anything in being "wise for the job" Mr. Young should be there.

Mr. Young has as few enemies as any man in public life in California. He will enter upon his official position—providing only that that miracle does not happen, the election of a Democrat or of some independent candidate for the office—with every presumed advantage. Even those men and women who have opposed him for the position will have a friendly attitude.

He will find his chief problem and his chief difficulty in tactfully dealing with his political "friends" rather than with his enemies. Mr. Young has had very powerful "support." Many of these gentlemen are persons who know exactly what they want and are of the temperament who do not hesitate to ask for it. The extent to which he is "governor of California" in the full sense of the word will depend very materially on the way in which he finds he can deal with these supporters.

FRESH AIR IS TREATMENT FOR BENZINE POISONING

Benzine is widely used in the home and in industry because it will dissolve rubber and gum and resins of various kinds. It is involved in the blending of motor fuels. It is used in chemical industries for extracts of oils and dyes, and in the manufacture of paints, varnishes and stains, and of paint and varnish removers.

In the artificial leather manufacture, in sanitary can manufacture and in dry cleaning, benzol or benzene is constantly employed because of its solvent properties. In the manufacture of rubber tires, it forms an important constituent of rubber cement. It is not surprising, since it is so poisonous and so widely used, that it produces cases of disease in considerable numbers.

In some instances employees are acutely asphyxiated through entering tanks which contained benzol, but most of the cases concern persons who are gradually poisoned by small doses of the benzene inhaled during the course of their work.

Medical literature supplies the records of hundreds of cases of chronic poisoning with this substance. A study of these cases indicates that the condition occurs with great frequency in cold weather, when ventilation is reduced by the closing of windows and doors.

Young girls seem especially predisposed to serious symptoms following the inhaling of benzene, as are also pregnant women. A person who is becoming gradually poisoned with this substance is likely to complain first of headache, dizziness, loss of appetite, ready fatigue and general weakness. Later, there may be nausea and vomiting and sensations of chilliness, with bleeding from the nose and mouth or other mucous membranes. Sometimes bloody spots appear beneath the skin.

If the course is very gradual the nervous system may also be affected and serious disturbances of sensation and locomotion may develop. The significant change in the body is the manner in which the benzene attacks the blood. The number of white blood cells begin to decrease and simultaneously there is a breaking up of the red blood cells.

Just as soon as this condition is diagnosed, the person should change his employment, preferably to open air work, since the important factor is to remove him from contact with the poison. The physician will treat the severe cases of poisoning by rest, fresh air and sunshine, and by food substances planned particularly to build up the blood system. If the case is extremely severe, it is sometimes desirable to transfuse blood so as to supply the deficiency promptly.

Speaking of Channel Swims

Southwest Prospers

Pasadena Star-News

The Southwest is prospering. Its railroads are developing, and are enjoying a healthy volume of business. Agriculture is doing well. Oil production is a big factor in the thriving of this section. This good report of economic conditions in this section was made to President Coolidge by Matthew C. Brush, of New York, president of the American International Corporation and a director of several Western railroads.

The visitor to this state and section, who has expert knowledge of conditions in general and who is a keen observer, discerns the status of things even better than those who live here and who are active in the midst of these prosperous circumstances. A mountain is best viewed from a distance, rather than close up. So the outsider, viewing conditions from a detached standpoint, and going all over this state and section, gets a comprehensive impression, without local bias.

It is very gratifying to read so many interviews with influential railroad men, captains of industry and finance, and economic experts, expressing satisfaction with conditions in this great section, and blending in predictions of a bright future for California and the Southwest.

AMONG THE HILLS

Peace waits among the hills;
I have drunk peace
Here, where the blue air fills
The great cup of the hills,
And fills with peace.

Between the earth and sky,
I have seen the earth
Like a dark cloud go by,
And fade out of the sky;
There was no more earth.

Here, where the Holy Graal
Brought secret light
Once, from beyond the veil,
I, seeing no Holy Graal,
See divine light.

Light fills the hills with God,
Wind with His breath,
And here, in His abode,
Light, wind and air praise God,
And this poor breath.

PONDER ON THESE FIGURES

The phenomenal growth of the business of Los Angeles harbor, is, of itself, a strong argument in favor of going ahead with the work of developing a harbor in Orange county.

Some idea of the growth of the business of the Los Angeles harbor may be had from these facts: During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, a total of 6417 ships entered Los Angeles harbor, or 561 more ships than during the preceding year.

According to the annual report of the harbor commissioners, the value of harbor commerce exceeded that of the previous year by $12,607,741.

The total value of the year's harbor business is given as $804,041,311.

PRAYER NOT ENOUGH—Tenko

It may be that the gentleman is right, and that "prayer is labor," but, in this country the good citizen is one who provides himself with a steady job other than prayer. Indeed, he has to do this if he expects to keep away from the "poor farm."

REMEMBER THE DAY—Saturday

September 25, will be the day which will be observed as "Forget-Me-Not Day," the annual occasion of remembering disabled war veterans with financial assistance. The appeal for a liberal response in the observance of this day has just been issued by John V. Clemen, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

All funds given by the public on September 25 will be devoted to rehabilitation work among the disabled veterans, and it is hoped that the public will respond generously to this worthy cause of assisting our disabled veterans.

The cause is a worthy one, indeed, there can be none more worthy. So please remember that Saturday, September 25, is "Forget-Me-Not Day" and do your part toward making the life of those boys who suffered in their country's cause just a little happier, just a little more tolerable.

IN TIMELY WARNING—Now

that the primary election is disposed of, it will be well for the voters to give some thought to the matters of grave concern to be voted on at the general election in November.

There's a lot of them, too. There is our old friend "Single Tax," masquerading under a new suit and different name but he is the same in other respects.

There's the proposition to annul the Wright act, so-called, which is simply an effort on the part of the water to make it still harder to enforce prohibition.

Then there is the Water and Power act—a proposition to bond the state for $500,000,000 to try some Utopian and visionary experiments relating to water and power development by the state.

There's more of these propositions, no doubt, but these three are especially bad. So get ready to vote "no" on them.

NEVER AGAIN—If this column

is lacking in interest this week, please do not blame the writer—blame conditions.

Too much politics, too much, entirely too much, reading of the political prognostications put forth right up until the eve of election by the Los Angeles Times and Express.

Both the papers named had Governor Richardson nominated by a plurality running from one hundred thousand to three hundred thousand. Neither conceded any chance whatever to any candidate except Governor Richardson. It was going to be in, fact it was, practically unanimous.

And this writer read it all, absorbed it all, and thought of course it was of the square and "inside information," so to speak. Now he finds that he could do a much better job doing out the political situation and its probable results if dependent entirely upon himself. That's what he'll do, after this.

POLITICAL ESTIMATING

DONE HERE—Far be it from the writer to claim for himself any wonderful standing as a political prognosticator of sorts. Nevertheless, here is what would seem to be proof that he can do a fairly good job along that line. The Los Angeles Times offered prizes amounting to $100 for the closest and best estimate sent in of the vote to be cast at the primary election.

The writer gave Young as the winner with a total vote of 302,975. As this is written (Thursday morning) the returns compiled by the Associated Press show Young to be leading by some 11,000 votes, with a total vote of 304,657.

With more than 800,000 votes cast for the various candidates, both Republican and Democratic, that would seem to be a fairly good job at estimating.

NO SENSE OF HUMOR—The

Los Angeles Times has been advertising an offer of prizes for jokes, and, when the conductor of this highly moral column sent in a summary of Tuesday's gubernatorial election returns, he was rewarded a money or any other kind of prize. Trouble with the Times people is that they are entirely lacking in knowledge of what constitutes a good joke.

Danger in Electric Shocks

Accidents which frequently result in death would be rarer if the public understood the first principles of electrical engineering.

There is a well known story in which a woman asked a tramway man whether she would receive a shock if she should put her foot on the rails. The reply was that she would not, providing she kept her other foot off the overhead wire. Many have laughed over this story, but few know that it is technically correct.

It is not true to say that were anyone to step on a "live" rail he would most certainly be killed. Were he to step with both feet on the live rail and take care not to touch another rail or the earth, he would be as safe as if standing in his drawing room. The point is that before any damage can be done circuit has to be completed, and in order to complete a circuit one must touch two things at once.

The danger lies in the fact that it is impossible not to walk about the earth without being nearly always in contact with one side of an electric circuit. Take the live rail, for instance. While no one is advised to try the experiment, anyone wearing rubber soles and heels and standing on dry ground would be in very little danger if he stepped on a live rail, even though one foot was on the ground. On a wet day a person who did anything so foolish would court death.

This brings one to a curious, but widespread error about the power of the volt to do damage. In a report regarding a new power station it was recently stated that "the current of ten thousand volts there generated was sufficient to wipe out many thousands of persons." Has anyone yet been killed by touching a spark plug on a motor car while the engine was running? and yet a voltage of ten thousand is quite common there.

It is not volts that kill, it is current. One would not be knocked down by a scent spray which squirted out a stream of liquid at two hundred pounds pressure, but if a fire hose delivered water at that pressure it would be impossible to stand against it.

Danger to life may occur in two ways, by burning and by stoppage of the heart through shock to the nervous system. One may get badly burnt from a house supply, but unless the electricity was able to reach the body under ideal conditions, as in the bath, there is seldom real danger from shock to normal healthy persons. The consequences are merely unpleasant.

Orange County Fair to Open Doors Monday

County Exhibits to be Displayed In New Home of Fair

BE BIGGEST IN SHOW HISTORY

Thousands Expected to See Colorful Displays; New Grounds on Highway

LEGION TO SPONSOR
FIRST DAY PROGRAM

Entertainment to Include Thrilling Rodeo, Racing and Steer Roping Events

With every division augmented and with several high class program features added, notably a horse show, the tenth annual Orange county fair will throw open the gates at 10 a. m., Monday, September 6, to run for a week. The 1926 county exposition is expected to be the biggest and best in the history of the fair. The event will be held on the new location, on the state highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana.

The program for the first day will be sponsored by the Orange county council of the American Legion. The million dollar stock parade will officially open the entertainment features in the arena in front of the grandstand. The American Legion has arranged special events and in addition a number of thrilling rodeo events, including wild horse riding and steer roping, are on the books.

In the evening the historical allegory, "The Birth of an Empire," will be given for the first time under the direction of Holly Lash Visel, of Orange. The best singers, dancers and actors of Orange county will take part. The pageant, written by Miss Jennie E. Lashby and A. M. Stanley, of Santa Ana depicts the history of Orange county, dating from the days of the Indians, before the arrival of the padres. James Duggan will act as King Valencia and Audrey Isbell Peterson will be seen as Queen Placencia.

Four Tents House Fair
The fair is housed in four large tents, representing a canvas enclosure of 130,000 square feet. There are 32 community and school exhibits in the feature tent, including exhibits entered by the San Bernardino orange show and the Southern California fair at Riverside.

One thousand rabbits will be seen in the rabbit division. Two thousand chickens and pigeons have been entered and in the kennel show 100 prize canines will be on display.

A number of the best hunters and jumpers in Pacific coast horse circles will be seen in the horse show, including the famous Easter Star and Hotentot, both of which horses have won first prizes in national competition. Ruby and Bowers, of Portland, Ore., have unloaded 40 head of fine Clydesdales and Belgians. Two beautiful six-horse teams of grays will perform in front of the grandstand every afternoon and evening.

A special loud speaking device has been installed so that the announcements may be heard distinctly at all points of the fair grounds. "Doc" Pardee, of Phoenix, Ariz., will act as official announcer.

Juniors Have Own Tent
Raymond Ellis, assistant farm advisor, and Roland Dye, Boy Scout executive, will be in charge of the special junior fair in which the competition will be restricted to boys and girls.

The quarter-mile race track has been put in excellent shape for the fair races. Spectators will have

MOUNT VERNON IS REPRODUCED IN FAIR BOOTH

One of the most interesting exhibits at the Orange County fair this year will be the replica of George Washington's home at Mount Vernon, which will be shown by the Tustin farm center. The exhibit will be made completely of fruit and vegetables grown in Tustin, according to A. H. Holford, who is in charge of the display.

The Tustin space will occupy a commanding position on the south side of the feature tent at the fair and will be approximately 20 feet square. The Washington home, which will occupy the center of the exhibit, will be approximately four feet square and will be made of walnuts. The mansion will be set in the center of a miniature orange grove, the trees being real oranges grown by a Tustin nurseryman. The hill upon which the house will be located will be made of all kinds of fruits grown in the Tustin district.

A drive winding up to the residence will be paved with black eye beans. A border of radishes will set off the walks and drives to advantage. A roof made of carrots grown in the Tustin district, will give the appearance of tile, and a beet will provide a chimney for the home. Avocados will take the place of rocks in a pond in front of the house, and celery will be used as lamp posts in the various sections of the estate.

The people of Tustin co-operated in making the exhibit one of the finest at the fair in an effort to win one of the excellent prize cups which are offered in the feature tent. A crew of workmen, under the direction of Holford, will start this afternoon on the exhibit and will have it completed for the opening of the show Monday morning.

Clubs Respond To Appeal for Fair Trophies

Service clubs and chambers of commerce of Orange county are responding well to the request of the fair association for cups and plaques to be presented in the various departments of the 1926 fair to be held September 6-11, inclusive.

The Santa Ana chamber of commerce, the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, the Santa Ana Rotary club, the Orange community chamber of commerce, the Newport Beach city council, and the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce are among those who have answered the appeal.

DANCING GIRLS WHO WILL APPEAR IN PAGEANT, 'THE BIRTH OF AN EMPIRE'

INDIAN RELICS TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR

Queerly carved stones, clay pipes, grinders, rubbing stones, baskets, bows and arrows—these are but a few of the interesting relics that are being assembled by Robert C. Northcross of Santa Ana for the California Indian exhibit that is to be placed in the county fair tent at the fair.

"These articles are gathered from all over the county," said Northcross. "Many of them were picked up on old Indian camp sites in this county. Altogether they offer an interesting and instructive study of the primitive life of the early people of this state."

Northcross said that he would like to get in touch with anyone who has articles that might be added to the exhibit. His telephone number is Santa Ana 1217R.

Nine days have been cut from the traveling time between Mongolia, India, and Kharum, in British East Africa, with the opening of a new 800-mile motor road between the two cities.

Special Features Are Planned for Each Day of Fair

Every day will be a special feature day at the Orange County fair. The first day will be dedicated to the American Legion. The second day will be sponsored by the women's clubs. The third day will be sponsored by the service clubs of the county. Thursday, the Orange County Parent-Teacher associations will be honored and Friday will be dedicated to the poultry fanners and rabbit dealers. Saturday is official day, when all of the office holders and candidates, the members of the farm bureau and chambers of commerce, will be present.

Riverside Fair to Enter Big Exhibit

A massive exhibit will be entered in the Orange county fair competition by the Southern California Fair association, of Riverside, according to a letter received this week by the Orange county management.

ORANGE COUNTY FAIR TO OPEN DOORS MONDAY

The advantage of seeing the horses pass the grandstand twice. The horse show is to alternate with the historical pageant as the feature event of the six days. Moving picture persons, including several western stars, will take part, riding their own famous mounts. On the last day of the fair, Miss Irene Reed, of Hollywood, a motion picture actress, taking leading parts in western dramas, will ride one of the gaited horses, probably Easter Star, as the representative of the Santa Ana Junior chamber of commerce. Miss Reed is one motion picture actress who does not require a double in her riding scenes, inasmuch as she was virtually "raised in the saddle" on the Texas plains.

A bathing girls' parade will also be a feature of the closing night. Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce, has received entries from all Southland beaches. A splendid silver trophy will be given to the winner. Division prizes will also be awarded. Newspapersmen will act as judges.

Competition in all departments has been opened to the world, with the exception of the horticultural and agricultural divisions. A Santa Ana bank will maintain a branch at the fair, in the industrial tent, for the accommodation of visitors.

Orange county newspaper men and job printers will print a daily paper, featuring news and pictures of the fair, during the week. A Santa Ana newspaper man will be in charge. The idea of the newspaper is to demonstrate the quality of Orange county job printing and to furnish information concerning the programs from day to day.

Special days have been set aside as follows: Monday, September 6, American Legion; Tuesday, September 7, Federated Women's clubs of Orange county day; Wednesday, September 8, Orange county service clubs day; Thursday, September 9, Orange County Parent-Teachers' association day; Friday, September 10, Long Beach day, Rabbit Breeders' of Southern California day; Saturday, September 11, official day, beach cities day; grand stake events in horse show, bathing girls parade.

Each evening, during the entire week, at 6:30 o'clock, each organization sponsoring the day will give a banquet. Special entertainment has been provided for the banquets by the Garden Grove Women's club.

Preceding the production of the pageant Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, there will be a spectacular display of pyrotechnics. Harry Welch, of Newport Beach, is in charge of the feature, which is new to Orange county fairs.

On Friday the Long Beach municipal band will offer a special program, featuring Iowa songs.

Pigeons, used in carrying messages on the western front in the World war, will be seen in the pigeon division, in charge of Charles C. Clark, of Fullerton. Rabbits of every known variety will be on display at the fair, according to H. R. Howell, of Santa Ana, chairman of the division. A special parade of pretty models, adorned with garments made from fur, will be held Friday afternoon.

William A. Griffith, artist, of Laguna Beach, will be in charge of the special display of pictures from the art colony. A first, second and third prize, $100, $50 and $25, respectively, will be offered for the best three works of art in the exhibition, regardless of subject. Five honorable mention awards will be given.

The Orange County Historical society will enter a special display of articles, largely Indian relics. This exhibit will be in charge of Robert Northcross, of Santa Ana. This is the first year the fair has featured this department.

Balto, hero of the dash to Nome, Alaska, with the diphtheria antitoxin, and Rin-Tin-Tin, famous German police dog, made famous in motion pictures, are expected to be on exhibit in the kennel show. Harold Lloyd is also expected to enter several of his prize canines. Ted Cook, Los Angeles column conductor, may also enter several of his racing whippets.

DIRECTS DANCERS

Miss Claire Coutant, who has been unusually busy during the last few weeks directing the dancers who will appear in "The Birth of an Empire," one of the leading features of the Orange County fair.

BLANDING DIRECTOR OF FLORAL DISPLAY

Floral exhibits at the Orange County fair will be in charge of Arthur Blanding, of the Blanding nurseries, Santa Ana. Blanding today requested floriculturists of the county to enter their best flowers for the prizes to be awarded in about half a dozen divisions. He is particularly anxious to obtain choice dahlias, zinnias, asters, chrysanthemums, marigolds and begonias.

A $5 cash prize has been offered by Baker's bakery of Santa Ana for the best collection of house plants. Persons who wish to exhibit flowers should telephone Blanding at Santa Ana, telephone number 1374, to make arrangements for their entries.

The landscaping on the front of the fair grounds, between Anaheim and Santa Ana, on the state highway, was started today under Blanding's direction. His company is donating the shrubs and providing a fish pond. The construction of the entrance itself was furnished by the Foster and Kleiser company free of charge to the fair board.

Space for 700 Cars Provided

Parking space for 700 cars will be provided within the fair grounds, with attendants in charge at all times. Additional parking spaces will be operated outside the fair grounds at a uniform price. All parking space under the fair association will be charged at a rate of 25 cents a car.

VEGETABLE AND FRUIT EXHIBIT IS ATTRACTIVE

A variety of fruits and vegetables typical of every nation in the world will be shown at the Orange County fair in the agricultural booth, according to announcement today by George T. Kellogg, of Yorba Linda, who is in charge of the exhibit.

For the past several years the agricultural display at the fair has been one of the most interesting attractions. The fertility of the soil and climatic conditions of the county have made it possible to produce almost anything in the county that is grown anywhere in the world.

Special attractions will feature the exhibit, including branches loaded with oranges, walnuts and other major crops of the county. The display will also include beets, beans, nuts, citrus fruits, pears, peaches, all garden products, and many tropical fruits and vegetables which are grown in the county. Fresh fruits and vegetables will also be on display.

Believed to be the oldest in the world, a cricket bat made 170 years ago is being exhibited in London.

MASTER PAINTINGS WILL BE EXHIBITED

An exhibit of fine arts, which will include a number of master paintings by artists in all parts of the world, will be a special feature of the Orange County fair, according to William A. Griffith, prominent Laguna Beach artist.

The art exhibit at the fair is expected to bring art lovers from all sections of California to the exposition. Prominent among the exhibits will be paintings by well-known artists who reside in Laguna Beach. Laguna Beach rapidly is becoming known for its artists and with the fame of the artists spreads the desire of the public to see their works.

The art exhibit will be housed in a special tent. Prominent artists have been selected to act as judges and a special guard will be in the tent at all times to protect the valuable paintings. According to Griffith, the exhibit this year will include a number of new paintings by artists who have only recently acquired fame.

The average size of women's shoes has increased from 4-1-2 to 6-1-2 in the last six years, according to a recent report to the National Shoe Retailers' association. Changes in style and the participation of women in athletics is held partly responsible.

HIGH CLASSED RABBITS TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR

An entrance fee of $1 for every rabbit entered in the Orange County fair rabbit department is expected to bring to the fair only the highest class of rabbits, according to H. R. Howell, who is in charge of the rabbit department.

The rabbit men of the county, at a recent convention, decided that an entrance fee of $1 should be charged for every rabbit shown at the fair. It was pointed out that in this way the number of rabbits would be reduced and that only prize winning rabbits would be entered, as no person would pay $1 to enter a rabbit which would have no chance of winning a prize.

Approximately 600 rabbits will be shown at the fair, according to Howell. The tent should draw a great deal of attention due to the high class rabbits to be shown. The rabbits will range from the high priced fur bearing rabbits to the common pets and prizes have been arranged for each class.

R. S. Howland and A. M. Stodel, of Los Angeles, will act as judges for the rabbit department. A special group of rabbits, raised by children, also will be judged.

When Liverpool cathedral is finished it will be the second largest church in Christendom.

Mosquitoes are more apt to bite people with fair skins than those with dark complexions.

County Fair Grounds on State Highway

The new Orange County fair grounds are located on the state highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana, about a quarter of a mile north of the county farm, on the opposite side of the highway from the county buildings. The northern boundary of the grounds is the Placentia road.

The fair board has made provision for the parking of 500 cars. Private parking stations also will be open for automobiles. A uniform charge for parking inside the grounds is to be collected.

Poultry, Rabbit Exhibits Best In County's History

The poultry and rabbit show of the Orange County fair, the dates for which are September 6 to 11, inclusive, will be the largest exhibit of its kind in the history of the county, according to H. R. Howell, of Santa Ana, in charge of that department. W. M. Wise, of San Bernardino, and M. A. Schofield, of Gadena, will judge the entries. All exhibits must arrive at the fair grounds, on the state highway, between Santa Ana and Anaheim, not later than Monday, September 6, Howell announced.

It is computed that in 12 marriages out every 100 either bride or groom has been married before.

FAMOUS DOGS MAY BE SHOWN IN FAIR SHOW

A dog show will be a feature of the Orange County fair this year, according to Hobart Murphy, of Fullerton, who has been placed in charge of the canine department.

Last year the dog show of the fair did not amount to very much and it was only at the last minute that the show really was put on. This year things are different. The show has been planned for some time. More than 60 dogs already are entered and a special tent has been set aside for the dogs.

Many Orange county dog fanciers have entered their pets in the show and will have some real competition with outside exhibitors, who are bringing a number of pedigreed animals to the fair.

Efforts are being made by Murphy which may bring Balto, the famous Eskimo dog, which took the diphtheria toxin-antitoxin to Nome during the epidemic there. The dog now is being shown at Venice, and if Murphy succeeds in bringing him to the Orange County fair the dog should prove a big attraction.

Another special attraction which Murphy is endeavoring to arrange is the presence, for a short time on some specified day, of Rin Tin Tin, famous moving picture dog.

Competent judges have been secured for the dog show and precautions are being taken to provide for the comfort of the animals while they are on exhibit.

PRETTY FILM PLAYER WILL PROVE HER RIDING SKILL

Miss Irene Reed, who knows a thing or two about a horse, will ride in the horse show Saturday evening, September 11, as the representative of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce. Miss Reed plays leads in western pictures and her appearance will represent her own best wishes and those of the Santa Ana young men's booster organization to the fair management.

4000 Lists Sent Out by Fair Head

More than 4000 premium lists for the 10th annual Orange County fair, to be held on the recently acquired permanent location, on the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim, just opposite the Orange County farm, have been mailed out to prospective exhibitors all over Southern California, within the last few days, J. R. Hunt, manager of the fair says. The booklet contains 80 pages and the cover page carries a beautiful picture of the Liberty bell, in keeping with the Colonial motif to be used throughout the outdoor exposition.

LIME COMPANY WILL EXHIBIT AT BIG FAIR

Several years ago two hunters who were strolling over the Palos Verdes Hills just north of San Pedro, came on an outcropping of fine white substance which they decided must be of a lime nature. Surface diggings showed that a great deposit of marine shells of many varieties, as well as the bones of many extinct animals and fishes had been forced up from the ocean bed centuries ago. Chemical analysis showed that this large mound after unnumbered years of exposure to the air and sunlight had become decomposed into virtually pure lime with an animal and vegetable base.

The attention of many noted geologists from all over the world was focused on this deposit as many rare specimens of prehistoric animal bones were uncovered in a fine state of preservation in the excavating. Today many of these specimens may be seen in a display case exhibited in the Geological building in Exposition park, Los Angeles.

These hunters had had a long experience with lime used for growing of crops in the east. This deposit was of a far richer nature than the lime of a mineral stone base which they had been used to. The Torrance Lime and Fertilizer company was organized to quarry the lime and to market the product for agricultural purposes on orchards and fields. Thousands of tons have been used in all parts of Southern California and a nice-by-product business has been built up through the sale of thousands of yards of sand and gravel which have been cleaned off from the surface of the lime deposit and sold for street and road building purposes.

The lime product is known as D. M. S. lime and is not treated in any manner either chemically or by burning, but goes to the purchaser in a finely pulverized condition, being odorless and very soluble. It is quickly available for correcting and neutralizing the soil, thus releasing the natural and added fertility for better plant and fruit growth.

The Torrance Lime and Fertilizer company will have an exhibit at the Orange County fair.

300 Dogs Entered In Show at Fair

At least 300 dogs are expected to be exhibited at the Orange County fair, September 6 to 11, inclusive, according to Hobart Murphy, of Fullerton, co-operating with the fair board in arranging the canine show. Harold Lloyd, and other well known Los Angeles persons are expected to enter their prize animals.

ADMISSION DAY WILL BE CELEBRATED SEPTEMBER 9; WILL MARK BATTLE SITE

Another year has passed in the colorful history of the state of California, which was admitted into the Union 76 years ago on September 9, without having passed through the period of probation as a territory, the only state being so honored.

Native Sons and Daughters especially and all citizens in general are interested in the various celebrations planned in honor of the statehood anniversary. Some will go to Los Angeles, where ceremonies and a barbecue will be held at the Los Angeles Union Stockyards' park.

The feature of the program will be the dedication of a monument to mark the site of the battle of La Mesa, on the site of the stockyards. At noon, an old-time stage coach will arrive bearing the men and women who will participate in the dedication of a monument by the grand parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Ten thousand pounds of meat, provided by the stockyards company, will be barbecued and, after the feast, there will be dancing. Native Sons and Daughters need no invitation, it is pointed out, but the general public, which is hidden to the ceremonies, must present invitations to the barbecue sections.

Four Granite Boulders. The monument is composed of four great granite boulders, which were taken from the old Arroyo Seco of San Gabriel. The greatest of the boulders weighs nine tons, two of them weigh seven tons and the top one six and a half tons. The top rock is in the form of an arrow, and upon this one the Native Sons have placed a marker in the shape of a bronze tablet, with the following inscription: "On this spot was fought La Batalla de la Mesa, Battle of La Mesa, January 9, 1847. Commodore Robert Field Stockton, U. S. navy, in command of American forces, and General Jose Maria Flores, commanding the 'Californians,' Sept. 9, 1826."

Upon two of the huge boulders the stockyards company has placed tablets to the memory of Commodore Stockton and Lt. Joseph Warren Revere, grandson of Paul Revere, of Revolutionary fame.

Upon either side of this mass of native rock, two flagpoles have been erected, one flying the Stars and Stripes of the United States of America and the other the state (Bear) flag of the California Republic.

The battle of La Mesa was fought on the plains southeast of Los Angeles, where the stockyards buildings now stand, on Jan. 9, 1847. This is part of the Santa Antonio rancho owned by Bandini. This proved to be the last stand of the California revolutionary forces.

Under command of Gen. Jose Maria Flores, in an effort to save California to Mexico. It was nothing more than a skirmish and the Americans had no fatalities, but it was a decisive victory for the Americans. On the following January 13, articles of capitulation were signed, called the Treaty of Cahuenga, at Campo de Cahuenga. By this treaty, California became the property of

Pigeon Show Will Be Fair Feature

W. C. Hoskins and Charles C. Clarke are in charge of the pigeon exhibit at the Orange County fair, September 6 to 11. Exhibitors have been promised that their birds will be given the best of attention by experienced and show men. H. O. Keesling, of Pasadena, Tom Brown, of La Crescenta, and Capt. Ray Delhauer, of Ontario, will be the judges. Prizes of first, second and third will be awarded in all classes contained in the classification, and ribbons will be given on all such awards.

FILM ACTRESS TO TAKE PART IN HORSE SHOW

Miss Irene Reed, who plays leading feminine parts in motion pictures, will represent the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce at the tenth annual Orange County fair. Miss Reed will ride in the horse show Saturday evening, September 11, the last day of the fair.

She will ride one of the famous gaited animals which have been gathered together from a number of leading Pacific coast stock farms to take part in the equine event.

Jack Hoxie and Hoot Gibson are other riding stars who have signified their intention to take part in the horse show. The fair management has put up several thousand dollars in prizes.

The fair will be held on the state highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim, beginning at 10 a. m., Monday, September 6.

CHILDREN SOLD BY PARENTS IN CHINA

PEKING, China, Sept. 4.—Though chattel slavery supposedly no longer exists in China, there is nevertheless a heavy traffic in human beings, particularly in young boys and girls of marriageable age.

The boys are usually kidnapped and then sold to childless couples for adoption. No Chinese will, if he can help it, let his line die out, and if he has no children, or if he has only daughters, he will buy a boy child, legally adopt him and so provide someone to worship at the family altar.

The traffic of marriageable girls is not in any sense a "white slave" traffic, the sellers usually being the fathers of the girls in question. As a rule the older the bridegroom, and the richer, the more he will pay for a young No. 3 or No. 4 or No. 5 wife.

Last week in Peking, a young girl of 17 was sold by her father to a rich merchant, 72. The girl learned that her father had taken $20 in payment, and she also learned the age of the bridegroom-to-be. She knew rebellion was useless.

The wedding day arrived, and she was placed in a gorgeous sedan chair, covered with tinsel and paper flowers. The coolies took up the chair and carried her to the home of the aged bridegroom.

When the door of the sedan chair was opened at the threshold of the girl's new home, she was inside, to be sure, but dead. In some manner she had become possessed of a safety razor blade, and had slashed both wrists while on her way to her wedding ceremony.

FLOWERS AND PLANTS GIVE BEAUTY NOTE TO ENTRANCE OF COUNTY FAIR GROUNDS

The shrubs and flowers which attractively adorn the entrance to the fair location were supplied by the Blanding nursery, of Santa Ana. In the picture, Barbara Sidnam, of the fair office staff, is seen admiring one of the sunken gardens.

4000 PIECES OF HANDIWORK WILL BE EXHIBITED AT FAIR BY ORANGE COUNTY WOMEN

A hand embroidered set made by a woman 80 years old, who has been blind most of her life and who recovered her eyesight by remaining in a darkened room more than 30 years, will be one of the prize pieces on exhibition at the domestic art and needlework booth of the Orange County fair this year, according to Mrs. W. B. McConnell, chairman of the committee in charge of the display.

The domestic art and needlework booth which will represent every part of Orange county, according to Mrs. McConnell, who declares that entries are being received from every town in the county. The fact that polychroming, crystalline work, plaques, rugs, embroidery of all kinds, quilts and other hand-made articles of domestic use are included in the exhibit will lend a special attraction to the display, which will be hard to equal. Pictures will not be included in the domestic arts display.

Approximately $2000 in prizes will be given the winners of the various awards in the booth, according to reports. More than 1000 persons will have specimens of handiwork entered in the booth and, according to Mrs. McConnell, it is quite a job registering and tagging all the pieces so that they may be returned to the owners after the fair is over. Mrs. McConnell will receive entries in the domestic arts department on the third floor of Rankin Dry Goods store until 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After that time, entries in the department will be made at the county fair office.

Exhibitors at the fair need have no fear for the safety of prize articles, according to Mrs. McConnell. She points out that the display of needlework will be guarded day and night. Last year not a single article was lost from the display, according to Mrs. McConnell.

YOUNG FOLK TO EXHIBIT BIRDS IN JUNIOR FAIR

BY RAYMOND ELLIS

For the first time in the history of the Orange County fair, an entire tent will be given over to the younger generation. One-half of this tent will be taken up by exhibits by the Boy Scouts, under the supervision of Roland Dye, Scout executive. The other half will be given over to exhibits of animals and birds raised by members of the agricultural clubs of Orange county. These clubs are sponsored by the United States department of agriculture and the University of California, through the agricultural extension service of this county.

The entries of animals and birds will not be competing for any cash prizes, inasmuch as they are not being charged any entry fee. This arrangement gives the boys and girls a chance to show their pets without putting a burden on them. The fair will give first and second ribbons to the winners in each class.

From the very first time that this arrangement was mentioned to the club members there has been great excitement and many plans have been made to exhibit at the fair. There will be approximately 40 entries of rabbits of various breeds, as well as about 20 pens of poultry. Beside these, there have been six entries of calves made.

Police Need Gas Masks In Cheap Rooming Houses

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 4.—Denver police officers, assigned to investigate roominghouses frequented by "canned heat" addicts, have asked that they be provided with gas masks.

Patrolmen Frank J. (Tinker) McGrath and Cornelius Callaghan, who have beats on Larimer street, declared that the air is so foul in the rooming houses inhabited by "canned heat" drunkards it almost asphyxiates a sober person.

They requested formally that gas masks be added to their equipment.

returned to the owners after the fair is over. Mrs. McConnell will receive entries in the domestic arts department on the third floor of Rankin Dry Goods store until 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After that time, entries in the department will be made at the county fair office.

Exhibitors at the fair need have no fear for the safety of prize articles, according to Mrs. McConnell. She points out that the display of needlework will be guarded day and night. Last year not a single article was lost from the display, according to Mrs. McConnell.

LARGE PIGEON DISPLAY TO BE SEEN AT FAIR

Capt. Ray Delhauer, of Ontario, formerly connected with the U. S. army, in the training of homing pigeons, will be one of the three judges who will pass on the 750 registered birds which will be shown in the pigeon department of the Orange County fair, according to Charles C. Clark, chairman of the committee in charge of the pigeon exhibition.

H. O. Keesling, of Pasadena, and Teva Brown, of La Crescenta, will be the other two judges.

The pigeon exhibit of the fair this year will be far greater than any previous pigeon show ever held in Orange county, it is declared. Special arrangements have been made to care for all the pigeons. The Orange County Pigeon club has been active in providing the pigeon exhibit.

First, second and third prizes will be awarded, according to Clark, who is a great pigeon fancier and has a large loft of pigeons at his Fullerton home.

Orange county pigeons must be on their best behavior to secure prizes at the show, according to Clark, who reports that there have been a large number of entries made from out of the county.

White Tresses Are Popular In London

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 4. "Silver threads among the gold" are very desirable in London now, according to beauty experts. And the more there are of them, the luckier madam is, for snow-white hair soon will be all the rage. Women beyond the flapper age are having their locks bleached white in preparation for the winter season. Ordinary huing and certain chemical tinctures will whiten the hair and cause no ill effects.

LIVE IN CASKS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4. — Forty-one miles west of Cleveland, a curious village is springing up. After seven years of prohibition a wine corporation became convinced that the beverage was a thing of the past and sold its casks. A Vermillion O. man bought 35 of them and has converted them into summer cottages for tourists. The capacity of each cask is, or was, 6000 gallons, and each weighs 7800 pounds. A screened porch is built on the front of each of the homes.

A new type of ticket-issuing machine prints numbers and dates tickets at the time of issue at the rate of five per second.

Orange County Flowers Will Be Displayed At Fair

SAYS FLOWER EXHIBIT WILL BE BEST EVER

With special prizes offered for single flowers, bouquets and mixed flowers, it is expected that some of the prettiest flowers in Orange County will be seen in the exhibit which will bank either side of the entrance to the main feature tent of the Orange County fair. The flower exhibit is in charge of A. M. Blanding and, according to the chairman, the display will be the finest ever seen in Orange County.

Prizes to be awarded for the flowers include merchandise prizes, cash and ribbons. More than 50 amateur and more than 12 professional florists are expected to exhibit flowers at the show. Among the various flowers shown will be zinnias, roses, asters, lilies, chrysanthemums, gladioli, carnations and others typical of the county.

According to Blanding, Orange county is known for its flowers and will uphold the reputation in the displays at the fair. Blanding, who is a Santa Ana nurseryman, has designed an artistic setting for the exhibit, which will add greatly to the attractiveness of the entrance to the feature tent.

Blanding asks that all flower exhibitors furnish their own containers for the flowers at the show. He expects more than 1000 bouquets of various sorts and declares that the flower end of the tent will resemble a rainbow if one is to judge from color.

Receipe for Old Age Is Presented

OAKLAND, Sept. 3.—Eat nine pancakes at every breakfast, don't let anyone except your wife do the cooking and smoke with moderation, if you would pass the century mark in age, is the advice of Capt. David Swain, who, hale and hearty at the age of 90, said he has adhered to this program of moderation as far back as he can remember, and predicted that he is good for at least a score more years. As he chops firewood, or goes downtown for his regular afternoon game of pool, few suspect that this sturdy man guided the first ferry boat across the strait of Carquinez, in 1861, carrying fortune seekers to the Mother Lode country of California.

Moros Slain by Borneo Pirates

MANILA, Sept. 4.—Pirates from British North Borneo long have terrorized the inhabitants of the small island of Balabac, the southernmost tip of the province of Palawan, it is stated in the report of Dr. Antonio Alvir, geologist of the bureau of science, who recently returned from that region.

The pirates go from Borneo to Balabac and occasionally to other parts of the province ostensibly to trade and fish. Eluding the authorities, they plunder and kill. The constabulary, being without a fast motor boat, is unable to capture them.

Balabac has a population of approximately 20,000, mostly Moros.

Kiwanis Club to Hear Cragstone

Paul Cragstone, manager of the western division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who will visit Santa Ana next week, will be the principal speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club, next Wednesday, at St. Ann's Inn, it was announced today. He will speak on the accomplishments of the International Chamber of Commerce, in connection with the Dawes plan and recent economic and political developments in Europe.

BURGULARS MOVE IN
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris left their house for the week end, and burglars promptly moved in and made themselves at home. They cooked their meals in the house, found $17 under a rug and left with two dresses.

Junior Division Is New Feature Of County Fair

The junior division is expected to prove one of the most interesting of the new features at the Orange County fair this year, in the opinion of the fair officials. The exhibit will be limited to members of the farm bureau's agricultural clubs, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Roland Dye, county Boy Scout executive, and Raymond Ellis, assistant farm advisor, in charge of club work, will have supervision of the junior fair.

BAND DIRECTOR IS HONORED AT KNIGHTS' MEET

A pleasant surprise awaited D. C. Cianfoni, director of the Santa Ana Municipal band, yesterday at the regular luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table at St. Ann's Inn, when, instead of contributing to the program, he was announced as the guest of honor and made the recipient of a rousing ovation from his many friends in the community, who had been invited as special guests.

In addition to the regular members of the Knights of the Round Table, the luncheon guests included the presidents of the various service clubs in the city and several well known business men and clubwomen. Prominent among the latter were Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, president of the Santa Ana City Federation of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Helen Jeffrey, vice president of the Business and Professional Women's club, and Mrs. Arnold Peek.

Address by Rev. Betts
Dr. Will A. Flood, president of the club, presided over the luncheon. Attorney Clyde Downing, past president, was in charge of the program, which, in addition to an eloquent address by Dr. William Betts, pastor of the First M. E. church, included a well arranged musical program. Well received by the audience were several vocal selections by Robert Brown, Santa Ana baritone, accompanied by Mrs. Lone Tunison Peek, Santa Ana musician, recently returned from a long trip abroad.

Equally pleasing were violin numbers offered by Miss Georgia Belle Walton, accompanied by her sister, Miss Marjorie Walton.

Following a few remarks, in which he explained the purpose of the meeting, Clyde Downing, program chairman, introduced the Rev. Mr. Betts, the principal speaker.

Tribute to Work
Paying tribute to the work done by Cianfoni in creating a city-wide appreciation for good music, the speaker said that the band not only has become the pride of the city but has extended its influence to all classes of the community. Aside from being a cultural asset, it has served to advertise Santa Ana to other communities in a most favorable way, he declared.

Among those who had come to honor Cianfoni were C. S. Crookshank, Fred C. Rowland, W. Vern Whitson, W. Floyd Croddy, Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Frank L. Purinton, the Rev. William Betts, Mrs. Arnold Peek, Miss Georgia Belle Walton, Miss Marjorie Walton, Harry Hanson, Robert Brown, Elmer Heldt, Capt. Joe Plank, Albert H. Taylor, Dr. E. H. Rowland, Col. B. F. McKinney, A. N. Simms, Frank V. Hoffman, Charles McCausland, A. G. Green, Hugh Livingstone, J. T. Cross, Miss Lenabell Hughes, J. T. Williams, Judge Kenneth E. Morrison and Roy Williams.

VOTE, BE SHAVED
SANTO DOMINGO, Sept. 4.—"Repeaters" at elections here are going to have a hard time after this. Authorities have decided to shave a spot on the head of each voter as he casts his ballot. He also will be marked with indelible ink. The ink method has been tried before, but crooked politicians and their lieutenants supplied chemicals to remove the stain. It is said that they are frantically seeking an effective hair tonic to meet the present emergency.

PREVENTION OF FIRES WILL BE DEMONSTRATED

The Boy Scout exhibit at the county fair, which occupies one-half of the Scouts' tent, promises to be one of the most unique and interesting in the entire fair. A. B. Prescott, field executive, is in charge and has a 16-troop exhibition space under construction there at the present time.

One very interesting exhibit is to be the one exhibited by Troop No. 1, of Orange, which has the cooperation of the forestry department, and shows the new method for fire prevention which has been adopted by the national forestry department. Ranger J. B. Stephenson, J. E. Elliott to the exhibit and will be there during the entire time of the fair.

Other exhibits will consist of all sorts of outdoor crafts, camping exhibits and models, and all of the activities that scouts ordinarily indulge in. Then, in addition to the regular exhibit, there will be a leather work, archery, friction fire building and any Scout who wants to learn anything about these activities will be given the opportunity under competent instructors. Scouts will furnish messenger service during the entire time of the fair. Monday afternoon, part of the program in front of the grandstand will be provided by Scout demonstrations, tent raising and many other interesting exhibits which were demonstrated during the time of the county jamboree this year.

COUNTY'S BEST COOKS SEND IN FAIR EXHIBITS

The mouths of those who attend the Orange County fair will water when they visit the culinary arts department, according to Mrs. H. J. Hinricks, of Orange, who is in charge of the department. Delicious cakes, jellies, jams, pies, cookies and canned fruits will provide temptation for hungry boys and girls, both large and small, who attend the fair, it is anticipated.

The display will be larger than ever before, according to Mrs. Hinricks, who declares that more than 200 housewives are expected to enter fruit in the display. A large variety of merchandise prizes offered by merchants of Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange, Garden Grove, Fullerton and other communities

IT'S SHOW OFF WEEK

It's "show-off" week for Orange county. A week in which we exhibit the best products of our fruitful soil, the evidences of agricultural and breeding efficiency; a week in which we manifest our industrial progress and enterprise; a week in which every citizen may throw out his chest with pride and proclaim, "I am a resident of Orange county." It is also a gala week of fun, frivolity and feteing, where gather all the country-side in the spirit of neighborliness and community pride. An occasion in which surely you want to participate, patronize and play. Come and bring all the folks, including the little ones.

All roads next week lead to Orange county. The big doings are on from September 6 to 11 inclusive.

will add incentive to the exhibitors, according to Mrs. Hinricks.

The prize list was swelled this week, when merchants from Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Anaheim and Fullerton offered a large number of prizes for the culinary experts. The glasses of jellies and jams are to be arranged in artistic style. Competent judges will be secured and, according to Mrs. Hinricks, looks will play an important part in some of the judging, but samples will be required of some of the best looking specimens of cakes and pies. Housewives in all sections of the county are co-operating with Mrs. Hinricks in making the department a success and every section of the county will be represented in the exhibit.

MUCH CANE LAND IS COVERED BY SWAMP

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Sugar cane worth millions of dollars could be produced on swamp land now lying below sea level in Porto Rico. This swamp of 10,000 acres was discovered by Dr. H. A. Gleason, curator of the New York botanical garden, who recently completed an ecological survey of the island. Dr. Gleason said that this potential wealth would need a system similar to Holland's dykes for drainage and pointed out that in this and other now useless areas the drainage might be carried out with windmills because of the constant winds.

Dr. Gleason's ecological survey, conducted in co-operation with the insular government, constituted the first complete study of the plant life and possibilities of Porto Rico. He also believes that this sunken land once sloped down to the sea.

TO CAP VOLCANO
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Sept. 4.—German engineers are engaged in the unique task of trying to put a camp on a volcano, Masaya, which is near the town of that name. They seek to close the crater so that its poisonous gases will not escape and damage the crops.

Attend the Orange County Fair then Visit Chandler's

Six big days next week! Six days to attend displays of Orange county's blue ribbon products . . . . and an opportune time to visit Orange county's blue ribbon furniture store—CHANDLER'S.

Chandler's is truly dedicated to the cause of Better Orange County homes.

Chandler's wide range of stock enables one to make a suitable selection to furnish the most humble cottage or the finest residence. Here you will find an assortment ranging from the most moderately priced patterns of good furniture to as finely built pieces as artisans can produce.

The buying of our stocks is not confined to selections from manufacturers' catalogs and ordering through salesmen and jobbers. Members of the firm visit the great Eastern home furnishings exhibitions and make personal selections right at the big furniture producing centers.

The sale of a piece of furniture at Chandler's is but the beginning of the transaction which is not completed until the article gives complete satisfaction and lasting service. For that reason we must be sure first that the quality is right, and second, that at the price quoted it must represent sterling value.

This is followed by careful, courteous delivery and a home beautifying service of expert decorators, men who are qualified to suggest the most artistic arrangement of furniture, and who will assist in planning your draperies.

Backed by years of experience and complete stocks, we count it a privilege indeed to serve you.

See our window displays next week. Make a leisurely inspection of our stocks.

Women Know

In dress, entertaining, in social contacts and in the furnishing of the home, good taste is every woman's ambition.

She knows what it means to feel that her furniture needs no apologies, and she also knows the feeling of social assurance that goes with good furniture.

Chandler's are especially equipped to serve the demands of the woman who wishes to select furniture of good taste and sound quality within the limits of reasonable expenditure.

HOOT GIBSON. TOM MIX WILL RIDE AT FAIR

A number of well known motion picture people will appear at the tenth annual Orange County fair, September 6 to 11, several of them being scheduled to appear on their own mounts in the horse show, which is to be held every afternoon with the exception of Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings, it was announced today by the fair management.

Tom Mix and "Hoot" Gibson will participate but the exact dates for their appearances cannot be given on account of the two western stars being on location.

Many other motion luminaries, who follow the horse shows, will be present.

Jack Hoxie, western star, and a company of players, will take a number of scenes for his current picture, during the fair.

Sixty box seats are being constructed along the front of the grandstand. Reservations for the box seats should be made to J. R. Hunt, at the fair office, or to John R. Ragan, chairman of the livestock division, Villa Park.

The grandstand, which will be finished this week, will seat 3000 persons.

Elbert DeFebach, one of the best known horsemen in the United States, will act as ringmaster. He will be assisted by Jess Flores and Ed. Stinson. The judges have not all been selected as yet.

PRIZE CHICKENS ARE INCLUDED IN FOWL LISTS

If the night watchmen at the Orange County fair fall asleep they will be awakened early in the morning, if the usual procedure is followed by the 600 chickens which will be on exhibition at the chicken show of the fair this year. According to H. R. Howell, who is in charge of the chicken department of the fair, more than 600 prize birds will be entered.

Howell declares that exhibitors this year are eager to capture the prizes and declares that all birds have been carefully cared for and groomed for the last several weeks. Orange county poultry raisers will be among the most prominent exhibitors. Entry lists for the poultry department closed September 1.

A number of special features will be shown in the chicken tent, including the latest methods of securing high egg production. Several of the native enemies of chickens also will be shown in the tent, according to Howell, who intends to make the chicken exhibit one of the most interesting on the fair grounds.

Judges will be W. M. Wise, of San Bernardino, and M. A. Schofield, of Gardena. The two men have acted as judges at a large number of fairs throughout the state and are expert poultry men. Prizes including cash, merchandise and ribbons will be awarded the various winners.

Blee Appointed To New Federal Immigration Job

Harry B. Blee, son of Mrs. W. C. Blee, of 505 East Fifth street, has been appointed to the newly-created position of inspector in charge of the U. S. immigration office, at Los Angeles. Mr. Blee, who has been in the federal immigration service since January, 1924, has been in charge of the legal department in this district for the last six years. He was appointed to his new position by Secretary of Labor Davis, on recommendation of Walter E. Carr, district director of immigration for Southern California.

PIGEON DISPLAY AT FAIR ONE OF SOUTHLAND'S BEST

TRUCKLOAD OF JELLIES AND JAMS SENT TO VETERANS BY HOUSEWIVES OF SANTA ANA

That satisfaction which attends an act of generosity, today warmed the hearts of American Legion auxiliary members as they learned of the joy which their generous gift of preserves, jellies and jams, brought to the patient sufferers at the Veterans' hospital in the San Fernando valley, and they have hastened to pass on their information to the scores of friends who donated so generously of home-canned fruit, that the veterans might have that bit of California largess to brighten their dreary days.

After the request for canned fruits was published in the Register, and the public informed that the annual drive was in progress, response was immediate, according to Mrs. H. H. Reeves, chairman of the drive committee and past president of the Legion auxiliary.

According to Mrs. Reeves, the jars and glasses of fruit began pouring in at once at Legion hall, where auxiliary members were waiting to receive the contributions. There were richly syruped peaches, looking like globes of California sunlight; golden apricots, luscious and full of flavor; juicy figs, jars of strawberry preserves and orange marmalade; berries of all kinds, made into syruped fruit or rich jams; pale tinted pears with all summer's fragrance in their richness. In fact every fruit raised in California was represented in the collection of over a thousand jars and glasses which accumulated at Legion hall to be taken to San Fernando hospital.

Dickinson Does Hauling
When it was finally in readiness, Eugene Dickinson, member of the American Legion, volunteered to transport the fruit to the hospital, and placed one of the trucks of the Santa Ana Transfer company at the disposal of the auxiliary. Then, accompanied by Claire Puntene, he left with the toothsome load. When the men reached the hospital they were greeted with enthusiasm and both expressed themselves as wishing that all those who gave so generously of their stores, might have seen the joy their gifts brought.

There are approximately 200 men now at the hospital and of these, 35 are very ill. To them especially, with the capricious appetites of illness, the fruit will be a blessing—one of the very few that they may still receive on earth. As added delicacies for faint appetites, were the grapefruit, the five gallons of strained honey and the rich cakes which were donated together with the fruit.

Many Hide Identity
Mrs. Nora McCalla, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Reeves, fruit drive chairman, tried to take the names of those who donated to the drive. In many cases, the donors preferred to remain unknown, so the list is incomplete, but of the scores of friends, the following have been listed. To them and to the unknown friends, the gratitude of the auxiliary has been equally expressed.

Mesdames Brokaw, Anderson, J. A. Cranston, McGarraugh, Roy Skiles, Hershey, Roberts, Pomeroy, M. Burr Wellington, Kolbe, Stone, Hasty, D. B. Planchon, W. B. Risk, H. P. Christianson, Alice B. Lamb, Snyder, Otto Haan, A. C. Eklund, T. W. Halliwell, F. W. Mansur, H. F. Stewart, Frank Hantsberger, James O'Brien, Ray, Wallace, Rowland, Coleman Hargett.
Cressman, Mitchell, W. A. Blakeley, Leo Schmiedeborg, Haid, W. A. Taylor, W. C. Blanchard, Gene Dickinson, Marya Greenleaf, Anne Stillwell, Charles Swanner, Grace Lineberger, H. E. ## ADDITIONAL STALLS MAY BE NECESSARY

Stalls at the stock show of the Orange County fair were all filled today and workmen may have to build additional accommodations, according to a report today from N. L. Wakeham, of Tustin, who is in charge of the stock department of the fair.

More than 60 head of registered stock already has been entered in the fair from all parts of the state and much of the stock is of the finest in the state. Herds of dairy cows, prize bulls and cows have been entered.

One of the largest exhibitors in Orange county is D. Eymann Huff, of the Heves ranch, near El Modena. Other Orange county exhibitors are showing only a few animals, according to Wakeham. A number of fairly large herds have been brought in from the northern part of the state and a number of entries have been made from San Diego and San Bernardino counties.

FINEST HORSES IN COUNTRY TO SHOW AT FAIR

More than half a hundred aristocrats of the equine kingdom, everyone of them a star performer, will be seen at the horse show, to be held every afternoon, with the exception of the opening day, at the Orange County fair, September 6 to 11, inclusive, according to John Ragan of Orange, in charge of the program starting the three, five and eight gaited animals.

A number of the best known show horses in the United States will be put through their paces by their owners and masters, including several famous horsemen from Los Angeles and other Pacific coast cities.

A. C. Ruby of Portland, Ore., will bring his stable of some 35 horses to the fair.

Among the famous steeds to be shown is Easter Star, owned by Marco Hellman, Los Angeles banker. Easter Star twice was grand champion of the Madison Square Garden horse show and also won the $10,000 championship in Louisville, Ky., in 1922. He is the highest priced gelding ever sold in America, bringing $12,500.

Equally as famous is Hottentot, owned by John Vaughn of Beverly Hills. He has proved himself one of the most consistent winners that ever has shown from coast to coast. He has defeated every five gaited horse now in competition, with the exception of Easter Star.

Watterson, which also will be seen with Easter Star and Hottentot at the fair, is owned by Charles O. Middleton of Los Angeles. Watterson, for the last two years, has been a consistent winner in all five gaited combination classes and has proved especially adept in winning ribbons in the women's riding classes.

A prominent motion picture actress of Los Angeles has been asked to ride several of the horses in an exhibition event, Ragan said, and further announcement concerning that special feature will be made within a few days.

ASK WOMEN OF COUNTY TO AID FAIR WORKERS

The women of Orange county will have the best exhibit at the Orange County fair this year they have had in the seven years the fair has been held, in the opinion of Mrs. Eva McConnell, of Santa Ana, chairman of the committee in charge of the women's division.

Glass show cases will be provided this year, so that the women need not hesitate to display fragile or delicate finery for fear that it will not be given proper care.

"The booth is to represent all the women of Orange county," Mrs. McConnell said, "and all those interested should co-operate with the committee, for only through the whole hearted assistance of the women of the county can the exhibit be the success it should be."

Every kind of needle work will be accepted, anything from shades to rugs. Nothing is too small nor too large.

The blue ribbon will signify first prize, $1. The red ribbon will represent second prize, 50 cents; while third prize will be represented by a white ribbon, to count only in determining sweepstakes prizes.

Children are urged to enter their handiwork. The work of children under 12 years old will be judged in a special division. Any woman may display as many pieces as she wishes to display. All the work to be entered must be in the hands of the committee by September 4.

The county committee is composed of the following women:

Mrs. Eva McConnell, needlework department, Rankin's dry goods store, Santa Ana; Mrs. Eda Wilkie, 460 South Orange street, Orange; Mrs. Fred Hobbs, Orange; Mrs. Emanuel Smith, Fullerton; Mrs. Hulbert, La Habra; Mrs. Clough, Westminster; Mrs. A. R. Miller, Huntington Beach; Mrs. George Brothers, Tustin.

For school, bicycle tires specially priced. Henry's, 427 W. 4th.

Featuring "Somozided" Paint

SEE AN INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION OF "Somozided" paint, a fire resisting product. Wood treated with this paint is subjected to blow torch flames without igniting.

To our complete line of lumber, hardwoods, mill work, hardware and building materials, we have added a varied and practical stock of paints, varnishes, enamels, industrial paints and stains, all "Somozided."

Wood treated by this process is found to be more fire resistant than that treated by any other known method, also preserves the wood against decay, stops the formation of fungus growths, and is effective against the destructive attack of ants and insects which bore into the wood.

SOMOZIDED wood painted or stained with SOMOZIDED PAINTS has proven to be fire resistant for all practical purposes.

SOMOZIDED shingles are produced in the many different grades and sizes known to the architect and building trade.

INDUSTRY TENT AT FAIR TO BE WELL OCCUPIED

Industrial exhibits at the 1926 Orange County fair will be housed in one of the largest tents on the ground, and already more than 90 per cent of the space in the tent has been taken, according to George Raymer, chairman of the committee in charge of the tent.

Not only will the tent boast of more exhibits than any other tent but it will also be made interesting through the rulings of the fair board which prevents an undesirable element entering the booths in the tent. The exhibits will be strictly of an advertising nature and very little effort will be made to sell and deliver articles to the public in the tent.

Messenger Service

Many features will lend attraction to the industrial exhibits. A special messenger service will be operated by the Calpet Gasoline booth for the use of anyone who wishes to get in touch with any part of the fair grounds. A telephone booth has been installed for the use of the public also by the Calpet.

The Clevin Realty company, of Los Angeles, will present a motion picture show with musical accompaniment. Other large exhibitors in the tent who will afford special attractions will include the Danz Music company, Hill and Son, the Maytag Washing Machine company, Grand Central Market, Los Angeles Soap company, First National bank of Santa Ana, Maxwell House Coffee company, Golden West Fur farm, Calpet gasoline, Excelsior creamery, Raitts dairy, Scheu Orchard heaters and the Tustin Cement Pipe company.

A special exhibit, featuring the industries of Huntington Beach, which has been arranged by Clifton G. Reynolds, city advertising manager, also deserves special mention, as does the exhibits of Santa Ana lumber companies. Santa Ana lumber concerns, co-operating with the builders exchange, roofing companies and builders have grouped their exhibits with the result that some excellent co-operative benefits will be derived. The Barr Lumber company, the Builders Exchange, Kelly Roofing company, Hammond Lumber company, Stearns Paint company, Santa Ana Lumber company, and the E. K. Wood Lumber company are among those who are grouped together.

Here Are Exhibitors

Among the exhibitors in the tent are: Rhine-Ludwig, C. O. White, United Vacuum company, Excelsior Creamery, F. E. Rising, T. F. Ham, Riverside Portland Cement, E. F. Wescott, Hoover Vacuum Cleaner, Barr Lumber company, Builders Exchange, Kelly Roofing company, Hammond Lumber company, Stearns Paint company, Santa Ana Lumber company.

E. K. Wood Lumber company, First National Bank of Santa Ana, Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, Huntington Beach industrial exhibit, E. G. Haft, Southern Counties Gas company, Larson Hardware company, Turner Fulkin company, Hardner Ford company, Grover Gardner company, Maytag company, Grand Central Market, Clifford and Linn, B. A. Driscoll, Bartlett and Huber, H. A. Perry, Tustin Cement Pipe company, Auto Accident association, J. B. Ransom, Calpet gasoline, F. W. Vaughn, Easy Housekeeping company, F. C. Brock, Raitts dairy, Golden West Fur farm, Mrs. Miller, Geyhardt Chile, Clevin Realty company, Betzold Photo studio, Hill and Son, Master Plumbing association, Westgate Steamship company, Torrance Lime company, Vance Roofing company, Deer Lake company, Kerr Glass company, Goble Signs, Lowden and Moore, H. S. Simpson, Union Concrete Pipe company, Mrs. R. H. Hancock.

S. A. Drapery and Shade shop, Robertson Electric company, Bartlett and Huber company, Orange Hardware company, Chandler Music company, McFadden-Dale Hardware company, Anti-Vivi Society, Remington company, Lord Bumgartner company, Artesia Hatching company, Danz Music shop, Duplex Water company.

Mrs. Fairchild, Printers O. company, Singer Sewing Machine company, Ole Hansen, Owens Roofing company, Clear Lake Beach, Bressel Pump company, Shaw Palmer company, and the Pioneer Compost company.

40,000 YEARS OLD

LONDON, Sept. 3.—A skull said to be 40,000 years old has been found at Gibraltar and was shipped to England for the meeting of the British Association at Oxford. Another skull, discovered in the vicinity in 1840, was said to be a remnant of the Neanderthal race.

There are 500 shades of dyes taken from coal.

PUREBRED CATTLE TO BE ON DISPLAY AT ORANGE COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

The purebred cattle shown in the above picture will be entered at the Orange County fair by the Agricultural Boys' club. Below, three prize winners in last year's fair that will again compete for honors this year. The livestock exhibit this year will exceed anything of former years, according to fair directors. Exhibits will be sent here from as far north as Portland.

AMUSEMENT ZONE TO BE BEST EVER

Hundreds of persons are expected to be attracted to the Orange County fair this year by the midway, the amusement zone of the fair. The amusement zone this year will be one of the finest ever boasted by the fair, according to J. R. Hunt, general manager.

A ferris wheel was being erected today, and an airplane and a tiny steam train, with a real whistle, will furnish other amusement for the children. One of the features of the midway this year will be the cleanliness with which it will be operated. None of the popular "skin games" are to be allowed, according to Hunt, and only high class amusement features will be included. The amusement zone this year will be larger than ever before.

The early start of the fair committee on the midway has resulted in a rush for places, which has allowed Hunt ample opportunity to select the best amusement features available.

Escondido Civic Leaders Will Be Present at Fair

ESCONDIDO, Sept. 4.—Escondido boosters for the grape festival, September 9, will be in Santa Ana when the gates of the county fair are opened Monday morning, equipped with literature and a good line of argument in support of the nineteenth annual show.

During the last few years quite a number of Orange county persons have invested in property in and around Escondido. They include Ira E. Leck, president of the Northern San Diego County bank, which he was instrumental in starting. Leck takes an active interest in the development of the country and has served as president of the chamber of commerce and of the Grape Day association. His hobby is paved highways and improved dirt roads and, as a member of the chamber of commerce good roads committee, he has found ample opportunity for much work.

HUGE DAHLIA BELL ENTERED BY BEACH CITY

A huge bell of dahlias, in the heart of which will be exhibited motion pictures of the state highway from Long Beach to San Diego, especially featuring scenes in Huntington Beach, will be Huntington Beach's exhibit at the Orange County fair, September 6 to 11. The contract for the exhibit has been let to a Hollywood firm.

The bell will lie on its side, the inside lined with large pink dahlias, shaded to a deep red in the center. The outside will be covered with varying shades of yellow dahlias. All of the flowers used will be produced by Huntington Beach growers. A ground work of a large variety of dahlias is also provided.

At the back of the bell, inside, will be a large plate of ground glass, upon which the motion pictures of the coast highway will be thrown continuously during the fair. Scenes will depict the Hotel Virginia in Long Beach, the pike, and thence down the coast to Huntington Beach and San Diego.

ASSERTS FAIR TO OUTSHINE OTHERS

The Orange County fair beautiful!

The 10th annual fair is to outshine all others from an artistic viewpoint, according to J. R. Hunt, manager.

With that end in view, Hunt arranged with Arthur Blanding, of Santa Ana, to adorn the entrance to the permanent location with shrubs, flowers and a sunken garden. The shrubbery was set out last week, under Blanding's direction, and already had greatly added to the imposing appearance of the entrance.

With the fair dates, September 6 to 11, fast approaching, Hunt said today there was every indication that the exposition this year would set a record both in attendance and the quality of exhibits.

A collection of 200 birds' eggs, property of John R. Nichols, of Garden Grove, will be one of the unique exhibits. According to Fannie R. Stanley, chairman of aviculture, some of the eggs are from birds native to India and San Domingo. They will be shown, with several nests, in as natural a setting as is possible to produce. Each

DANCE, DINING HALL BUILT ON FAIR GROUNDS

Among the permanent buildings that have been constructed at the Orange County fairgrounds, on the state highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana, is a dining room, which is convertible into a dance hall. The building will be used during the Tenth Annual Orange County fair.

The building will be used during the day as a dining room. It will take care of 200 patrons at one sitting. During the fair, Mrs. E. R. Stillens, of Garden Grove, will have charge of the dining room for the Garden Grove Women's club, which will serve dinner both noon and evening. Mrs. Stillens promises to set before the fair patrons a dinner that cannot be duplicated in any place in Orange county for the prices that will be charged.

Immediately after the evening meal is served, the tables will be cleared from the floor and at 8:30 the dining room will have been converted into a dance palace. A jitney dance will continue until 12 o'clock midnight.

The dance privileges have been turned over to Ted Craig, county commander of the American Legion and the Legion county council will conduct the dances.

Two hundred couples can be accommodated on the dance floor and Craig already has entered into a contract with the Shell orchestra.

of Long Beach, to furnish the music. The orchestra will consist of 12 pieces. Each dance will last three minutes, with an encore of one minute.

Craig also promises that the dance will be conducted in such a manner that no one will be ashamed to be seen dancing on the floor. No off color dancing will be permitted and Legion members from all parts of the county will be on hand as floor managers.

80 DANCING GIRLS IN FAIR PAGEANT

Eighty Orange county girls, who have been training for their parts under the direction of Miss Claire Coutant for the last year, will perform the interpretive dancing in the pageant, "The Birth of an Empire," which will be produced at the Orange County fair Monday night.

Getting a glimpse of the possibilities of the pageant last year, these girls set about making their parts better and their appearance next Monday night will be the culmination of months of hard work.

Miss Coutant, who directed the pageant last year, is devoting her entire time to this part of the play this year and has given the girls every encouragement during their long practice. Many of the girls have been rated as professional dancers but all of them donate their services to the production at the fair. All of them are Orange county girls.

MAJL DEALERS ENTER EXHIBITS IN AUTO SHOW

The automobile show at the Orange County fair will be one of the best ever held in the county, according to reports today from Frank Furlington, mayor of Santa Ana, who is in charge of the tent. More than a dozen makes of cars are expected to be shown.

Recently the Orange County Automobile Trades association adopted a resolution agreeing to support the fair automobile show in the future. The Auto Trades association also went as far as to agree not to support any other show and urged the consolidation of all other county shows with the Orange County fair exhibition.

The automobile show this year will be housed in a large, new tent. A solid board flooring has been laid in the tent and every precaution has been made to protect automobile dealers who exhibit. Special arrangements also have been made for the benefit of the public.

The section of the Automobile Trades association is expected to bring closer co-operation between automobile dealers in the northern and southern sections of the county. The cars entered in the show are the latest models and many new improvements will be shown. Special decoration features have been arranged in the tent. A number of feature exhibits have been entered by accessory dealers of the county.

Among the dealers who have signed up for space at the show are the Jordan, Studebaker, Nash, Willys-Knight, Gardner, Oldsmobile, Chrysler, Dodge, Pontiac, Oakland, Cadillac, Pierce Arrow and Marmon agents. Others are expected to sign up this week, according to Furlington.

PRESENT BALL STAR WITH NEW CADILLAC

Before an audience of 44,000 persons, the largest which has assembled on Navin Field, Detroit, during the present season, Harry Edwin Heilmann, three times batting champion of the American league, was honored recently for his service to baseball and sport by the presentation of a new Cadillac five-passenger sport sedan, a diamond and platinum pin and a Great Dane dog. The occasion was Heilmann day for Ty Cobb's Bengals.

The car was the gift of Lawrence P. Fisher and other friends and admirers of Heilmann at Cadillac and a number of other Detroit friends.

The presentation speech was made by Mayor John W. Smith, of Detroit; the title to the car was delivered by Joseph A. Schulte, Cadillac Detroit branch general manager, and the keys were presented by H. M. Stephens, Cadillac general sales manager. The presentation of the pin was made by Ruth Mae Fisher, the "Miss Detroit" of a recent beauty contest, and the Great Dane was the gift of Patrick Sexton.

The car is one of the new sport models just announced by the Cadillac company. It is finished in light gray with "chasseur red" disc wheels. Two extra wheels rested in well in the front fenders. The interior is upholstered with a special mohair of an entirely new design.

COUNTY'S BEST SONGSTERS, DANCERS TO TAKE PART IN FAIR'S HISTORICAL DRAMA

Rivalling the horse show for interest at the county fair is the historical allegory, "The Birth of an Empire," to be given Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights in the arena in front of the grandstand. Miss Eunice Pringle, of Garden Grove, is one of the featured dancers. The pageant was directed by Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, of Orange, and set to music by D. C. Cianfoni, of Santa Ana.

AGRICULTURAL WEALTH OF ORANGE COUNTY EXHIBITED IN FEATURE TENT DISPLAYS

When the hundreds of people who will visit the Orange county fair, pour through the front entrance of the feature tent Monday morning, they will be confronted with some of the most beautiful exhibits of Orange county products that has ever been shown, according to C. M. Hollingshead, of Anaheim, manager of the tent.

Immediately inside the entrance Mullens and her spinning wheel. To the feature tent will be a hill covered with green grain and in the center of the field will be a tiny lake. The hill will form the back of a large stage, which was rushed to completion this week. On either side of the entrance will be placed the huge exhibits of flowers and far over on the left of the tent, will be seen a walnut display, while at the right side of the tent melodious sounds will be heard from hundreds of prize canaries and other birds.

Many Exhibits Placed
The huge tent, 170 feet long and 130 feet wide, will be crowded to capacity, according to Hollingshead. The entrance to the tent will be made from the west. Turning to the right, after entering, one will find exhibits of bees, horticultural department, county library, Tustin farm center, Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Feature exhibits, depicting historical events or places, will be placed in the tent by almost every community in the county and by a number of outside communities. The Tustin exhibit will depict Washington's home at Mount Vernon. The Buena Park exhibit, which will be just to the right of the stage, as one enters the tent, will feature a subject not yet announced. La Habra, the next exhibit in the line, will feature Betsy Ross. The Anaheim farm center will portray Washington's monument, in its exhibit. Garden Grove and Riverside also will exhibit in the line to the right of the stage.

The West Orange farm center exhibit, based upon the ride of Paul Revere, will occupy a dominant position in the center of the tent, near the eastern end. The Orange Chamber of Commerce will present the "Flag."

Fine Walnut Display
On the left of the tent, the exhibits start with the walnut display. A plate display, composed of two tables four feet wide and 70 feet long, will be one of the features of this side of the tent. An educational and economic display will also be featured, with a large needlework exhibit occupying the northeastern end of the tent.

Cypress, a winner in several previous fairs, has obtained an excellent position at the left of the stage, as one enters the tent. Huntington Beach, next in line, will feature a Liberty bell in its exhibit. The Liberty bell feature will be carried out throughout the tent. The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce will present a display typical of colonial times featuring Priscilla

There are many uses for vacuum cleaners—some use the cleaners for rugs, others for walls and curtains and still others use an electric cleaner to clean clothes, but the most unique use a vacuum cleaner ever was put to was in cleaning horses at the Orange County fair.

Every morning during the fair, approximately 150 horses will be carefully groomed with an electric cleaner, which has been installed in the horse tents. Grooms are in charge of the cleaners. Horses are cleaned in less time than it takes to tell about it and with much less time than the old curry comb and brush used to take.

According to John Ragan, who has charge of the horse tent, there will be approximately 40 blooded draft horses of pedigree Percheron and Belgian stock. More than 24 of the horses belong to one string and are entered by Ruby Bower, of Portland, Ore. One tent will be devoted to horses.

Approximately 70 blooded riding horses will be seen in another special horse tent, according to Ragan. These horses will include some of the finest running horses and five gaited horses in Southern California. One of the largest Orange county exhibitors in the horse show will be E. G. Stinson, of Orange.

Special prizes for all departments will be awarded and special care is being taken to provide comfortable stalls and accommodations for all stock and attendants. More than 20 mules will feature the show and in addition to all the exhibition stock there will be a large herd of trick horses and bucking horses for the rodeo.

FAIR WILL OPEN 10 A. M. MONDAY

The fair will officially open at 10 a. m., Monday, when the gates at the main entrance will be opened.

The first event of the afternoon program will be the million dollar stock parade. Special stunts, arranged by the County American Legion council, will follow. Rodeo events will be included.

The pyrotechnical display will begin at 7:30 p. m., in front of the grandstand. The pageant, "The Birth of an Empire," will begin at 8 o'clock.

The American Legion dance with music furnished by the Shell orchestra, of Long Beach, will begin at 8:30 in the pavilion.

All American Legion men and their friends are invited to attend the banquet to be held in the dining hall at 5:30 p. m., on the opening day.

Santa Ana canyon is again open to travel. The detour between Atwood and Olive has been eliminated, reports the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In the tent, is to be 20 feet wide and 20 feet deep. Excavations have been made beneath the stage to provide ample dressing room for all the entertainers.

According to Hollingshead, the tent will be one of the most interesting and popular of the fair and every care is being taken to provide for the entertainment and comfort of the public.

SERIES 6 CARS ANNOUNCED BY NASH COMPANY

Heralded as introducing the "world's smoothest type of motor," Nash today places on display nationally the newly developed Special Six line, comprising five models in open and closed body styles and powered by the new seven bearing crankshaft motor, termed by engineers the "ultra-modern type of six-cylinder motor."

The debut of the new Special Six series has been awaited with extreme interest in view of earlier reports that Nash would disclose a significant achievement in motor engineering as well as a long list of important, new betterments with no change in prices despite the greatly increased quality and value incorporated in these new models.

The first distinguishing attribute of this new motor is the superlative power smoothness achieved by the use of the big seven bearing crankshaft, in addition to great power and exceptional accelerative ability. The exterior attractiveness of these new Nash models is artistically heightened by the use of a new duo-tone finish of contrasting colors. Both the open and the closed models are toned in superbly beautiful polychrome combinations and all models have the gracefully sculptured new winged emblem surmounting the radiator cap.

It is immediately evident that Nash has expended emphatic effort to warrant achieving new standards of engineering refinements throughout both the motor and the chassis. In these new Special Six cars—as has been standard Nash practice for some time—the motor is heavily insulated from the frame through the use of rubber insulation at the motor supports. This practice intensifies the operative quietness and the almost absolute vibrationless character of Nash performance.

There is also featured on these new motors a new crankcase "breather," an ingenious device which functions to prevent crankcase dilution.

The California State Fair will be held at Sacramento September 4 to 11, advises the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Legionnaires from all over the county are expected to attend the exhibition on the first day and have requested their friends to purchase tickets from the downtown stands and attend with them.

LEGION DAY DUCATS SOLD BY AUXILIARY

With American Legion Auxiliary members busy selling tickets to the Orange County fair on the streets of Santa Ana, "American Legion Day," the first day of the fair, next Monday, promises to be one of the biggest days of all, according to reports received from the sale of tickets.

The American Legion gets a share of the money received for tickets on the first day, and for this reason as well as to further the interest of the fair, every effort is being made by Legionnaires to sell the tickets.

LARGE EXHIBIT OF PIGEONS IS PLAN OF FAIR

Among all the members of the animal kingdom that have ministered to the service of man or lived under his protection simply as pets, the pigeon is the most common, most widely distributed and in many of its varieties, the most beautiful.

What the pigeon is, how it has been developed into scores of strange and attractive varieties and to what perfection the skill and patience of men and women have brought it through careful selection and breeding, will be shown at the tenth annual Orange County fair, September 6 to 11, inclusive, in a wealth of exhibits and scope of classes such as has never been attempted in this county before.

Because of the increasing interest in pigeons, both of utility and fancy classes, which is now apparent in Orange county, the fair management has given special attention to the exhibit this year which will be in charge of C. C. Clark, of Fullerton, one of the best known pigeon fanciers in Southern California.

Off is now being laid on the highway between Victorville and Barstow.

FINE DISPLAYS ARE PROMISED BY COMMITTEE

Twenty-two communities in Orange county are planning ways and means to get into the big feature tent at the Orange County fair and "we'll put 'em all in if we have to double the size of the tent," says A. M. Stanley, secretary of the Orange county fair bureau.

"The feature tent surely will be the best portrayal of what Orange county is and will be," said Kellogg, chairman of the feature exhibit committee. "Every community will put forth on display the very best of its soil products and competition for artistic arrangement and feature novelties will be very keen."

Every effort will be directed to keeping up the reputation that the county now has of being the richest little county in the United States. Establishing the Orange County fair in permanent buildings is the biggest forward step in its line for several years. Considerable improvements are gained by this step and at the same time it is economically advantageous.

WAKEHAM CHAIRMAN OF LIVESTOCK SHOW

H. L. Wakeham, of Tustin, is chairman of the livestock division of the seventh annual Orange County fair, to be held September 6 to 11, inclusive.

Entries in the livestock division closed September 1.

A representative of the bureau of animal industry of the state department of agriculture will be on the ground to inspect all animals and certify as to their health. All animals must be from a federal accredited herd, or must have been tuberculin tested during 1925, and their entry must be accompanied by such a certificate from a reputable veterinarian.

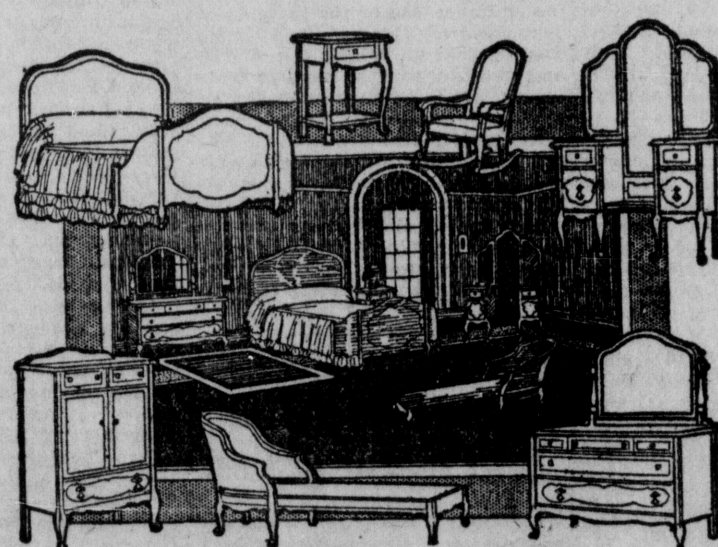

Stock will be accepted at the fair grounds, on the state highway, between Anaheim and Santa Ana, after Saturday noon, September 4. All the animals will participate in the $1,000,000 livestock parade.

The route to Gilman's Hot Springs via Moreno has been closed for 60 days, states a bulletin from the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The gravel highway between Brawley and Imperial is being oiled, states a bulletin from the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TO WINIS

MOTOR STAGES RESUME ARCH BEACH SERVICE

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 4.—Auto stage service between this city and Arch Beach was resumed today by the Pacific Coast Motor Coach company, according to announcement by Norman Robotham, owner and manager of the line. The service was re-established following the opening of the coast highway from Newport Beach to Arch Beach with all detours eliminated.

The resumption of the stage service from Arch Beach to Newport Beach connects people of Laguna Beach with Los Angeles by a short stage line and with the Pacific Electric at Newport and Balboa. The line running into Newport also makes connections with Motor Transit stages to inland cities.

According to Robotham, the stage service will be continued on to Serra in the very near future and will then provide direct connections with San Diego bound stages for Laguna Beach people.

Five stages will be run daily between Arch Beach and Newport Beach. The service has been in operation all during the past several months due to the fact that the state highway between Newport Beach and Laguna Beach was under construction.

Esther Neville Married at San Diego Ceremony

ORANGE, Sept. 4.—Miss Esther Neville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Neville, of Orange, was married to Robert Elwood Jensen, civil engineer, in San Diego, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Jensen and a sister of the groom from Salt Lake, and relatives of Miss Neville were witnesses to the ceremony, which was consummated at the future home of the couple at 3541 1-2 Grand avenue, San Diego.

Following a short mountain trip, the couple will return to San Diego where Jensen will continue his work and Mrs. Jensen will resume her teaching position in the San Diego schools.

Nova Scotians Invited to Beach Picnic Sept. 11

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 4.—Judge Byron Hall, president of the Nova Scotia Society of Southern California, has issued a call to all former residents of the Atlantic province of Canada to join in making merry on September 11 at Newport Beach. A fitting welcome has been arranged by Dr. Conrad Richter, mayor of the beach city.

Committees working with President Hall are preparing to supply coffee to all who attend the basket picnic to be held during the day. Mrs. Florence Chatten, secretary of the society, will be in charge of the arrangements for the coffee and wants all to bring cups.

There will be lots of games for the youngsters and grown-ups.

H. B. BAND PLANS FINAL CONCERTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 4.—The Huntington Beach municipal band will play its last two concerts of the summer season Sunday and Monday, according to announcement today by L. L. Gilmore, director. The concerts will be the best of the season, according to Gilmore, who says that the programs will consist chiefly of request numbers. Several variations have been arranged for the program on both days by Gilmore. J. T. Hart and C. L. Morgan, cornetists, will appear Sunday in a feature selection, "The Friendly Rivals." Will H. Gallienne tenor soloist and manager of the band, will sing.

The concert Monday will feature C. P. Gilmore in a saxophone solo, "Valse Erica," and will also be heard in solo numbers.

Sunday's program, which will start at 2:30 p. m., will be as follows: March, "Naval Brigade," by Herbert L. Clark, overture, "Norma," by Bellini; "Dance of the Nile Maidens," by Loe; cornet duet, "The Friendly Rivals," by Godfrey, played by J. T. Hart and C. L. Morgan; "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," by Laurendeau; "Atlantis," by Saffranck.

"La Paloma," by Yradier; a medley waltz, "Old Times," by Lake; a vocal solo, "At Dawning," by Cadman, sung by Will H. Gallienne; "The Statesman," by Fulton; and "The Star Spangled Banner," by Key, will conclude the program.

Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the program will open with a march, "The Screamer," by Jewell. Other selections will be "The Poet and Peasant," by Suppi; "Mexican Klases," by Roberts; saxophone solo, "Valse Erica," by Weidort, played by C. P. Gilmore; "Marianne," by Wallace; "A Hunting Scene," by Bucalossi; "The Glow Worm," by Lincke; concert waltz, "Jolly Fellows," by Volstead; vocal solo, "Just a Little Cottage by a Waterfall," by Hanley, sung by Will H. Gallienne; "The Conqueror," by Telke; "The Star Spangled Banner," by Key.

A modern five-room stucco residence is being erected on Walker street just north of the P. E. tracks by G. G. Priddy. A small poultry plant will be built in connection. This plant will be adequate for the care of 500 hens.

About 30 persons attended the double birthday party given by Mrs. Mae Whitaker at the G. G. Priddy home Saturday evening. The honored guests were Emitt Whitaker and Norma La Rue. Music and games furnished entertainment for the evening.

Several of the local Masons joined the Long Beach pyramid of Scots Monday evening. Those from here initiated were Merton Penhall, Nelson Fitzgerald, Hugh La Rue, E. P. Smith and Mervin La Rue.

Little Eleanor Miller ran a rusty nail into her foot Tuesday evening. She is recuperating nicely.

Thieves relieved Steve Luther of a seven and a half horse power motor Tuesday night. A hack saw was used in severing the connections of the motor. No trace has been found of the missing motor as yet.

Mrs. Mildred McWilliams, who has been confined in an Anaheim hospital for the past two weeks with typhoid fever, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Hunt have returned from an outing in the Roak creek district. They packed back into the high mountains. They had no trouble in catching the limits of trout.

Joe Childers has installed a trip hammer in his blacksmith shop.

The Cypress beat dump is in operation. The acreage for this section is very small. The dump will not be open long.

For school, keys for lockers, made at Henry's, 427 W. 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cone, of Santa Ana, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Peters are expected home today. They have been in Oklahoma City for the past two weeks.

DOHENY FIRM SHOWS FAITH IN NEW FIELD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 4.—The Petroleum Securities company, one of the largest oil operators in the west, has shown confidence in the section near the McKoon No. 1 project near Eighteenth and Olive streets, by erecting three derricks north of the McKoon rig. The three derricks are all in block 418, immediately west of Seventeenth street.

Reports were circulated on the street recently to the effect that the Julian well was only a water well. The origin of such reports is hard to determine. Anyway, it looks like the Petroleum Securities, which represents the Doheny interests, does not have any faith in such reports regarding the McKoon.

The Petroleum Securities also has started work on two additional derricks in widely different portions of the west end. One will be at the corner of Eighteenth and Walnut on lots 20-22 in block 117, and the other will be at the corner of Twenty-second and Walnut on lots 25-27 in block 222.

The four new derricks are all near Ocean and Twentieth streets.

V. E. Sack will erect a derrick, a block northeast of Julian Lambert on lots 2-4 in block 420.

Frank Cole will drill on nineteenth near Ocean avenue.

G. F. Getty Inc., will erect another derrick on Twenty-first street.

Miss Anna Risher, Clyan Halls Are Hosts at Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 4.—Society events moved along rapidly this week. There were two big affairs, one in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Noble Burnham, given by the composer, Anna Riccilla Risher, and the other at "Rosemary," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyan Hall, in honor of her Los Angeles guests.

Miss Risher's party was rather in the nature of an informal entertainment put on by the honor guests and elaborated upon by the addition of bits given by others who were present. Mr. and Mrs. Burnham, who have been spending the summer in Laguna Beach and who have now returned to their studios in Los Angeles, presented a preview of the play which will be put on at the Ambassador hotel in two weeks.

Mr. Burnham is the celebrated sculptor whose statue of Luther Burbank was unveiled recently. Mrs. Burnham is Eleanor Waring Burnham, an internationally known producer.

In addition to the Burnhams, Miss Risher had as guests, Mrs. Seward A. Simons, Mrs. Hiel G. Rider, Mrs. P. A. Risher, Miss Mary Waring, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Helen Tuttle, of Ontario; Miss Donna Schuster, of Los Angeles; Miss Anna A. Hills, Miss Nellie P. Hills, Mrs. Frederick J. Schwankovsky, Miss Maude Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Forrest.

The affair given by the Clyan Halls was of the Greenwich Village variety with many novelties both in decoration and amusement.

The Halls asked for the party, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McManis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Rankin, Mrs. Eva G. Perline, Miss Lolita Perline, Miss Ann B. Mason, Hugo Lindberg, Charles A. Kaichen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Champion, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. DeAhna, Mrs. J. V. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Rush, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leftwick, Loren Holmwood, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cravath, Mrs. Genevieve Coakley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gowan, Fred Leach, and from Los Angeles, Mrs. P. Trude, Miss Trude and Mr. and Mrs. L. Spearman.

IRVINE, Sept. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Daugherty visited Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Daugherty Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newell, accompanied by Kenneth Alkin, of Santa Ana, motored to Oceanside Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry Boosey and children visited Mrs. Hurley Sears Saturday afternoon.

Earl Horton is recovering from a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Le Bard and son, James Arthur, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Joe Ward visited her mother, Mrs. Holbrook, in Tustin, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harris Jr. attended a theater in Santa Ana Sunday evening.

Hugh Le Bard has returned from a pleasure trip to Honolulu.

George McDonald visited relatives here Tuesday.

Miss Mabel Milestead is attending the Santa Ana Business college.

Curtis Stone visited Leonard Ross Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone and children spent Sunday in Silverado canyon.

The following motored to Santa Ana Thursday afternoon: Mrs. Dick Horton and son, Earl; Mrs. J. A. Ross and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stockton and children, Geo. Cook and William Whitehead.

Mrs. Oswald Staples is entertaining her nieces, the Misses DuBois, of Eagle Rock.

Miss Lillian McDonald, of Wilmington, is visiting Miss Dorothy Ahern.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cone, of Santa Ana, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Peters are expected home today. They have been in Oklahoma City for the past two weeks.

BANK CLEARINGS, POSTAL RECEIPTS IN FULLERTON SHOW HEALTHY INCREASE

FULLERTON, Sept. 4.—A check of the bank clearings in Fullerton during the last five months shows that a surprisingly large increase has been recorded, which is attributed to the large checks which have been going out to the orange growers, coupled with improved business conditions generally.

For the month of April, this year, the clearings were $951,340.60. Other months were as follows: May, $1,153,346.15; June, $1,727,279.49; July, $1,811,672.81; August, $1,947,383.82.

Postal receipts also have registered a substantial increase for the first eight months of this year compared with last year. For 1925 to date, the receipts amount to $25,125.11, compared with $23,483.99 during 1925.

According to Fullerton bankers, business conditions throughout the entire county are splendid. Indications are that these conditions will continue throughout the year, the bankers say.

POE'S STORIES: Thou Art the Man

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

On the day when the search for the body of Shuttleworthy was started, Goodfellow was its leader. The hunt was continued for a week, with no trace of the body being found. On the seventh day, led by Goodfellow, a party of searchers came upon a pool in the woods. There were signs of a struggle on the bank.

Goodfellow suggested that the pond be drained, as it appeared something had been dragged to the water's edge.

The men got busy with shovels and the drain was quickly effected. In the middle of the mud was discovered a black silk waistcoat.

The waistcoat was identified at once as the property of a young man named Pennifeather, a nephew of Shuttleworthy, and his immediate heir. The suspicions of the people were fastened at once upon Pennifeather. Pennifeather was arrested on the spot and the crowd proceeded homeward with him in custody. (Continued.)

PERILS OF A PUBLIC SPEAKER

A public speaker's lot is not an easy one to bear. There's many a slip 'twixt thought and lip which takes him unaware.

For the ablest chap will meet a trap he never dreamed was there.

From year to year uncounted queer and startling things have sprung

All unforseen, where I have been, to trip my yelping tongue; I've stood in state, compelled to wait, while parents spanked their young.

But last July, I'll vow that I met my extremest fate, in church I stood, with all the good, a moment to orate.

With one brave sweep I looped the loop with their collection plate.

I did not know it stood below and just within my reach, my only thought was what I ought to mention in my speech.

I flicked my hand. You understand, that gesture was a peach!

Direct and straight I caught that plate beneath its velvet chin. The nickels flew as nickels do, the dimes went rolling in.

The furnace pipe. Oh, cruel swipe, which started such a din!

That goodly coin went down to join perdition's blazing coals.

While much concerned, I stood and learned how far a quarter rolls.

I lost the speech, designed to reach those panting, thirsty souls.

With one fell crash, I knocked that cash right back from whence it came;

The parson sighed, the warden cried, my cheeks grew red with shame. The children fought for dimes. They thought it was a scrambling game.

At times I've had some moments sad, some cruel pranks of fate.

But never quite, so grim a plight, I venture now to state. As when in church, from off its perch I knocked that money plate.

WORRY IS DISEASE OF CONSCIENCE

By Olive Roberts Barton

"You worry too much," said the doctor.

"No, that's right, you can't," said the doctor. "I don't know what it is that is troubling you, but whatever it is, if it were in my power to remove it, in another hour something else would pop into its place in your mind and you would be worrying as hard as ever."

"That kind of worrying isn't a thing to be proud of. It denotes, more or less, my good friend, a sickly conscience."

His patient need not have been offended. The doctor was not being personal; he was stating a fact. And sickly consciences are probably doing more harm to the health and lives of the civilized human being than all the disease germs known to man.

No—not consciences. We need good healthy consciences to be on the job every second of our waking hours. But sickly consciences are a different thing. Sickly consciences are consciences that brood over the past, poison the present, and wreck the future.

If you have read Ibsen's, "The Master Builder," you will remember that Hilda, flesh from her mountain town, tells the Master Builder that he has a sickly conscience.

It happened that at one time there was a fire—a fire he had wished for, but that eventually occurred without his knowledge or connivance. The results of the fire were tragic—a thousand times removed from what he had planned secretly brooded and despaired. He allowed it to ruin his life, and he retaliated by ruining the lives of others. Over it all hung frantic fear of retribution. A clear case of sickly conscience.

Every one makes mistakes—mistakes of judgment, mistakes of omission, mistakes of commission, mistakes of weakness. "To err is human." Usually the things we fret about the most are the things over which we have had no control. Regret is not worry! Sadness is not worry.

Worry, nine times out of ten, is melancholy brooding. Most of us do the best we can. If we are not doing our best, we might try a little harder, and use our mistakes as foundation stones to build on.

LOOKING TOWARDS WINTER

Winter is nowhere near, of course, but near enough so some of us are thinking of thicker clothes, new hats and the general overhauling and stock taking that we go through, with our houses, wardrobes and ourselves spring and autumn.

There are weeks and weeks yet to sunburn, but you should, if you like a good healthy tan, find out something to take it off once the vacation is over. Sunburn on the wane is a jaundice shade of yellow, and hideous with the new smart shade of blue that we'll be wearing this winter—a shade between royal and navy that must be worn with a fresh clear complexion. I'd advise vanishing cream before going into the sun, and lots of peroxide or cucumber cream as a night massage afterwards.

What about the way you wear your hair? Slim, short, boyish styles are better than ever. Eton jackets will be worn a lot, and the Eton crop looks very well with them. The fluffy, shingled style, a little wavy, will go with boyish clothes, or with the picturesque evening dresses that are coming in with cold weather.

What about your hands? They must be smooth and white. Try the honey-almond lotions sold in every drugstore, there are several kinds, or cucumber lotions, to bleach them, and pay particular attention to your finger nails. The pamphlet "Beauty" has detailed manicuring directions for you.

Is your skin clear and fine? There are weeks yet when fresh vegetables and fruits are cheap, so you can diet and make your complexion clear. Start winter looking and feeling well.

Worried—As your hair is a medium shade of brown, it is a very simple matter for you to tint the grey hairs so they will not show, and still not change the natural shade of the balance of your hair. One way to do this is by using a head shampoo, and you can be sure there is nothing in it to hurt your hair nor to affect your health.

You can buy small packages of Egyptian henna, enough for a shampoo, at any of the toilet goods counters of the department stores. Mix the contents with just enough suds to lather the whole head, and let it remain on the hair for 15 to 20 minutes; proceed then as with any other method of shampooing. The grey hairs will be an amber shade and when combed into the rest will not show, and the only other change, if any, will be a slight glow to the natural shade.

CONDITION—A nervous tension that seems to be concentrated in the back of the neck.

DIAGNOSIS—You need to relax and relieve the strain. TREATMENT—Plant your thumbs in your shoulders, and with your fingers massage with firm rotary strokes the back of your head up into your hair and as far down your spinal column as you can reach without moving your thumbs. Use considerable pressure and move slowly. After five or ten minutes of this, lie down for a few moments, and you will find yourself greatly rested and beautified.

THEY FLIT AMONG THE CORAL REEFS

Butterfly Fish

BY AUSTIN H. CLARK
Smithsonian Institution

In beauty of coloration and in the curious arrangement of the colors the little butterfly fishes are almost without a rival among the fishes of the world. Indeed there are few living creatures of any sort more beautiful than they.

The butterfly fishes live chiefly about coral reefs where they abound. They are found in all warm seas. There are about two hundred different kinds.

They are all small, only a very few kinds being large enough for use as food.

It was in Porto Rico many years ago that I first become acquainted with these lovely little fishes, and wherever I have been in the regions where they live I have always spent much time in watching them. As they flit about among the corals and the sea-fans they call to mind the gaudy butterflies flitting among the flowers, and one can readily see the reason for their name.

The two kinds shown in the picture came from the Philippines.

ANENT BASE STEALING

While baserunning in the major leagues may not be a lost art, there is no denying that the business of stealing bases has suffered a decided slump.

One need only glance at the averages to verify such a statement. Back in 1920, Sam Rice, fleet outfielder of the Washington Americans, won for himself the title of Man O' War, by his great speed. He stole 62 bases that year.

In 1915, Ty Cobb led the American league in stolen bases with 96, just four shy of a century of thefts. On 10 other occasions he stole 40 or more bases.

UNDER 40 MARK

To date this season, Sam Rice leads the American league in the matter of thefts, yet his record shows only 20 stolen bases in 115 games.

In practically the same number of contests Hazen Cuyler of Pittsburgh tops the National list with 25.

It is very doubtful if any player in either major league hits the 40-mark, in stolen bases this season, a very ordinary performance 10 years back.

Baserunning may not be a lost art as some insist, but it certainly has strayed considerably.

SLUMP OF GIANTS

The recent slump of the New York Giants in the final invasion of the west, has put a decided crimp in what appeared to be a very good chance of McGraw's club to come from behind to win.

It is a known fact, that a club finishing at home in a tight race, has certain advantages over the club that is on the road.

Touring the country in sleepers doesn't help the condition of any ball club. And while playing on the home grounds may not offer any particular help to the players, still the shouts of encouragement from the home fans is more pleasing than the jeers that usually greet a visiting club.

It is a proven fact that no major league baseball club ever thrived on criticism. Cheers have always been a far better tonic than jeers.

In this respect, the schedule of the National league favors the New York club, it being at home most of the month of September, while Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis virtually finish on the road.

However, the Giants appear to be slowly drifting out of the pennant picture before the last home stand arrives.

It is a pretty safe bet there will be numerous changes on the New York Giants before the opening of next season.

As I looked the club over in the south, it seemed to me that there was no better club in the National league. Yet there is a chance the Giants may not even finish in the first division.

Failure of the pitching staff to come up to expectations and an off-year for so great a star as Frankie Frisch, are a few of the contributing factors.

JINX OF REDLEGS

At the close of every major league pennant race, the unsuccessful contenders, can usually point to some particular club that destroyed their pennant hopes.

The New York Giants have been the jinx club of the Cincinnati Reds. A succession of reverses, six in a row, I believe, at the hands of McGraw's club, was a serious handicap to the chances of the Ohio entry in the National league race.

Chicago, likewise, has been a tough team for the St. Louis Cardinals to beat. The Cubs also have troubled the New York Giants.

However, the great success the lowly Phillies have had against New York has held the Giants back.

Many a pennant has been lost by the ability of some inferior club to consistently trim a strong contender. This is the history of most big league campaigns.

Paul Berlenbach To Be Free Agent

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Paul Berlenbach, former light heavyweight champion, has decided to become a free agent, promoter Humbert Fugazy announced today.

Fugazy said that Berlenbach had agreed to pay $40,000 to Dan Hickey, his manager, to declare invalid the contract held by the latter.

TUNNEY STOPS MADDEN IN FINAL ACT OF TITLE BOUT BALLYHOO

ON THE ROAD

By JOE WILLIAMS

(Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

As a somewhat unnecessary gesture it was decided that one more batter should be broiled and sizzled on the griddle of the ballyhoo while the pop-eyed public looked on through the medium of newspaper headlines.

Three months after the knockout of Tommy Gibbons it was announced that Gene Tunney would meet Bartley Madden in a 10-rounder at Minneapolis. Now Madden had only one thing to promote him as an opponent for Tunney. He had gone 15 rounds with Harry Wills in 1924.

The Tunney ballyhoo had already taken on definite and impressive dimensions. Carpenter had been stopped. True, Tunney wasn't able to stop him in four rounds as Dempsey had, but his victory was emphatic had been whittled down and tiled away for future reference in 12 rounds. That was much better than Dempsey had done.

Whereas Tunney had scored a clean cut knockout, Dempsey had failed to put Gibbons down even once in 15 rounds.

This exhausted the list of logicals with the exception of the aforementioned Madden.

"Now the 'thing to do,'" reasoned Billy Gibbons, "is to get Madden and knock him out quick. That will convince the public we are entitled to a shot at Dempsey ahead of Wills."

It was good reasoning, and for purposes of the ballyhoo undoubtedly had some effect. But Madden came into the ring in terrible shape. He hadn't done any boxing for two months and looked it. On top of that a report that Madden had been paid $20,000 by the Tunney interests to come out of retirement gained wide circulation and no little credence.

The unflustered Gibbons laughed this off. "What will it cost us to get Dempsey to come out of retirement?" he countered. "He's the Jasper we're after."

Dempsey at the time was beginning a barnstorming tour with Farmer Lodge, Marty Cutler and several other well-fed round heels.

The tour was designed to meet two demands. One was to yield some immediate currency, of which the champion was in acute need, and the other was to reacustom Dempsey to the routine business of the ring.

Gibbons caught up with the Dempsey minstrels three different times—first in Cleveland, next in Chicago and then in Miami.

"Well, how about signing with Tunney, Jack?" Gibbons would begin, fixing the champion with a friendly gaze and smiling his most ingratiating smile.

But it was not an easy matter to get Dempsey to commit himself, and even when he did promise Gibbons that he would fight Tunney in 1926, providing he got a half million for his end, Gibbons wasn't sure he meant it.

As recent as last March Gibbons was positive Dempsey would never fight again.

"He's just clowning around. If we are to get a fight next summer, it will have to be Wills and I'm sure you can drag that big Sambo-gambian into the ring with Tunney."

Dempsey and the fair Estelle oozed into Miami while Gibbons and Tunney were still there. Tunney decided to take the matter of getting a match with the champion in his own hands.

He called at Dempsey's hotel. Dempsey wasn't in. He phoned Dempsey's rooms. Dempsey wasn't there. He sat down in Dan Mahoney's editorial office in the Miami News building and sent the champion this wire:

"I want to talk to you for five minutes. Please let me know when and where I can see you."

Dempsey ignored the wire and left Miami that night. I met Tunney the next day. He was boiling mad. He started boiling mad for days.

A snarling hostility replaced his characteristic geniality. There was something mighty close to murder in his eyes.

I murmured to myself, "And they said this bird can't get mad!" Tunney hadn't expected that Dempsey would pick up the nearest pen and promptly sign the papers, but he did expect that he would at least sit down and talk over the prospects of a bout between them.

Tunney seemed to think Dempsey had deliberately "cut" him, choosing this crude means to remind him that he was the great Dempsey and that Tunney was merely one of several eager challengers.

"I'll make the bum pay for this," growled Tunney as he drove me over to Rooney's Plaza for a surf swim. "Some day he will have to fight me and when he does I will knock his head from his shoulders. Mark my words."

Well that day Tunney talked about last spring with such intense fury will come on September 23 at Philadelphia.

And if Tunney enters the ring as boiling mad as he was the day I saw him in Florida he may do exactly what he said he would.

COAST'S BEST SWIMMERS TO ENTER TOURNEY

The greatest array of championship swimming talent that has been exhibited in Southern California this season will assemble at the Pacific Coast Outdoor A. A. U. championship swimfest that is to take place at Newport bay, Saturday and Sunday, September 11 and 12.

In addition there will be a program arranged for novices and a number of special features for the entertainment of the thousands of aquatic fans who will gather at Balboa for the big two-day event.

The special features include canoe races, canoe tilting contests, life saving contests for Boy Scouts and aquaplane races.

The best swimmers from Oregon, Washington and the San Francisco bay district will compete with Southern Californians for the championships of the Pacific coast. Virtually all of the leading clubs on the coast that feature aquatic sports will be represented.

The following title events will be held Sunday afternoon: 880-yard relay race, four men 220 yards each; 110-yard free style, all for men.

The long list of novice races for boys and girls who have never won a place in an A. A. U. race are on the Saturday afternoon program.

The meet is to be held under the auspices of the Newport Harbor Yacht club and the Harbor Chamber of Commerce and will be supervised by the swimming committee of the Southern Pacific association A. A. U. and the A. A. U. rules for swimming and diving will govern all events.

The events are scheduled to start at 12 noon, each day.

Interesting News of the Day Told In Pictures

By the time all the bathing beauty champions get into the ocean at the Atlantic City pageant this fall the water will be crowded way up on Cape Gris Nez or some place. Here's Miss Dorothy Sailer, 21, who won the title in Madison, Wis.

"Oooh!"—Master Robbin Cleland, grandson of Gen. John I. Hines, chief of the U. S. army staff, is impressed. He wants to see that birdie the photographer tells about.

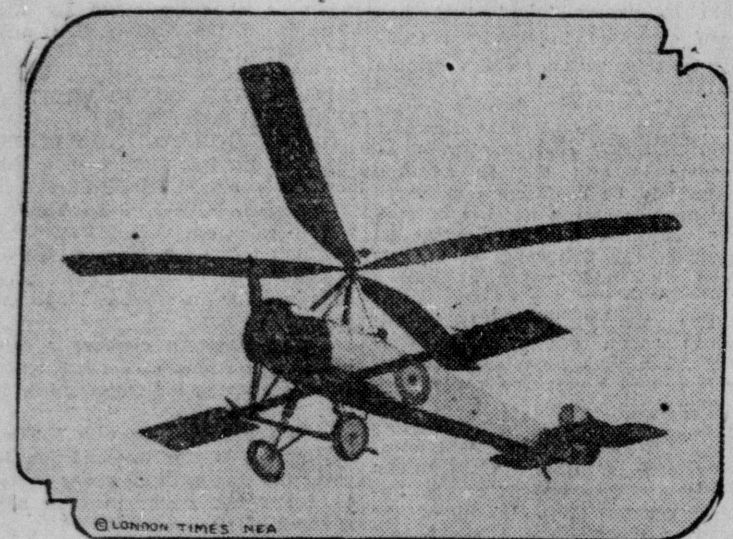

A wife, in Belgian Congo, costs one copper cross, like this, weighing 27 1/2 ounces. A real fat wife, it is said, might cost two crosses. The gold bar Miss Mary Dean has in her other hand is worth 27 tolas among South American Indians, $250 at the U. S. mint, and $2500 to experts of the American Numismatic association.

Jeanne Eagels, who leaves "Rain" for "The Garden of Eden," and, inset, Pauline Lord, who is to star in "Sandalwood."

Would you believe that there's still a girl in America who: Has never danced or been to a theater? Has never used powder, lipstick or rouge, or bobbed her hair? Has never sipped a cocktail, smoked a cigaret, played cards or spooned? Well, there is. There's Miss Florence Kelso, Salvation Army lass of Seattle. And, to top it all, she says she never has any desire for short skirts, satin slippers, chiffon hose, silk frocks or gigolo hats.

This is the Auto-Giro, or windmill plane, being flown at Hamble, Eng., by Capt. Frank Courtney. It rises with scarcely any take-off and descends vertically—something aviation engineers had almost despaired of accomplishing.

Mrs. H. Maley, of Cincinnati, shot her husband to death during an argument and has been indicted for second-degree murder. The judge before whom she was arraigned refused to accept her plea of self-defense, declaring that it was "high time something was done to protect husbands against shooting wives."

The immense figure of this forgotten Buddha, carved from stone in steps off in Washington on her way home to Charlottesville, to call on world again by the collapse of one wall of the ancient cave. Note the baskets of native offerings at the right.

"Jefferson White Sue" and "Rose Knoll Jessie," champion white collies, with their 16 puppies, five weeks old, photographed at the Hartsdale Dog farm, New York.

The daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, New Brunswick, N. J., choir singer, slain four years ago with the Rev. Edward W. Hall, here is on her way to be examined by state police who are carrying on a renewed investigation into the sensational murder mystery.

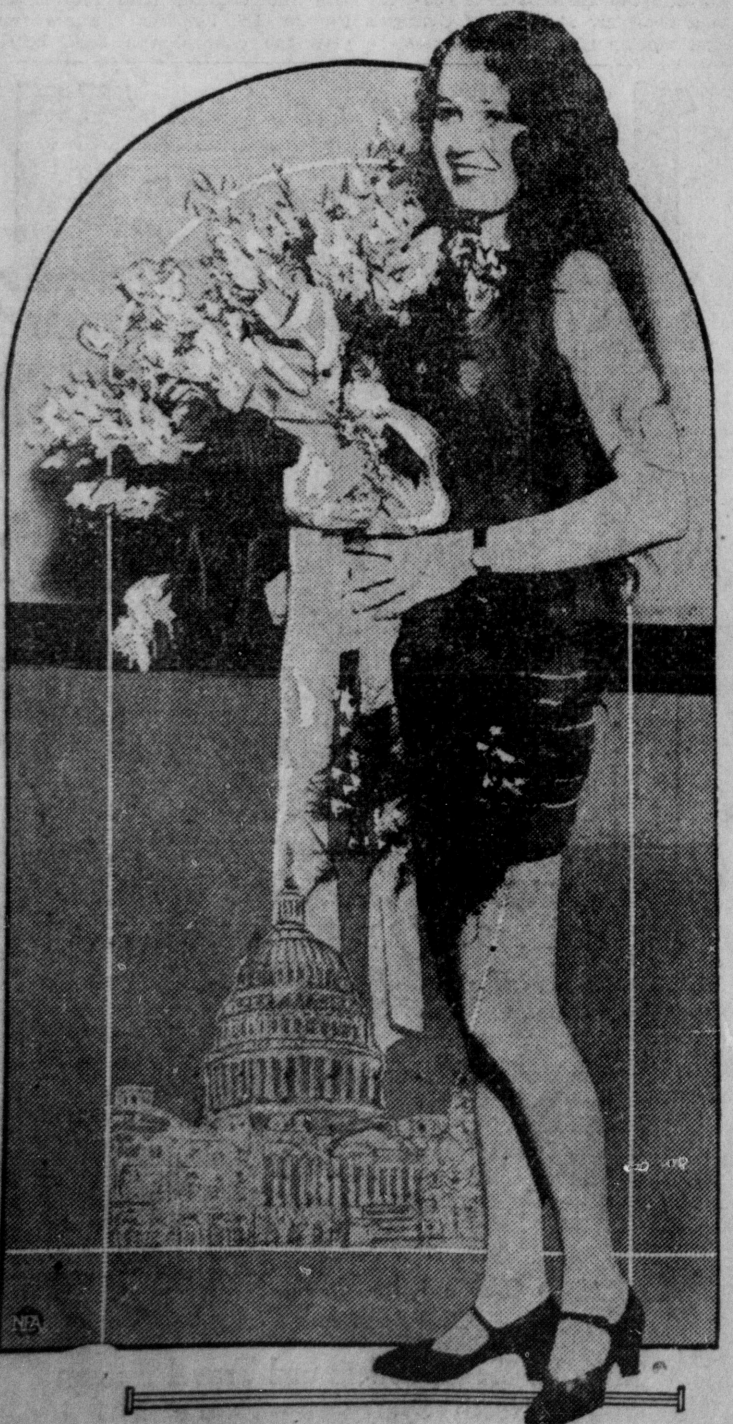

Lady Nancy Astor, that famous daughter of Virginia, huh, who married a viscount and became a member of the British parliament, a sumptuous hidden grotto in western Tibet, was revealed to the Secretary of State Kellogg, whom she knew when he was ambassador to London. At the left is her husband, Viscount Astor.

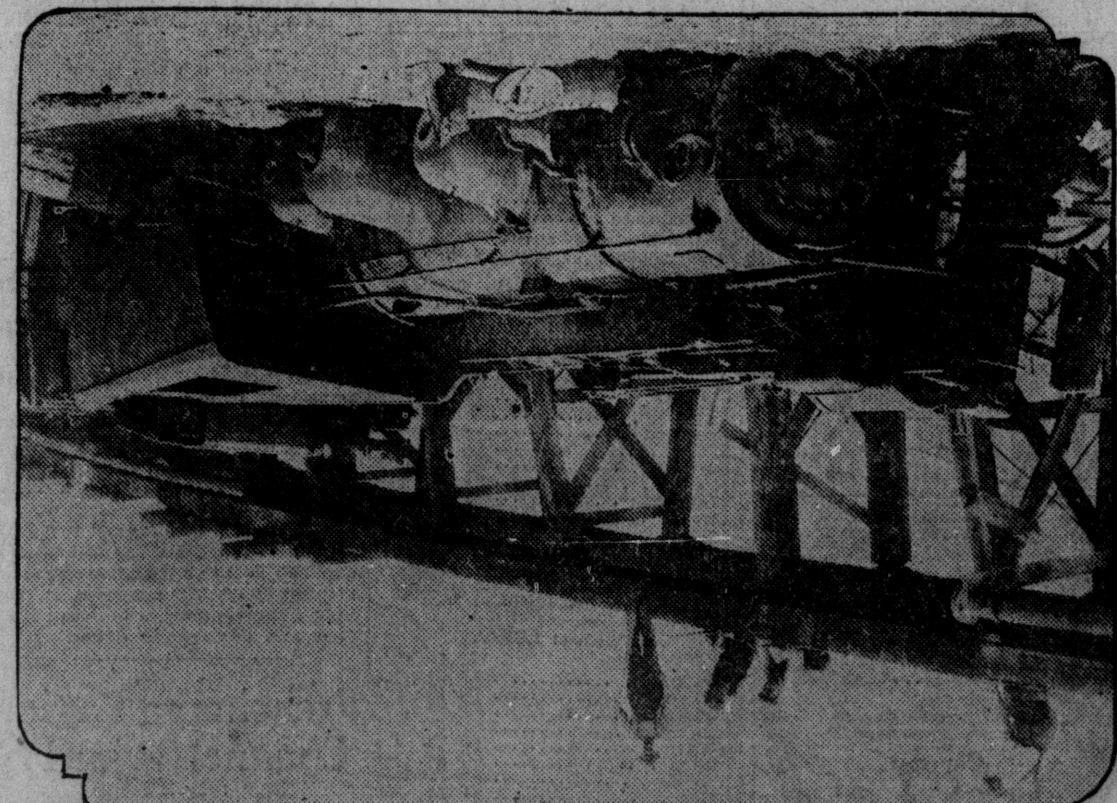

With a main span of 1780 feet and a total length of nearly two miles, the $37,000,000 suspension bridge between Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., just opened, is called the mightiest in the world. It has been building since 1916.

Like Humpty Dumpty who fell off the wall, it will be hard to put together this freight engine again. It tumbled from the trestle at Raymond, Me. The engineer stayed in the cab and wasn't hurt, but the fireman jumped and was seriously hurt.

No bobbed hair here. Marjorie Joesting, 22, the capital's "Miss Washington" for 1926, is a swimmer, good athlete, and only 5 feet 5 inches high. A pretty good chance, we'd say, to be "Miss America" at Atlantic City.
